A FAMILIAR NAME.

In the homes of Canada and the United States there are few names more familiar and none more reverently spoken than that of Dr. A. W. Chase, the great physician and receipt book author. He is blessed for the suffering he has relieved and the diseases he has cured; his remedies are used and endorsed by the best people in the land; they are popular because they cure when others fail.

One hundred and seventeen bodies have been recovered from the mine at Fernie, B. C., leaving nine still to be taken out. Several counterfeit Molson's Bank bills have been detected in Montreal and in Toronto recently. They are made by the photographic process and are all numbered 214,258, series B. The paper is poor. A man is under arrest in Toronto for passing one, but he is not thought to be a principal. The Montreal civic finance committee opened bids for a two million dollar 40 year 3 1/2 per cent. loan. Only one bid was received for the whole amount, from Coates & Co., of London, Eng., through Wm. Hanson & Co., who offered a price equivalent to 98 1/2. The committee recommends its acceptance.

Magistrate Gibbs, Toronto, has fined several newsboys $1 and $2 each for selling special editions of an evening paper last Sunday week. The paper was issued on receipt of the peace news from South Africa.

Boring operations for coal are to be carried on in Prince Edward Island this summer. Dr. Ellis, of the geological survey department, has been instructed by the minister to proceed to the island to look over the ground and advise where a test be made.

The Whole Story in a letter:

Pain-Killer

(FERRY DAVIS')

From Capt. F. Loye, Police Station No. 5, Montreal: "We frequently use FERRY DAVIS' PAIN-KILLER for pains in the stomach, rheumatism, stiffness, frost bites, chilblains, cramps, and all afflictions which befall men in our position. I have no hesitation in saying that PAIN-KILLER is the best remedy I have near at hand."

Used Internally and Externally. Two Sizes, 25c. and 50c. bottles.

Couldn't Find the Corkscrew.

They live pretty well out, in a handsome home, but not near enough to a fire station to be "handy in case of accident." As the house is their own and their all the husband had been somewhat in terror of a blaze for some time. So he laid in a stock of hand grenades, those little glass bottles which are supposed to put out any fire that may start.

One day the blaze came. The cook started it in the kitchen. Then she fled howling to her room and began to pack her trunk. The wife prides herself on her ability to keep her head, so first she stepped to the telephone and turned in the alarm, and then she went for the hand grenades.

When the fire department did arrive, the men found her standing over the sideboard rummaging through the drawers. Copious streams of water soon drowned the blaze and ruined the lower floor, and the department left. Still she rummaged. Her husband came, called by the phone girl. He saw her there.

"Why, my dear girl," he said, "why didn't you use the hand grenades and stop the fire as soon as it started? Then the whole lower part of the house wouldn't have been soaked."

"John," she responded icily, "if you would just keep the corkscrew where it belongs, I could use the horrid old grenades. But it is gone and how was I to open them?"

The Grand Medicine Man.

The ceremony of the Grand Medicine is an elaborate ritual, covering several days, the endless number of gods and spirits being called upon to minister to the sick man and to lengthen his life. The several degrees of the Grand Medicine teach the use of incantations, of medicines and poisons, and the requirements necessary to constitute a brave.

When a young man seeks admission to the Grand Medicine lodge, he first fasts until he sees in his dream some animal, the mink, beaver, otter and fisher being most common, which he hunts and kills. The skin is then ornamented with beads or porcupine quills, and the spirit of the animal becomes the friend and companion of the man.

The medicine men have only a limited knowledge of herbs, but they are expert in dressing wounds, and the art of extracting barbed arrows from the flesh can be learned from them.

In olden times—yes, to within the memory of living Ojibways—the medicine man at the funeral ceremony thus addressed the departed: "Dear friend, you will not feel lonely while pursuing your journey toward the setting sun. I have killed for you a Sioux, [hated enemy of the Ojibways], and I have scalped him. He will accompany you and provide for you, hunting your food as you need it. The scalp I have taken—use it for your moccasins."

When Mayor Meets Mayor.

