Friday is Arbor Day in our schools.
A. & R. Loggie have a change of ad. in this issue.
If you want a good Violin or some first class strings call at D. Taylor's, Rexton.
In Galloway and up river wheat was sown last week. Farming and gardening is on in real earnest.
Two bears on our streets on Saturday evening were quite interesting, judging from the crowds.
Sheriff Leger is getting material on the grounds to build a barn on the lot on Court street, west of the fire-engine house.
A Kent County girl offered to toss a coin the other day to see if she would marry the young fellow who had proposed to her, but he didn't have the coin.—World.

R. O'Leary is making extensive repairs to his store and other building adjoining, he is having them rehinged and painted, which adds materially to their appearance.
Thos. Deprey and Zack Leger of the Union Hotel have dissolved partnership. The hotel will be run in the future by Mr. Leger. Mr. Deprey expects to return to his old home in Cocagne.
The sidewalks of the town demand attention, with holes and half-soles, broken plank and loosened spike, it is not safe especially at night, and the remnants of School Street sidewalk should be carted away.
The premiers of New Brunswick, Nova Scotia and P. E. Island will leave for England June 7th to attend the coronation. The will sail from Montreal on the Parisian and will be accompanied by their wives.
A good many cheap China teas are put up in packets to sell in competition with UNION BLEND. Avoid them as you would poison. UNION BLEND is a combination of high grade India and Ceylon teas.

Mr. R. Hebert has purchased a handsome black horse, weighing about 1015 lbs., to mate his other horse which is also a beauty. Hitched up they are the finest looking span in the city and are generally admired.—Transcript.
Word has been received from Miss Emma Hudson of Winnipeg, stating that the accident she sustained as reported in a Winnipeg paper was greatly exaggerated, her ankle was turned and she was laid up for only a week.
A. Leger of U. N. B., was a member of a committee who met the senate of the university to urge the necessity of the erection in the immediate future of a new gymnasium to replace that lately destroyed by fire.
The fourth Contingent for service in South Africa has been made up and recruiting has stopped. Kent County has furnished four members, Allister Murray, of Buctouche, William McDougall of Richibucto, and two young men named Campbell from Weldford.

The W. C. T. U. reading room has been closed for the summer. Many profitable hours were spent there during the winter and very many enjoyable hours. The boys, especially, should feel grateful to this society for furnishing such a room where it was done manifestly for the boys.
An Exchange says:—"It is stated on good authority that Henry R. Emmerson of Dorchester, son of Hon. H. R. Emmerson, has received the single commission granted to New Brunswick for the coronation contingent. Mr. Emmerson is now lieutenant in the 8th Princess Louise Hussars."

It is not much to the credit of the leading citizens of Campbellton that nothing has been done to suitably recognize the heroism of Mr. J. P. Caie, on the 4th of last June, who risked his life at the corporation boom, Flatlands, to save that of Arthur Firth. If the facts had been reported to the Humane Society, Mr. Caie would have received a medal before this.—World.
A patch glistening in its newness attracts a passerby on Pagan street, the other morning a mustard poultice was found upon it and the notice to the effect that if the poultice did not draw "this pimple, a crowbar will." Those unsightly patches are to be preferred to the unseeable holes, a person would naturally prefer to stub his toe and fall head foremost and break his neck, than to fall through and break his legs.

A Harcourt, Kent Co., correspondent writes:—"Mr. Robert A. Irving, liquor license inspector, washers yesterday on his annual tour, preparatory to issuing licenses next week. In conjunction with Rev. Mr. Wheeler, who is one of the petitioners against granting license to the well-known Glenn Hotel, he visited the premises and was satisfied that one, at least of the sections in the petition, is at variance with the facts."

Health

"For 25 years I have never missed taking Ayer's Sarsaparilla every spring. It cleanses my blood, makes me feel strong, and does me good in every way."—John P. Hodnette, Brooklyn, N.Y.
Pure and rich blood carries new life to every part of the body. You are invigorated, refreshed. You feel anxious to be active. You become strong, steady, courageous. That's what Ayer's Sarsaparilla will do for you.

Kent County Court.

The April term of the Kent County Court opened Tuesday, Judge Wells presiding. The following grand jurors were in attendance, namely, Frederick S. Peters, George W. Raymond, George A. Irving, William E. Forbes, John E. Wright, Wilmot Brown, Marcel Poirier, Adolphe T. LeBlanc, Robert Phinney, Harry Stevenson, Dennis Daigle, Frederick Ferguson, John G. Robichaud, Pierre J. Babain, Hubert D. Richard, Placide Babineau. The petit jury was as follows, namely, William Mundle, Premilite Johnson, Marc J. Bourque, Myles Farrel, Ludger Leger, Antoine Boudreau, Robert N. Doherty, Henry Berthe, Joseph F. Richard, Placide R. Richard, Henry Hickey, Enoch Steeves, Cyrille B. Leger, Gilbert S. Richard, James Jardine, Frederick Hannah, Roderick McDonald, Cyrille Comeau, Donald McBeath, James Mazerolle and John C. Walker.

