ITALIAN VIOLINS.

The First "Strad" Sent to London Could Find No Purchaser.

Italian violins have not always held the supremacy they now enjoy. It was not indeed till the beginning of the a restaurant not long ago. nineteenth century that they came into vogue to any extent outside their native land. Previously Jacob Steiner (1621-83) was the favorite maker, and his high model had been almost exclusively copied by his fellow Germans and the different makers in France and eyes to the anxious waiter. The man England. When the older Corvetto, who had been a merchant before entering the musical profession, came to London, in 1738, he brought with him some instruments by Stradivari. The result of this endeavor to introduce Italian work into England fills one with pathetic wonder. It is almost beyond belief. As he could not get as much as £5 ($25) for a violoncello he was obliged to send the instrument back to Italy for a bad speculation. Five pounds for a "Strad," and not a single purchaser to be found!

This incident in itself furnishes sufficient testimony to the slavish following of the great German maker and the strong prejudice of the violinists of that period in favor of the high model. It is indeed the players who are most to blame for the slow adoption of the flat model, for the creator must make what is necessitated by the demand; but the eighteenth century fiddlers, at any rate in England, France and Germany, seem for the most part to have been content that their violins should possess a small sweet tone, never realizing the lack of power and sonority.-Connoisseur.

"Don't eat with your ears," says Yuan Mel, a Chinese writer, "by which I mean do not aim at having extraordinary out of the way foods, just to astonish your guests, for that is to eat with your ears, not with your mouth. Bean curd, if good, is actually nicer than birds' nest. And better than sea slugs, which are not first rate, is a dish of bamboo shoots.

"The chicken, the pig, the fish and the duck-these are the four heroes of the table. Sea slugs and birds' nest have no characteristic flavors of their own. They are but usurpers in the house. I once dined with a friend who gave us birds' nests in bowls like vats, holding each about four ounces of the plain boiled article. The other guests applauded vigorously, but I smiled and said I came here to eat birds' nest, not - ---- dalivory of it wholesale."

The Reason.

A German professor who is given to great deliberation of speech and has never been known to increase its speed under the most compelling circumstances had an amusing experience in

The waiter had brought him raw oysters, and, to his dismay, he saw that the professor had apparently no intention of tasting them.

"I cannot eat these oysters," said the German slowly, without raising his seized the plate and bore it out of sight in an instant. He was a new waiter, and it was with much trepidation that he laid the second supply of oysters before this discriminating patron.

"I cannot eat these oysters," said the professor after one glance at the plate which had been set before him.

"I-I think you'd find them all right, sir," faltered the waiter. "I don't think there's anything wrong about them, sir." He looked miserable, having been told that the German was a frequent and valued patron of the restaurant and must be well and quickly served.

"I cannot eat these oysters," announced the professor for the third time, with the calmness of chorus in a tragedy, "because as yet you have furnished me no fork."-Youth's Companion.

The Public Taste.

Several kind Workers pooled their Efforts to insure the Waifs a happy Holiday. They rounded up the little Hickeys at a Mission and gave them a Free Show. Every Swipes in the Place was a Monday Night Gallery God, so the Church Talent was going against a knowing Proposition.

A pale young Man with amber Fire Escapes sprang a line of Parlor Magic that would have queered even a Supper Show. The Bunch advised him to back off the Dump. When a Young Lady with Glasses tackled "Stabat Mater" on the Violin they broke her up with Cat Calls and told her to tear off some Rag Time. They bleated at the Amateur Elocutionist and acted Rowdy when a Stout Woman got up to read a Fairy Tale from Hans Christian Andersen. Then they began to yell for Mulligan and Hicks to come on and save the Show. Whereupon Feeble, Wasted Nerves Aroused to New Life.

A Sufferer For Years From Weak Heart, Exhausted Nerves and Sleeplessness Cured by Five Boxes of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food.

Whether weakened and wasted by overwork, worry or disease, the result of exhausted nerves is felt in neuralgic pains, nervous headache and dyspepsia, serious functional derangements and ultimately in paralysis, epilepsy, locomotor ataxia, prostration or insanity, the remedy is found in Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, as is proven in the case referred to below :-

Mrs. Chas. H. Jones, Pierceton, Que., writes :-- "For years I have been great sufferer with my heart and nerves. I would take shaking spells and a dizzy swimming feeling would come over me. Night after night I would never close my eyes, and my head would ache as though it would burst. At last I had to keep to my bed, and though my doctor attended me from fall to spring, his medicine did not

"I have now taken five boxes of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, and it has done me more good than I ever be leved a medicine could do. Words fail to expiess my gratitude for the wonderful cure brought about by this treatment." CHARACTER IN MEDICINE.

