OUR OTTAWA LETTER.

OTTAWA, March 28.—Parliament knock-off work on Wednesday, and the members went home like a lot of school boys to enjoy the Easter holidays. It is not surprising that they should have felt some sense of relief over the surcease from labour; for the week has been characterized by a good deal of monotony. The budget debate has been going on, and there has been little of novelty in it. Conservatives have done most of the talking, and what they have said has been marked by at least one glaring inconsistency. This, however, is not novel. The House has grown accustomed to these exhibitions, and they are largely the result of necessity. The Opposition have the short end of the debate in so far as they may attempt to show that Liberal rule has been a failure.

The particular inconsistency of which they are now guilty is in endeavouring to reconcile their claim that the National Policy is responsible for the present prosperity of the country with Mr. Borden's resolution. In that resolution the leader of the Opposition distinctly declares that the existing tariff is unsatisfactory, inasmuch as it does not afford adequate protection. This is but another way of saying that the Liberals have cut down the old scale of duties very considerably, and having done so it does not lie in the mouth of anyone to say that the National Policy has been maintained. It is in the last degree illogical to found an argument upon facts leading in opposite directions.

Other things have also happened of late to show the somewhat helpless way in which the Conservatives are floundering. For example, Mr. Bell, of Pictou, in a very positive way attacked the figures which Sir Richard Cartwright had submitted to the House last week. He endeavored to make it appear that Sir Richard had misquoted the year book for 1888 and 1889 in relation to population, and at the time he seemed to be making out a fairly good case; but at the opening of the House next day Sir Richard produced the year books in question, which were published during the Conservative regime, and established every figure which he had used in that connection. Mr. Bell did the best he could in the face of this refutation. He said he was going away for a short time, but on his return he would go into the subject again. It is not likely he will do so.

Sir Richard Cartwright's speech has been a great source of irritation to the Conservatives, inasmuch as it very fully and unanswerably exposed the unreliability of the census of 1891. One of the objects of that census was to show that the National Policy had been a great stimulation to Canadian industries, and in following out this idea the census authorities had rather overreached themselves. For instance, in 1881 Canada had but eleven carpet factories. In 1891 there were shown to be 557. Seventy of these were located in the good county of Antigonish, and a curious fact in connection therewith was the subjoined statement that these 70 factories employed but 69 hands. These were composed of one man, 64 old women, one boy and three girls. The machinery required to run these 70 factories was valued at $1,089, while the wages amounted to about $60 for each individual per annum.

Quebec, Sir Richard showed, had come up well in the matter of basket factories. The county of Huntingdon was shown to have 40 of these institutions, employing 45 hands. The value of the land occupied by these 45 basket factories is put down at $690, while the buildings are reckoned at $1,800; or $62 for each factory for both land and building. This basket making industry paid out the enormous sum of $47 a year to each individual employed.

In New Brunswick the census of 1891 showed there were in existence 51 carpet factories, giving employment to the large number of 51 hands. This large staff was required to operate $707 worth of machinery, and they earned wages at the rate of 10 cents per day. The same general principal of enumeration was found to have been followed in Ontario and the other provinces, the palpable object being to vindicate the National Policy. Sir Richard asked if it could be expected that men who would countenance such frauds as he had indicated would hesitate about adding here and there a name to swell the general population.

Taking up the question of population in Ontario, Sir Richard pointed out that if the census of 1891 was strictly correct then that Province showed a growth three times as great between 1881 and 1891 as between 1861 and 1881. As everyone knew, there had been much depression and a large exodus during the first named period, while in the latter period the conditions had been exceedingly favourable for growth of population. Taking Toronto as a test point, there had been a great outcry raised by the people of that city over the results of the enumeration. A police count was made, and the result was an increase of 23,000 over the census figures; but when the students, hotel guests and visitors to the city were deducted it was found that the Government figures were substantially correct.

A very strong case was made out by Sir Richard Cartwright against the census of 1891, showing that there had been wholesale padding in many respects, and the inference was natural that the same inflation had been applied to population. On the other hand, it was possible that the census of 1891 had been taken with over-scrupulous care. The groundwork had been laid, however, for accuracy in the future, and while the general results might be satisfactory for the present there would be no cause in time to come for regret on that score. Of course, the Opposition make the most that is possible out of the comparatively poor showing of 1901, because it seems to them to be an offset to the many astounding evidences of growth and expansion in the material resources of the country.

