

POOR DIGESTION

RENDERS THE LIFE OF THE DYSPEPTIC MISERABLE.

Food Becomes Distasteful and a Feeling of Weariness, Pain and Depression Ensues.

From LeSorelois, Sorel, Que.

Of the diseases afflicting mankind dyspepsia is one of the worst to endure. Its victims find life almost a burden. Food becomes distasteful; they suffer from severe pains in the stomach; sometimes excessive heart palpitation, and a general feeling of weakness and depression. Though this disease is one of the most distressing, it is one which, if the proper remedy is employed, can be readily cured. Thousands throughout this country bear testimony to the efficacy of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills as a never failing cure. Among them is Mrs. Adolphe A. Latrouse, a well known and highly esteemed lady residing at Sorel, Que. She says:—"For two years I was a constant sufferer from bad digestion and its accompanying symptoms. Food became distasteful and I grew very weak. I suffered much from pains in the stomach and head. I could not obtain restful sleep and became unfit for all housework. I tried several medicines without finding the least relief and I continually grew worse until in the end I would vomit everything I ate. I had almost given up hope of ever being well again when one day I read of a case similar to mine cured through the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. I determined to give these pills a trial and am happy today that I did so, as by the time I had taken eight or nine boxes my strength had returned, the pains which had so long racked me disappeared, my stomach would digest food properly and I had fully regained my old time health, and have not since had any return of the trouble."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are a purely tonic medicine and unlike all purgatives give life and energy with every dose. They are a certain cure for anaemia, dizziness, heart troubles, rheumatism, sciatica, indigestion, partial paralysis, St. Vitus dance and the functional ailments that make the lives of so many women an almost constant source of misery. Sold by dealers in medicine, or sent post paid at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 by addressing the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

FATAL PANIC.

NEW YORK, May 1.—An unfortunate accident at the cigar factory of Harbun, Homan & Co., was directly responsible for the death of eight girls and the serious injury of two score others. The girls got the impression that the building was on fire and a wild stampede ensued, the stairways being packed and jammed with the frenzied girls. Many jumped from the windows, a distance of more than 50 feet.

LONG LIFE IS INHERITED.

This statement you can prove by investigation. When a person whose ancestors had long lives dies in middle age you can in nine cases out of ten trace the cause to disordered kidneys and consequent suffering from Bright's disease, rheumatism, fatty heart or dropsy. Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills prevent and cure these fatal and painful diseases as no other preparation was ever known to do. One pill a dose, 25 cents a box.

THE FUNERAL OF THE LATE MISS MARY MCCARTHY.

FREDERICTON, May 1.—The funeral of the late Miss Mary McCarthy took place at 2.30 this afternoon from the residence of the deceased's brother, Mr. John McCarthy, George street, and notwithstanding the rainy weather was very largely attended. The remains were conveyed to St. Dunstan's church, where Rev. F. L. Carney read the solemn burial service. The principal mourners were John McCarthy and Judge Landry, brother-in-law of the deceased, and the latter's three sons.

Nishise Enosuke, a Jap, arrested at Yokohama, has confessed that he murdered his brother, a pickpocket, because he wouldn't reform.

Itching, Burning Skin, Cracked Hands, Sore Ear.

Two Illustrations of How Dr. Chase's Ointment Cures Itching Skin Diseases and Eruptions.

Mr. James McIsaac, 25 Elgin St., Ottawa, Ont., writes:—"I suffered with suit rashes for upwards of ten years, the skin on my hands cracking and breaking so as to make them useless. After trying all sorts of remedies in vain, I became discouraged and thought my sufferings would never end. Last spring I used Dr. Chase's Ointment and in a short time was perfectly cured."

Mr. E. Nicholson, Manor House, Winnipeg, Man., writes:—"For several months I had been troubled with eczema on my ears, and for weeks I doctored with a prominent Winnipeg physician, but to no avail. I was induced by a fellow sufferer to try Dr. Chase's Ointment, and am happy to say that the first application gave instant relief. I am completely cured, and have had no return of this troublesome disease."

There is no limit to the healing qualities of Dr. Chase's Ointment. It is remarkably quick to relieve and positively cures each and every form of itching skin disease. 50 cts a box, all chemists or Edmanson Bates & Co., Toronto.

IT LACKED NOVELTY

A COLLECTION OF HEIRLOOMS THAT WEARIED AN OBSERVER.

The System of Renting Out Family Glory and Supplying Ancestral Trappings at So Much Per Hour Has Its Drawbacks.

Two guests were being shown through a Philadelphia mansion in which a nouveau riche broker was entertaining a party of fashionable friends. The splendid array of family heirlooms, all bespeaking a lineage of earliest colonial origin, deeply impressed one of the party. He was a stranger but lately arrived from Baltimore. Oddly enough his companion, a Philadelphian, seemed fippantly indifferent to these treasured relics of a family's honored history.