Ther is character in Dr. Chase's Ointment-just such character as has made Dr. Chase's esteemed and admired the world over. Dr. Chase's Ointment has stood the test of time and remains to day the only actual cure for Piles and stching skin Diseases. It is the standard Oint-

The small town of Newport, Va., was practically destroyed by fire Tuesday. The loss is estimated to be more than $100,000 with very little insurance.

The directors of the U.S. steel corporation have issued a statement showing that the earnings for the first year, which ended March 31, with the last month estimated, reached a total of $111,067,195. Walter Allen, a negro, of Rome, Va., charged with criminally assaulting a fifteen year old girl, was taken from the jail Tuesday by 4,000 people, who battered down the prison doors and hanged him to an electric light pole in the principal portion of the city.

Diet and Voice.

A musical writer states that fine vocalists are rare in countries where fish and meat diets prevail and that the voice depreciates as families grow rich and increase the amount of meat consumed. Naples and Genoa, where much fish is eaten, give few of Italy's singers, and the sweet voices of Ireland are found in the country, but not in the towns. In Norway too much fish is eaten for the production of singers, but Sweden is a land of grain and song. The carnivorous birds croak; grain eating birds sing.

The Maid Blushed.

When Mr. David Dear, winner of the queen's prize at Bisley, was a law student, he once attended an "at home." On the servant asking his name, he replied, "David Dear."

The girl blushed and said, "Yes, yes; but what is your other name, sir?" He assured her he had no other name, but it was of no use. The servant knew better and announced him as "Mr. David."

Witty Actress.

A leading actress, who is notably well "billed" all over town and country, observed to the interviewer: "Of course I can't get on without 'billing,' and," she added slyly, "a little 'cooing.' Do I use powder? Why, of course. What do you think? And my dear sir, I shall now depend on you-for the powder-oh, dear, no--for the puff!"

The Best of Reasons. "Why do you bring this to me?"

thundered the weary editor, thrusting the manuscript back into the hands of the poet. "Because," replied the bard timidly, "I have no stamp."

The Prayer That Hurt,

A member of a certain Massachusetts parish, prominent for his thrift and personal consequence, was also notorious for his overbearing assumptions and pompous airs. Under the distress and fright of a dangerous illness he "put up notes" on several successive Sundays, and after his recovery, according to usage, he offered a note to be read by the minister expressive of his thanks.

The minister was somewhat "large" in this part of his prayer, recalling the

An Ounce of Prevention.

"As you went out," whispered the observing boarder, "I saw you pick up something from the floor, tear it in a dozen pieces and throw it in the range. Was it a love letter?"

"No," responded the practical boarder, "it was a little booklet telling how to prepare prunes in 99 different ways. was afraid it might fall into the hands of the landlady."

To Polish Glass.

To polish glass of any and all kinds there is nothing equal to newspaper. Windows, looking glasses, globes, lamp chimneys and spectacles, all may be cleaned with it. Wash first dry and then rub with newspaper. It is the printer's ink that does it.

Rubber Trees.

A rubber tree four feet in diameter yields twenty gallons of sap, making forty pounds of dry rubber.

Sweet Potatoes.

The southern way of cooking sweet potatoes is to boil them first, then slice the long way in slices a quarter of an inch thick, lay in a dripping pan with bits of butter, sprinkle with sugar, dust with cinnamon and brown in the oven

Ease. It is a great mistake to imagine that ease is conducive to longevity. To enjoy life and prolong it occupation of some sort is absolutely necessary.

A Dangerous Tree. The fruit of the umganu tree of South Africa yields a strong intoxicating drink for the natives. Elephants are fond of it, becoming quite tipsy, staggering about, playing antics, screaming so as to be heard for miles and having tremendous fights. When in this state, the natives leave them alone.

The Cow's Horn.

Throughout Africa the cow's horn is a favorite instrument, being used in connection with others on all festival occasions.

Fireproof Doors.

The largest artesian well in the world is 14 inches in diameter and 648 feet deep. It is at Cerritos, in California. The Chinese Laugh. The Chinese laugh is not as hearty or as expressive as the European or American. It is oftener a titter than a genuine outburst of merriment. There is little character of force in it.

He closed with these words: "And we pray, O Lord, that thy servant may be cured of that ungodly strut, so offensive in the sanctuary."

Middle Ages Burials.

In the middle ages founders and patrons of ecclesiastical buildings began to be buried nearer and nearer to the fabric of the church or cathedral. First the porch, then the cloister, then the chapter house or chantry, came under demand: the chancel was next encroached upon, and lastly burials were allowed under the altar itself. At the other extreme of custom was the burial of malefactors and stillborn children on the north or "devil's side" of the yard, a practice concerning which chapters might be written.