During the continuance of the budget debate on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday a great many facts of interest were brought out by speakers on the Government side. This is really not surprising. In every part of the Dominion there has been prosperity, and having regard to the recent statement made by the naturally cautious President of the Bankers' Association it would seem that every condition points to continued development and advancement. Under these circumstances, the Opposition are driven to speculation and hair-splitting in their attempts to reflect upon the course of Government. They indulge in a good deal of bluster and boast, but they really do not make any headway in their attacks.

The Telephone Bill has been withdrawn, and several other measures introduced by the Government will not likely be pressed. The object of this is to take away all excuse from the Opposition for extending the session beyond the middle of May. Practically the other business for the House to deal with after the budget debate is over arises out of the estimates. There are no extraordinary appropriations being asked for; so that there ought to be no difficulty in bringing about prorogation within six weeks after the Easter holidays.

Perfect Cure for Bronchitis. This disease can be treated only by a remedy carried to the affected parts along with the air breathed, for nature intended these organs for the passage of air alone, and sprays, atomizers and internal medicines utterly fail. But Catarrhzone doesn't fail, for it goes wherever the air breathed goes, and its healing antiseptic vapour is sure to reach every affected part. Catarrhzone is inhaled at the mouth and after passing through every air cell of the breathing organs is slowly exhaled through the nostrils. Catarrhzone protects and heals the inflamed surfaces, relieves congestion, allays inflammation, and perfectly cures all bronchial affections. Price $1. Small size 25c. At R. O'Leary's General Store, Richibucto, or Polson & Co., Kingston, Ont.

CANADIAN LOSSES.

No Details Yet Received.

GOVERNOR GENERAL HAS ASKED FOR NAMES OF KILLED AND WOUNDED.

OTTAWA, April 4.—A preliminary report from the war office to the Governor General in respect to Canadian casualties in the action at Kleinhard's River, March 31, says:

Second Mounted Rifles—Killed, nine non-commissioned officers and men. Wounded, forty non-commissioned officers and men. Officers—None killed. Severely wounded: Lieut. R. H. Ryan (Kentville, N. S.) in forehead. Slightly: Lieut. George McKay (Montreal), in hand; Lieut. Ralph Markham (St. John) in the arm; Lieut. W. P. London (Toronto), in shoulder. The names of other men killed or wounded not yet received.

goon Guards fought a shary rear-guard action near Boschman's Kop during the evening of March 31. Four officers are known to have been wounded. No further details of the casualties have been received. The column commander, Col. Lawley, detached the dragoons with the object of surprising a Boer lager, reported to have been located ten miles east of Boschman's Kop. The dragoons found the Boers strongly posted, and the burghers were subsequently strongly reinforced, with the result that the dragoons had to fight a hard rear guard action in order to regain the main column. The heavy firing called up Col. Lawley and his troops, who drove off the Boers. The latter's loss is reported to have been heavy.

PRETORIA, April 4.—The British losses in the engagement in the neighborhood of Harts River, March 31, were three officers and twenty-four men killed and sixteen officers and 131 men wounded. The Boers admit that they lost 137 men killed or wounded. The action occurred at Doornbalt farm, a few miles south of the scene of Gen. Delaroy's defeat of Gen. Methuen. The Boers who were commanded by Generals Kemp and Potgieter, attacked with great determination, but the Canadian contingent, which was the last to arrive in South Africa from Canada, and two squadrons of Yeomanry under Col. Cookson, and the artillery and mounted rifles under Col. Kier, presented such a stout front that the burghers were finally forced to retreat. The casualty list shows that the second Canadian Mounted Rifles had four officers wounded, nine men killed and forty men wounded.

OTTAWA, April 5.—In answer to a cable enquiry, Major Maude has just received a despatch to the effect that the War office has not received the list of the rank and file killed and wounded, but will forward the same immediately it is cabled.

Two despatches were received by Lieut. Col. Markham's family about the wounding of Lieut. Ralph Markham in the late South African battle. One stated his arm was hurt, the other said his scalp.

THE CANADA EASTERN R. R.

A company is being organized on the North Shore and York county to purchase the Canada Eastern Railway, the federal government having refused to do so, and the Local government will be asked to guarantee the bonds of the new company to the extent of one million dollars. In return for this concession the government will be given control over freight and passenger rates as a guarantee that the interest of the country through which the road passes will not suffer. It is understood that a proposition of this nature will be made to the government in a day or two and will be backed up by the local members for York and the North Shore. George W. Allan, M. P., was given a hearing before the Fredericton Council on Tuesday on the subject, and the support of that body was pledged in support of the movement. A special committee was appointed to draw up suitable resolutions, which will be considered at an adjourned meeting of the Council this evening.

THE WORLD OVER.