Civic characters of local fame imbued with a sense of their own importance are not wholly unknown in this country, a fact which may account for the familiar ring of the following story found in "Highways and Byways in East Anglia":

Mayor Wakefield one day set out for the next town with a load of hay. On the way a truss fell from the load, and he applied to a passerby for assistance in replacing it. The man addressed, instead of rendering willing aid, drew himself up to rather more than his normal height and said:

"Are you aware that you are addressing the mayor of Lynn?"

"Man," replied Wakefield, "that don't make no odds. I'm the mayor of Cape Rising. Now will you lend a hand?"

"With pleasure," replied the mayor of Lynn.

Antique Clocks.

A common trick of clock makers and repairers of years ago, when the craze for antique "grandfather" clocks first showed itself, was to alter the names and dates of the original makers on such of these clocks as came to them. This trick has made it difficult to prove the exact age of an old clock now, even by experts, and still more difficult to learn the name of the real maker. Reputable repairers do not follow the practice in these days, having realized that it results in the end in injury to the business.

Lions and Tigers.

There is nothing odd or peculiar about the sleep of the lions and tigers. In captivity they show the same indifference to danger that they manifest in the jungles and by day or night will slumber through an unusual tumult, unmindful or unconscious of the noise. Their sleep is commonly heavy and peaceful.

She Believed.

Hester—I hope you don't believe what Fred Saunders says. He has been in love with every girl in town, first and last.

Bertha—That's why I value his judgment, you know. A man of his experience may be trusted to know a good thing when he sees it.

Not Feced.

He was obviously anxious, and she seemed almost willing. "I shall refer you to papa," said she, with a becoming blush, "before giving you a final answer."

"But I am perfectly willing to take you without any reference," said he magnanimously.

No Possibility.

"Are you never afraid, Uncle Rastus," asked one of the scoffers, "of falling from grace?"

"Cummel," replied Uncle Rastus, "how kin a pussion fall 'm de bedrock?"—Chicago Tribune.

Bright Pupils.

A young woman teacher in one of the grammar schools in Brooklyn was speaking of her work the other day. She said that unless a person had some experience in teaching he could scarcely understand how marvelously stupid some children were and what peculiar mistakes ordinarily bright children sometimes make. To illustrate her point she told three stories from her own personal experiences. One day, on a language examination, the following was one of the topics: "Name three kinds of sentences and give examples." This is the way one of the children met the problem. He wrote: "Declarative, interrogative, imperative. 2+2=4. 8x2=18. 13-6=7."

On another day one of the questions in a grammar examination read: "I cannot see it—." Complete this sentence by using the words plain or plainly. Give your reason."

One bright youth wrote this answer: "I cannot see it plain." Reason: Because it is too far away."

Another scholar answered the question as to why the Dutch settled on the Hudson river by saying, "So they could have a place to wash."

Evils of Excessive Smoking.

While a good cigar, used temperately two or three times a day, may be smoked by the average adult man to good advantage, excessive indulgence in smoking is very harmful. It is only necessary to recall one's first cigar and the profound effect it produced to realize that the smoking of tobacco in large quantities is trifling with a dangerous agent, says the Baltimore Sun.

The chief effects of smoking are from the nicotine and empyreumatic oil, the first being an active poison—an infinitesimal quantity will destroy life—and the latter, which is the rank accumulation in the stem of the pipe, is also a potent poison, one drop on the tongue of a cat having been fatal. The nicotine and the oil both act on the nervous system, though differently, the nicotine paralyzing the heart by its action on the brain, while the oil confines itself chiefly to the spinal cord and the motor nerves.

It will thus be seen that no part of the victim's equipment escapes the deadly effect of tobacco in excess.

Railroading Terms.

Railroading terms in England and America differ very widely. The English would speak of shunting a train. We call it switching. Freight trains they call goods trains, coaches are carriages, conductors are guards, engineers are drivers, trucks are boggies and freight cars are wagons. The British always say station instead of depot, and in that they have the better of us. Rails they call metals and tracks permanent ways. They do not get their tickets at a ticket office, but at a booking office, and the smokestack of the locomotive is to them the chimney. A railroad man going from one country to the other finds that he has to learn an entirely new set of phrases about his business.

A Chameleon's Bite.

