BASS RIVER.

Not having seen any notes for some time, I decided to write a few to let you know we are all still in existence.

Dancing seems to be the order of the day, at which some of our young College friends seem to excel.

A picnic was given on Tuesday by Miss Florence Campbell, of Boston, formerly of this place, and a pleasant time was spent. We were pleased to see many of our old friends present.

We are pleased to see Mr. Albert Stewart is able to be out again after a severe illness of several days.

Some of our young friends from Maine River went berry picking last week and report raspberries a scarce crop, cheer up bears are plentiful.

I would advise all berry pickers to carry rain coats as I hear some of our young friends got a bad wetting recently.

The many friends of Miss Florence and Sadie Campbell and Annie Woods will be sorry to hear of their departure for Boston, Mass., to-morrow. We hope to see them next summer.

Mr. Hugh Campbell, late of the S. A. war, left for Greenville to-day.

Mr. James Mason was the guest of Miss Maggie Woods, Sunday.

Mr. Gordon Campbell was the guest of Mr. John Norman Sunday.

We were pleased to see Mr. Roland Campbell among us.

The hay rack ride last Monday was a pleasant affair.

There is a dance at Mr. Joshua Cross man's to-night.

We are sorry to hear Mr. Gordon Campbell leaves for the wild west in a few days.

"Amber, Test It."

A Pipeful of "AMBER" Plug Smoking Tobacco will burn 75 minutes.

"test it?"

Save the tags they are valuable.

BEERSVILLE NOTES.

Not seeing any notes from our quiet little place, I thought I would write a few.

Mr. and Mrs. Crawford Spencer and child are visiting friends in Beersville.

Miss Mary Irving is taking music lessons. We wish you every success, Mary.

Mr. Anthony Beers spent a few days with friends here.

Mr. William Howard passed through here last week.

Mr. Robert Fulton is building a new house.

The coal mine down the river seems to have an attraction for some of our young ladies.

Our school is progressing under the management of Mr. Leverage.

Green is the prevailing color among the young folks this season.

Mr. H. Baird and B. Gibson passed through here last week.

MILBURN'S LAXA-LIVER PILLS regulate the bowels, cure constipation, dyspepsia, biliousness, sick headache and all affections of the organs of digestion.

HARCOURT.

Mr. and Mrs. I. B. Humphrey and Miss Dora left yesterday for a fortnight's visit with friends in Apohaqui and Charlotte-town. During Mr. Humphrey's absence his place will be filled by L. P. McMichael.

Miss Mildred McKay, who has been spending a few weeks at her home here, returned to Millerton on Monday.

Dr. McWilliam, of Rexton, spent Sunday in the village.

Miss E. Trinda Wathen left on Saturday for an extended visit with friends in Greenwich.

This evening, Mr. John Wathen leaves on the Maritime express for the western harvest fields.

Master Tom and Bruce Buckenfield have gone to resume their studies at Rotheray Collegiate school.

Mrs. Barriau and children, after a pleasant visit with relatives here, have returned to Moncton.

Mrs. John Battie leaves on the maritime express to-day for a short visit with friends in St. John.

A gang of men are at work putting some much needed repairs on the I. C. R. buildings here. The station is being raised, shingles on having a bow window put in. New forms will be laid and some of the buildings painted.

We would suggest, with a view to the protection of life, that the few remaining planks in our sidewalks be removed. At present one must needs be a skilful navigator to steer his course safely over them after dark.

THE HACKING COUGH.

One of the meanest things to get rid of is a hacking cough. There is apparently no cause for it. No soreness, no irritation at first; but the involuntary effort of the muscles of the throat to get rid of something is almost constant. Of course, with many cough is a habit, but it is a bad habit, and should be stopped. When you realize this and try to stop it, you find you can't for a time there is an actual irritation, which will never get better without treatment.

It is a curious thing that nearly all treatment for cough actually makes the cough worse. Then, too, most medicines for cough have a bad effect in the stomach. This is especially true of so-called cough remedies that contain a narcotic. The true treatment for cough is one that heals the irritated surfaces. This is what Adamson's Botanic Cough Balsam does. It protects the throat also while the healing process is going on. When this remedy was first compounded our old men were young boys, and all this time it has been doing a steady work of healing throats. The most obstinate hacking cough will quickly show the effect of the Balsam. People who have been trying for years to break up the mean little cough, will find a sure friend in this old-time soothing compound made from the barks and gums of trees. All druggists sell Adamson's Botanic Balsam, 25 cents.

Told the Truth.

"He says he comes from a great family."

