SUPERSTITION.

It is astonishing that in this age of enlightenment there should be so much superstition and credulity. It is true that education has done much to drive away the gross superstition which prevailed a hundred years ago when old women were burned as witches, and bogles and uncanny spirits were supposed to be always on hand to entrap the unwary, but there still exists in the minds of many otherwise intelligent persons a belief in the supernatural. Barnum once observed that the public like to be fooled and one of the easiest methods of doing so is by appealing to the superstitious fancies and fears of the people. Fortune tellers, clairvoyants, and fakirs generally, manage to fleece people by appealing to their credulities. The astrologers of olden times believed that future events could be foretold by studying the stars. They were sincere in their belief and in this respect contrast most favorably with the impostors of to day who profess to be able to read the future from a study of the lines of the palm of the hand or through the medium of clairvoyance. They were men of education and culture, and while it has been fully demonstrated that there is nothing in astrology, its study led to important discoveries in astronomy. The men and women of to-day who profess to be able to lift the veil which hides the future, are the veriest humbugs and frauds and should be drummed out of the country. In the same class are those who profess to be able to heal by means of clairvoyance, and yet these people are visited and consulted by many who should have better sense. A few years ago one of these clairvoyant doctors visited a neighboring town and professed to be able to heal all the ills which flesh is heir to. His professed method was to go to sleep, and while in a somnolent condition, to look through and through the body of his patient and in this way locate all and every manner of bodily disease. It is marvellous that any sane person could be persuaded to believe that such a thing could be done in the manner claimed. Yet for nearly a month he was deluged with patients from early morning till evening, while the regular physicians of the town were left in idleness. At the end of that period the scales began to drop from the eyes of a credulous public and the services of the regular physicians were again in demand. In this class also are those seers who profess to foretell events by other means, and it is wonderful how many people believe in their predictions. The prophecy that King Edward "would reign as king but never be crowned," was quoted and believed far and wide when the coronation was postponed on account of his illness. And yet we speak of the enlightenment of the twentieth century.

THE SPRUCE MARKET.

The Liverpool spruce market has advanced. The correspondent there of the Timber Trades Journal says in the issue of Aug. 30th:

"Referring to our last report, we then said:—'The position of the spruce market is likely to be maintained here for the remainder of the season, if, indeed, an advance is not made.' We hope our readers took these remarks with full consideration of their importance. The advance in spruce values has come sooner than we anticipated, for a strong upward movement has been made this week in c. i. f. contracts, and all grades may be marked 5s. per standard up. Holders of stocks are thus in a happy position, and can look forward to the future with complacency. No pressure will be put upon the market by shippers from open water winter ports, such as St. John, N. B., and Halifax, N. S., as they will want some reserve on that side to supply the regular liners."

Neither Britain or Canada appears to be looking with indifference upon Sir Robert Bond's mendicant mission to Washington. Nor could they be expected to do so. What is proposed is a very decided preference against Britain and Canada by a British Colony, at a time when everybody is talking of extending the inter-Imperial preference principle. Sir Edmund Barton talks preference; Mr. Seddon talks preference; Canada has a preference in force; a powerful party in Britain favors a preference; while Sir Robert Bond is for cold shouldering both Canada and the Mother Country.—Star.

BABY'S OWN TABLETS.

Make Children Well and Keep Them Well.

For sick, weak, nervous, fretful children, there is nothing so good as Baby's Own Tablets. They promptly relieve and cure all the stomach and bowel troubles that afflict little ones, break up colds, reduce fever and allay the irritation accompanying the cutting of teeth. The Tablets can be given with perfect safety to the youngest, feeblest baby, as they are guaranteed to contain no opiate or harmful drug. For very small children crush the Tablets to a powder. Mrs. L. Axford, St. Thomas, Ont., says: "Before giving my little girl Baby's Own Tablets she suffered from disordered stomach. She vomited a good deal, and was very constipated, and pale and delicate looking. She was always a nervous child and did not sleep well. After giving her the Tablets there was a great change. Her stomach got better, she retained her food, her bowels became regular, and she has grown fatter and looks like the picture of health. I also give the Tablets to my baby when his stomach is sour, or when he has colic, and they always do him good. I keep the Tablets in the house and would not be without them."