The bite even of the largest chameleon does not fetch blood, though the teeth leave indentations. I often, says a naturalist, provoke them to bite me in order to observe their habits, and only once, when one caught me between the fingers where the skin is tender, was I really hurt. On this occasion the thing held on so persistently and firmly that I could not for some time free my finger. At last I was obliged to call some one to get it off by forcibly opening its mouth. Even then it did not pierce the skin. Its teeth are too fine and regular, but the dotted triangular impression of the little teeth was very red and distinct for some minutes.

Do Your Work Well.

Possibly you think your employer does not notice you or know about your work. The writer of this was talking the other evening to an extensive employer of labor, and he talked most of the evening about his workmen. He knew all about every one of them, from the head man to the laborers, and noted their good and bad points. Don't forget that your employer knows all about you. When he needs a new foreman or superintendent, he knows the one to select.

To Little Profit.

"Don't you think I preached a very poor sermon this morning?" asked the new preacher of the deacon, from whom he expected a compliment.

"Yaas, I do," drawled the honest deacon, "but it runs in my mind that I've heard worse, ef I cud only rickollect wher' it wuz."

The Trouble.

Wicks—There should be a law to restrain the theaters from printing those mossy jokes in their programmes.

Hicks—You don't have to read them. Wicks—No, but you usually have to listen to some idiot behind you reading and explaining them.

Determination.

"I am afraid that your boy lacks determination," said the neighbor.

"That's where you wrong him," answered Farmer Cornstossel. "I never saw anybody as determined not to work as Josh is."

The Same Air.

Mrs. Homer—Jane, open that window and let a little fresh air into the house. Jane—It isn't fresh air at all, mem; it's the same air that's been about here all the morning.

The Wear and Tear of It.

"You must find it wearing to be the wife of a genius."

"Yes; so many fools want to know how I am able to get along with him."—Chicago Record-Herald.

A sufferer From Backache

Mr. W. Gilroy, general merchant, Blenheim, Ont., states: "I am rather enthusiastic in the praise of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, and believe I have good reason to be. For several years I was a great sufferer from kidney disease, and had pains in my back almost constantly. I tried a great many remedies, but did not succeed in obtaining more than slight temporary relief."

"A friend of mine advised me to try Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, and I did so, with great satisfaction. I had not taken half a box before I began to feel better, and now realize that I have entirely recovered. I often wonder now why people go after new-fangled remedies when this tried and proven medicine is so easily obtained, and so certain to cure." Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills have an enormous sale because they radically cure serious and chronic disease, one pill a dose, 25 cents a box. All dealers, or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto.

Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills

in' Mister Wycherley a prooty good horse-whippin' free of cost. Now, cuss, don't indulge in any unnecessary waste of yer nervous system. It don't pay. Jest out with them three hundred pounds and I'll undertake to pacerfy 'Liza."

"I have told you I shall not give you another penny, do what you may," returned Wycherley, "and I mean it."

"It's no good argoooin', then?" said Hiram.

"Not a little bit. I'm done with you forever."

Hiram rose and stood quizzically regarding Wycherley with one eye.

"I'm off," he said, presently; "I'm goin' for Sarah A. to take her to Lord Lyptus to tell her story."

A broad smile came over Wycherley's face.

"Sarah A.'s scooted," he said, hardly able to restrain a rising laugh. "Went off with a burglar late last night, and fell into my possession, poor thing! Here she is!" and so saying he drew aside a heavy curtain, and Hiram's eyes fell disconsolately upon his wax model of the dead Sarah A.

"Done agen!" Hiram wailed. "Done brown, by 'Frisco! Bill, forgie me, for I'm done anyhow."

Ringin' in the Ears

This is an unfailling sign of catarrh, and if not checked will ultimately result in deafness. The simplest remedy is Catarrhazone, which if inhaled a few times daily, prevents the catarrhal condition from spreading. Catarrhazone quickly stops the ringin' in the ears, head noises, gives permanent relief to catarrhal deafness. For Catarrh in any part of the system, Bronchitis, Asthma, Lung or Throat Troubles, Catarrhazone is a specific, and is guaranteed to permanently cure or your money back. Large size, $1.00; trial size 25 cents. Druggists or N. C. Polson & Co., Kingston, Ont. Sold by R. O'Leary.