"That's no lie. He was one of sixteen children."

Taken by Storm.

He stole a kiss! So quick 'twas done She did not know what he was at He never stole another one; She gave them to him after that.

The Typewriter.

Bacon—That typewriter of yours seems to have some capital ideas. Egbert—Yes, some very curious capital ideas.

Remember, Girls!

'Tis wrong for any maid to be Abroad at night alone; A chaperon she needs till she Can call some chap her own.

Suspicious.

Husband—I've just bought your mother an automobile. Wife—Oh, John, how could you be so cruel?

All For Her Sake.

He carried lunch to sylvan scenes; He made the old swing go; He hacked his knife to ope sardines. Because he loved her so.

She Knew.

"What is a caddy?" asked Willie. "Don't you know?" returned Ethel. "Why, a caddy is a little cad of course."

Joy Complete.

'Tis joy to live, and yet how true That joy is never quite complete Until we've seen the sheriff sell The furniture across the street!

Thoughtless Gran'ma.

Master—What are you crying for? Office Boy—My grandmother's dead, and she's going to be buried on a holiday.

Kindred Insects.

The kissing bug's career is through; No more its pranks we see. It had to take its hat off to The good old husking bee. —Life.

An Optimistic Cripple.

A one legged newsboy had been hopping about on his crutch selling afternoon "extras," and when there was a lull in the business, owing to a falling off in the crowds, he sat down for a brief rest.

"How did you lose your leg?" I asked.

"Cable car," he said, with the street urchin's characteristic economy of words.

"Too bad!" I remarked.

"Oh, but it might 'a' been worse, sir," the boy replied. "The company paid the doctor and gave mother $800. That paid all our debts and left us $500 in bank, and it's all there 'cept $40 we had to take out when mother was sick, and I sell more papers than most of the boys, just 'cause I've a crutch. There's one of my customers now."

Her One Success.

In the civil war time a western woman who had lost her husband in the field and who hoped to win a livelihood for herself and her little ones by writing sent to Harper's Magazine a story which had no special distinction and was returned. In the desperate mood that followed this rejection she sat down with pen afire and told "why I wrote it," and her story under that title was accepted and published, winning a sympathetic response from all its readers. But this production, the echo of a vital moment, was her one story in the magazine. Oliver Wendell Holmes said that anybody could write one interesting novel if he could truly tell the story of his own life.

Obedient Orders.

"What was the cause of that awful racket and disturbance in your office just before you came?" asked one of the tenants on the third floor.

"You know that young cowboy that came yesterday to begin the study of law with me?" said the other.

"Yes."

"Well, I thought he might as well begin at the bottom, and I told him that when he came down this morning the first thing for him to do would be to clean out the office. He found half a dozen fellows there waiting for me, but he did it, all right."

A Clear Cut Warning.

"Young ladies," said an absent-minded teacher of Latin to his class in Virgil. "I understand that you count upon my calling on you in alphabetical order and prepare your lessons accordingly. I am surprised and disappointed at each conduct. Hereafter I warn you I shall begin at the other end of the alphabet!"

Corrected.

Visitor—Go to the proprietor and tell him to make my bill out properly and write omelette with two 't's' and not one.

Walter (a few minutes later)—It's all right now, sir—omelet 1 shilling; two teas, 2 shillings.

JINGLES AND JESTS.

King Alfalfa:
You wait impatiently the day.
Poor boy.
When you may put your toys away,
Poor boy!
Through careless childhood you have sped.
Ah, if you might see on ahead,
I wren that you'd shrink back in dread.
Poor boy!
—Chicago Record-Herald.

A Patient.
In the doctor's office: The Doctor's Friend—Why didn't you tell that lady to leave off that fur collar? You know well enough it is the cause of her taking cold.
The Doctor—I didn't tell that simply because I don't want to lose a patient. She'd give me up before she'd give up that collar.

The Hot Time Comin'.
Violets'll soon be peepin'
From winter's frosty bed;
Keep your way, believers;
Hot time's just ahead!
Stormy sky is clearin';
See the rainbow red?
Keep your way, believers;
Hot time's just ahead!

His Choice Library.
"My, what a lot of books!" exclaimed Miss Gossypie. "Does your husband read much?"
"No," answered Mrs. Gad. "He buys expensive books, and he's so busy working to pay for them that he does not have time to read."

One Auditor, Anyhow.
She sought the legislature,
But they wouldn't let her in;
She tried to bluff the senate,
But it hypnotized her chin;
For woman's sphere she hunted,
But it was out of sight;
So now she sits and lectures
Her hubby dear at night.