Baby's Own Tablets are sold by all druggists or will be sent post paid at 25 cents a box by writing direct to The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont., or Schenectady, N. Y.

OREGON'S FOREST FIRES.

OREGON CITY, Ore., Sept. 12.—Fierce forest fires are raging in the vicinity of Springfield. Houses and barns and stock are being burned and the whole country is devastated. Many cattle were caught in the timber and burned to death. There are heavy fires four miles east of Medalla.

SEPTEMBER WEDDINGS.

Wedded at Halifax.

A pretty church wedding of unusual interest took place yesterday at 11.30, at the Coburg road Presbyterian church, the contracting parties being Miss Helen T. Dennis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Dennis, of Coburg road, and Andrew W. Robb, secretary of the Y. M. C. A., Charlottetown. At the conclusion of the ceremony the happy young couple left for their future home in the Island city, followed by heartfelt wishes and prayers of many friends for the realization of an ideal wedded life. Miss Dennis will be greatly missed by her friends in Halifax, as well as in the church in which she was a willing, earnest worker. The esteem in which both were held is illustrated by the handsome gifts received and the letters full of kindest wishes that accompanied them.

ADDRESS TO THE GROOM.

Mr. Robb received a purse of gold from the board of directors of the Y. M. C. A. in Charlottetown, and an address as follows:

"Mr. A. W. Robb: 'Dear Sir and Brother,—We the undersigned members of the board of directors of the Y. M. C. A. of Charlottetown of which you have the honor to be the highly esteemed secretary, do most heartily congratulate you upon the eve of what we know will prove to you a most enjoyable occasion—that of taking unto yourself a partner.

'During the short time that we as a committee, have been associated with you in this work, which we know is very near and dear to your heart, we have learned to love and esteem you highly because of your winning personality, your intense earnestness and zeal, and your untiring efforts in the association work here; and looking forward, we have bright hopes that, chiefly through you and the help and inspiration you will receive from your life associate, greater success yet may still attend the work of our association.

'Please accept the accompanying gift as a small token of our esteem and respect for you, and with it we couple our best wishes both for you and your prospective that you may have a joyous and prosperous journey through life.

JOHN H. MCKENZIE,
 President.

Mr. Robb also received from other friends a gold watch and handsome easy chair.

PRESENTS TO THE BRIDE.

The valuable presents of the bride are too numerous to particularize. Some were of very tender interest, and will always be carefully treasured for the personality manifested in their preparation and bestowal. Her former fellow workers of The Herald and The Mail office presented her with a most beautifully designed silver five o'clock tea service in kind memory of her past association with them. A handsome mahogany writing desk was the gift of the Coburg road church, with the following address:

"Dear Miss Dennis,—On the eve of your marriage the congregation of the Coburg road Presbyterian church beg to tell you how sincere and deep our wishes for your future happiness are, and how confident we are that those wishes will be completely realized. In this expression of our good wishes Mr. Robb, whom we are glad to say we seem to know almost as well as we do you, fully shares.

"The congregation have a great deal of pleasure in sending you the accompanying memento of our pleasant co partnership in the work of Coburg road church, adding the hope that the letters of joy to be written from it may be very, very many, and that any of a different tone may be very few and far between."

"The groom's present to the bride was a handsome pearl pendant; to the bridesmaid, Miss Clara Dennis, a pearl bracelet, and to Miss Sara Dennis, flower girl, a gold bracelet. The best man was Bruce Robb, brother of the groom. Burton Archibald was usher and Miss Edith Archibald organist for the solemn occasion. The ceremony was performed by Rev. J. D. Mackay, pastor of the church, assisted by Rev. H. B. Mackay."

THE CHURCH DECORATIONS.

The church was tastefully decorated and filled to the utmost by the relatives and friends of the bride and groom. A floral arch was constructed from which hung a bell of white flowers. On either side of the arch were masses of potted plants.

The bride wore a brown tailormade travelling suit, and large hat of brown chiffon swathed with cream lace over pale blue, and carried a bouquet of bride roses and ferns. The first bridesmaid, Miss Clara Dennis, wore a tailormade suit of navy blue, and blue velvet hat, and carried a bouquet of pink roses and ferns. Miss Sara Dennis, the youngest sister of the bride was all in white muslin, with white picture hat, and carried a basket of roses. As the bride entered on the arm of her father, the organist for the occasion, Miss Edith Archibald, played the "Bridal Song" from Lohengrin. At the conclusion of the ceremony the "Wedding March" was played.

