Circuit Court.

The case of LeBlanc vs. The Commercial Insurance Company lasted till Friday evening and was one of the most interesting cases ever tried here. The defence put in evidence the testimony of Damien P. Cormier who is in Dorchester penitentiary for setting the fire. He testified the understanding between him and plaintiff was that the plaintiff would pay him $50.00 for setting the fire. He also swore that plaintiff had supplied him with the paraffine and had given him money after the fire while in jail. A letter was read in evidence by plaintiff from Cormier to Rev. Father Michaud in which he accused plaintiff of hiring him to do the work and said two others were also urging him on. The plaintiff denied ever having an agreement or understanding with Cormier. He acknowledged he had given him a bottle of paraffine but said Cormier had begged it to put in his lamp. He also acknowledged having given him between $2 and $3.00 while in jail but said he did so merely as a matter of charity. Witnesses put on to value the building burned ranged in their estimates from $1000 to $2500. At the close of the case the judge charged the jury and left for their consideration the following questions:

1st, Was there any misstatements made by plaintiff in his application for insurance? They answered no.

2nd, Did plaintiff in any way directly or indirectly set or cause the fire to be set? Answer, no.

3rd, What was the value of the building? Answer, $2000.

A verdict was accordingly entered for plaintiff for $1600.

J. D. Phinney, K. C., and H. H. James for plaintiff, A. A. Stockton, K. C., and Wm. D. Carter for defendant.

The only other case was Richard O'Leary vs Thaddee Dupray an assessment. Damages assessed it $540. H. H. James for plaintiff, R. A. Irving for defendant. Court then adjourned sine die.

Relieves.

It was a long ride through a desolate and dangerous country, and the politician sought to relieve the monotony by philosophic musings on his recent victory and embarrassments that even success brings.

"Hold up your hands!"

The stagecoach gave a lurch and stopped. The ray of light that shot into the vehicle turned the spattering rain into myriads of evanescent gems.

"What do you want?" asked the politician, with a firmness that showed that he had faced danger before.

"Your money."

"Here it is."

"Your watch and diamond ring."

"They are yours."

"I must say you're good natured anyhow," said one of the highwaymen.

"Not at all. Are you sure that's all you desire?"

"What in thunder did you think we wanted?"

"I was afraid"—and the politician's voice trembled a little—"you wanted an office!"

Insect Pests in Brazil.

I should take a small gang of practical coffee planters from Ceylon with good digestions to be not afraid of chigoes, ticks and Berne flies, to say nothing of the dear little mosquito.

The writer had extracted during four years in Brazil no less than 200 chigoes from underneath every toe nail of both feet.

Of all the vile insects on earth the Berne fly is the worst. She lays her eggs inside your flesh and hatches three very ugly insects an inch long with three rings of bristles round the body and with sharp nippers. They take about six weeks to develop under your skin, then commence to turn somersaults just when you want to go to sleep after a hard day's work in the sun.

The natives of Brazil adopt a novel way of extracting the brute when full grown. They tie on a piece of raw pork and the Berne comes out of your skin and takes a header into the piece of pigskin.

Li Hung Chang's "Souvenir."

When Li Hung Chang was in Paris, he went to visit the Credit Lyonnais and showed lively interest in its halls, its stairs, its safes and the room where the bonds of the last city of Paris loan are kept. He was first shown bonds of 500 francs and 1,000 francs and then of 5,000 francs. Taking them in his hands, he scrutinized them, exclaiming frequently, "Joli, joli!" Then he finally thrust them in his pocket, saying, "Souvenir de Paris!" The governor of the Credit Lyonnais went to the minister of foreign affairs with a list of the bonds and asked what he was to do. It was agreed that it would not do to ask Li to give them up, and the foreign office refunded his "souvenir de Paris!"