The first matter brought up was the examination of defendant and his two sons in the matter of a judgment in the case of Richard O'Leary vs. Thadee Despres. There were two criminal cases, namely, The King vs. David L. Thompson on a charge of assaulting and resisting James Thorratt, a constable, in the execution of his duty in arresting the accused under civil process. Also the King vs. Isaac Blanchard on a charge of assault. The grand jury found a true bill in the first and no bill in the latter case.
The trial of David L. Thompson on the charge of resisting and obstructing a constable in the discharge of his duty, lasted all day Tuesday. The jury failed to agree upon a verdict. R. A. Irving, Clerk of the Court, and Wm. D. Carter for the prosecution; H. H. James for the defence. Court then adjourned sine die.

Lieut. Weldon McLean Promoted.

Lt. Col. McLean received a cable Friday announcing that his son, Lt. C. Weldon McLean, of the Royal Field Artillery, had been promoted to G. battery, at present stationed at Woolwich. Weldon McLean won his spurs in South Africa, when his work on the field attracted the attention of the general commanding and led to his being given a commission in the Royal Artillery. His rapid promotion shows that he is keeping up his South African record.

North Shore Judgeship.

It is rumored that among the applicants for the north shore judgeship, which is likely to be vacated by the proposed superannuation of Judge Wilkinson, besides Mr. R. A. Lawlor, of Chatham, are Mr. McLatchy, stipendiary magistrate of Campbellton, and Mr. N. A. Landry, of Bathurst. Mr. Lawlor, it is understood, has the support of Premier Tweedie, while Mr. McLatchy is supported by Mr. Read, M. P. for Restigouche, and Mr. Landry presumably has the support of Mr. Turgeon, M. P. for Gloucester.

HORRIBLE DEATH.

Engine Explodes, Roy Stewart Scalded to Death, Deep Sympathy for Bereaved.

On Thursday last, 24th instant, Roy Stewart commenced work in O'Leary's mill, his duty was to keep the engine oiled. With a light heart he set off in the early morning, happy in feeling that after fifteen years' dependence, he was about to reward his parents for their love and care of his childhood, who of us has not felt that thrill of pride when first he cast aside his childhood and became a worker in this world.
At half-past nine o'clock, while Roy was in the engine-room alone, the cross-head of the steam chest in the engine blew off and instantly the room was filled with scalding, blinding, strangling steam which was being forced into the room from a 100 horse-power boiler. There is no knowing just what the brave boy did, but he made a noble fight for his life. It is believed that he made a rush for the door but the strength of the steam being greater in that direction, he rushed to one window, broke the pane with his hands but found a bar outside prohibiting egress, then rushing to the other window, he broke his way out, falling headlong into the sawdust pile. He was soon helped to his feet, and as he stood with his face all cooked with the steam, the skin falling off and blood flowing from both hands, he was such a pitiable sight that very few of the mill hands could look at him and those few who could look had their hearts wrung with pity. Roy alone remained calm and asked to be taken to the doctor's office, then home where all that medical aid could do was done. He was found to be scalded nearly all over his body. In the early evening it was plainly seen that he was dying and at half-past eight he gently breathed his last. It is generally believed that he inhaled the steam and that his lungs were scalded which was the immediate cause of his death. The body was embalmed by Undertaker Black and the Agent of the Canadian Casket Company, who was in town at the time. The deceased was a pupil in the Advanced Department of the Grammar School for the past two years and the teacher regrets that because the flagstaff was out of repair, the flag could not be put at half-mast. He was much liked by his teacher and his companions. He was, in fact, a leader among the boys in all their games and will be missed by them.

The funeral was held from the residence of his parents on Sunday afternoon, the rector of the parish, Rev. H. A. Meek, officiated. After a short service at the house, service was held in St. Mary's church when the rector gave an impressive address from James IV, 14, "What is you life? It is even a vapour, that appeareth for a little time, and then vanisheth away." The interment was made in the Public Cemetery. The pall-bearers, chosen from his playmates, were Willie Hannah, Vaughn Long, Theophile Leger, Fred Irving, Austin Weeks and LeBaron Thompson.

The deceased, Roy James Stewart, aged 14 years and 11 months, was the eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Bliss Stewart, and beside his parents, leaves two brothers and two sisters to mourn their loss. Seldom have the sympathies of a whole town been so keenly aroused for a bereaved family as in this instance. The funeral procession was practically the town en masse. The church was crowded to the doors, with many forced to remain outside. THE REVIEW joins in the general sympathy.