Miss Dennis is a sister of Albert Dennis, who married Miss Nina Glencross, of Rexton.

Wedded at Rexton.

A very pretty quiet home wedding took place on Wednesday, Sept. 10th at the residence of Anthony McNairn, Rexton, N. B., when their youngest daughter, Ella, was united in marriage to Laurence McNairn of the I. C. R. machine shop of Moncton. The ceremony was performed by Rev. D. Fraser in the presence of a number of relatives of the bride and bridegroom. The bride was becomingly attired in a blue broadcloth skirt and a white corded silk waist with chiffon trimming. The travelling suit was a blue broadcloth tailormade suit, a rose colored silk waist with chiffon trimming and hat to match. After the ceremony the guests repaired to the dining-room where they partook of a sumptuous repast. The presents were numerous and costly, showing the high esteem in which the bride and bridegroom are held. The bridegroom's present to the bride was a handsome gold brooch and an opera shawl. A sugar bowl consisting of silver and cut glass given by W. Earle Barnes of the I. C. R. mechanical drafting office, and others too numerous to mention. The following day they returned to Moncton where they will make their future home.

COATESVILLE.

The weather is very warm now and the farmers are busily engaged in saving the crop. The farmers say the hay crop has never been so good as it is this year in this vicinity. One farmer here expects to cut over 100 tons of hay.

Mr. A. F. Coates has completed his new mill dam and it is one of the strongest in Kent.

Miss Tillie Nowlan, daughter of John P. Nowlan, returned last Tuesday to St. Louis convent, where she has been attending school the last year.

Miss Jennie Coates, who has been visiting in Moncton, has returned home.

Mr. Dan Nowlan, who was ill with fever, is well now.

Mr. Albert Nowlan, who has also been very ill, is getting better fast.

The bridge builders have arrived and have a number of men working at the bridge. They are the same men that built the bridge at Notre Dame and we expect to have a fine one for they are reckoned to be among the best workmen in the province.

YANKEE CANADIANS.

SALISBURY, Aug. 30.—Of the great army of Canadian young people who find employment in the neighboring republic and spend the summer vacations at their Canadian homes, it is interesting to note the different effects produced by a short sojourn in Uncle Sam's domains. It is pleasing to note that the great majority of the boys and girls, who visit the old homes have changed but little. In some cases it may be they are better dressed, but we can readily recognize the old time speech and manner and everybody is always glad to see them. Sad to relate, however, there are always the few who return with silly affectation of speech and manner, which makes the home relatives ashamed of them and the home acquaintances exceedingly tired. They generally come as a sort of painful duty to see father and mother and country brothaahs and sistahs. They generally get on on the C. P. Ah. and are twahbly boahed with things in general and wondah how the natives evah manage to exist. They have to ask fathah the name of different farming utensils and "by jove" they don't know a Jehahy cow from a spwing tooth hawwoh. It is a season of great rejicing when this latter class board the C. P. Ah. for the return trip.

WEST BRANCH.

Miss Girvan, of Rexton, is visiting friends here.

Rev. Wm. Townsend officiated in an interesting ceremony, Wednesday evening, Sept. 10th, when Miss Minnie Hannah, eldest daughter of Mrs. David Hannah (widow), and Mr. Alex. Lennox, son of the late Mr. Archie Lennox, were united in marriage. The guests were the immediate relatives of bride and bridegroom. Costumes and presents were appropriate. Although the evening proved very moist, a few of our courageous boys armed cap-a-pie with fifes, drums, guns and other implements of torture, set out to charivari the bridal party. They met with a hearty welcome and were handsomely treated to all the delicacies of the season, returning to their homes in a saturated condition but well satisfied with their reception.

We beg to inform our enquiring friends via THE REVIEW, that the moonlight excursion enjoyed by a few of our young people, proved quite a success. And the apples on the route towards Ruin Castle were all that fancy painted them, verifying the adage that "stolen fruit is always the sweetest."

Our teacher, Miss Sadie Hudson, spent Sunday at her home in Richibucto.

The Morton residence has been nicely painted up. If a few more of our citizens would follow his example, West Branch would be (not one of the prettiest) but the prettiest country village in Kent.