The Corriere Della Sera, of Rome, asserts that King Edward abandoned his proposed visit to the Riviera on account of the discovery of an anarchist plot against his life.

During the nine months ended March 31, 1902, there were built in the United States and officially numbered 949 vessels of 245,668 gross tons. For the corresponding period of the previous fiscal year the figures were 753 vessels of 246,973 gross tons. These figures do not include canal boats and unrigged barges.

Fearing he would be arrested for theft, Wm. H. Lane, a colored butler, shot and killed his employer, Mrs. Ella J. Furbush, her twelve-year-old daughter Madeline, and probably mortally wounded another daughter, Eloise, aged seven, at their home in Philadelphia on Tuesday. Lane was captured. He confessed his crime.

The question of whether or not members of a labor union have the right to decline to work with non-union men and to order a strike to have such right respected was determined in the affirmative by the court of appeals in Albany on Tuesday.

Richard Frazier, an official civil engineer of the Canadian Government, is reported to have destroyed a Russian boundary monument in Skagway, Alaska. It was situated eighteen miles beyond the modus vivendi line on the Canadian side. In the presence of two American miners, Mr. Frazier ordered his men to destroy the monument. The affidavits of the witnesses have been taken and sent to the state department at Washington.

PLASTERS FAILED.

Liniments, Oils and Many Other Medicines did no Good.

A New Brunswick Postmaster Tells of his Efforts to Cure his Kidney Trouble—He Suffered for Years and Tried Many Medicines, but Only Recently Found the Right One.

LOWER WINNOR, N. B. April 7th, (Special).—Mr. T. H. Belyea, postmaster of this place, has made a very interesting statement of his experience in his efforts to be cured of Kidney Trouble which has bothered him for many years.

At times he would have very bad spells, and when these came on he was almost laid up. He tried several doctors and used many medicines, but nothing seemed to help him in the least.

Plasters, oils, liniments on the outside and doses of all kinds and descriptions taken internally seem to have but one result. He was no better.

Finally through reading an advertisement he was led to the use of Dodd's Kidney Pills. He says:

"Dodd's Kidney Pills were so highly recommended for Kidney Trouble that after reading some testimonials, I concluded to try them according to directions. 'I had tried so many things that I was very skeptical and had but little faith that Dodd's Kidney Pills could or would help me. However, I did not use them long before I found that they were all and more than was claimed for them."

"I have received more benefit from them than from any other medicine I have ever used for they seem to have made a complete cure of my case."

"I feel as well as ever I did and have not the slightest trace of the Kidney Trouble that bothered me ever so long."

"I want to say that I believe that Dodd's Kidney Pills are the right medicine for Kidney Trouble."

Mr. Belyea is very well known to everybody in this neighbourhood and there are but few who have not been aware of his serious illness.

Everyone is delighted at his improved health and his published statement has done much to make Dodd's Kidney Pills even more popular in this neighbourhood than they have been.

'NEATH BRITISH FLAG AND COLLEGE GOWN.

BODY OF CECIL RHODES RESTS IN CAPETOWN PARLIAMENT BUILDING—WREATH FROM THE QUEEN.

CAPETOWN, April 3.—A private service for his family and friends was held over the body of Cecil Rhodes at Grooteshuur last evening.

The body was brought here at midnight last night and deposited in the vestibule of the building of parliament. The coffin is draped with a tattered Union Jack which belonged to Mr. Rhodes, and which he regarded with peculiar veneration, and with a tattered flag of the British Chartered South African Company, which went through the fight at Massikessi. On these two flags rest the cap and gown which the deceased wore when he took his degree at Oxford. Cape policemen are grouped in the corners of the chamber as a guard over the body.

A beautiful wreath of flowers from Queen Alexandra has been placed at the head of the bier. Rudyard Kipling will take part in the funeral procession.

BENTLEY'S Liniment is a strong White Liniment. Penetrating, powerful, yet clean to use. It is a reliable remedy for Sprains or Strains. Pains in the back or chest. For bruises cuts and burns it will be found the best thing to use. Put up in two sizes, 10 and 25c.

LATE LITERARY NEWS.

"What Women Like in Men," "What Men Like in Women," and "Husbands and Wives," are the titles of a series of very interesting papers by RAFFORD PIERCE, the third of which appears in THE COSMOPOLITAN for April. The same number of THE COSMOPOLITAN treats of Prince Henry's visit, with a series of beautifully printed photographs, under the title of "A Clever emperor and a Confederation of Nations." F. HOPKINSON SMITH, ISRAEL ZANGWILL, BRET HARTE and MAARTEN MAARTENS are among the other contributors to this number, which is unusually good in fiction.