"Remarkable collection of heirlooms our host has," remarked the stranger as he stopped before a battle scarred sword of Revolutionary days.

"Yes," drawled the Philadelphian cynically, "very interesting. But unfortunately it lacks the charm of novelty for me. Already this season I've seen the same batch of relics in three other Philadelphia houses."

"How could that be?" "Oh, simple enough. It only means that all four families, our host and the three others I refer to, hired their ancestral trappings from the same man."

"Hired them?" "Yes, hired them. We have in this city an enterprising collector of colonial junk who makes a business of renting out family glory to all who were unfortunate enough to be born without it."

"Whew!" was the only comment the astonished Baltimorean could utter. And doubtless many Philadelphians would be moved to say "Whew!" if they could learn how many members of the Quaker City social elite are constrained to seek the assistance of the heirloom dealer when they wish to give a brilliant function.

It is a deception that is forced upon them, for unless you have distinguished appearing forbears you stand little chance of penetrating the sacred precincts of the local fashionable set.

Ancestry, not cash, is the open sesame, and even if a man can claim some sort of a family tree his pretensions are questioned unless he can show some of the furniture or portraits that his American forefather brought with him on the Mayflower or the Welcome.

Of course if the two vessels named had been as large as the Great Eastern and had been loaded with nothing but heirlooms they couldn't have carried half the stock needed to launch the descendants of Pilgrim fathers into society. Hence the need of an heirloom dealer.

He has his warehous in Pine street, in a part of the city which was once the center of fashion, but is now deserted by that element in consequence of the westward movement of the city's elite.

Ostensibly he is a curio dealer, but his revenue is mainly derived from furnishing and hanging the walls of fashionable dwellings with century old portraits.

This clever manipulator of men's vanities has ancient, straight backed furniture and copper kettles and snuffers for candles and bullseye watches and similar relics of ancient grandeur, all at your disposal for a night, when you, poor fellow, with money, but no ancestors, want your friends to know what an old family yours is! He also has rare furnishings for libraries and drawing rooms which you may rent if you have the price.

It matters not from what part of the country the applicant hails or what particular descent he wishes to claim, his needs are promptly filled.

For those who wish to pose as lineal descendants of the stanch old colonial patriots who fought the stamp tax and defied the power of King George at Bunker Hill and drew up the Declaration there is especially attractive stock.

For the haughty cavalier who "came over" with Lord Delaware there are costumes and furniture and portraits of more elaborate style, as befits the past of emigrants who in England basked in the favor of the king and were participants in brilliant court ceremonies.

The Quaker City allegiance to the honored memory of William Penn is a sentiment that the curio dealer has been careful to cherish.

On his walls he has portraits of studious looking Quakers. On his shelves are modest Quaker clocks that did service in the days when the founder was exchanging thirty blankets for Philadelphia.

There are Quaker walking sticks, tinder boxes, documents on all subjects, household utensils a legion.

It is true that this system of supplying ancestors has its disadvantages. Counterparts such as the one revealed at the beginning of this article are bound to occur. The hawklike eye of a connoisseur, trained to recognize instantly the value, authenticity and history of antiques, often pierces the deception and remembers seeing the "treasured family heirlooms" somewhere else. But in the main people are gullible, and the wealthy but plebeian aspirant for social honors vaunts the business of his blood and points with pride to his hired heirlooms without much danger of discovery.

And meanwhile the crafty Pine street dealer smiles, waxes rich and echoes a celebrated remark of Puck's regarding the average intelligence of mortals.

The Hen's Plait. "What's the matter?" asked the rooster. "More absentmindedness?" "Yes," replied the hen. "I can never find things where I lay them."—Philadelphia Record.

ARE YOU DEAF? ANY HEAD NOISES?

ALL CASES OF DEAFNESS OR HARD HEARING ARE NOW CURABLE

by our new invention. Only those born deaf are incurable. HEAD NOISES CEASE IMMEDIATELY.

F. A. WERMAN, OF BALTIMORE, SAYS:

Gentlemen—Being entirely cured of deafness, thanks to your treatment, I will now give you a full history of my case, to be used at your discretion. About five years ago my right ear began to ring, and this kept on getting worse, until I lost my hearing in this ear entirely. I underwent a treatment for catarrh, for three months, without any success, consulted a number of physicians, among others, the most eminent ear specialist of this city, who told me that only an operation could help me, and even that only temporarily, that the head noises would then cease, but the hearing in the affected ear would be lost forever.

Our treatment does not interfere with your usual occupation. Examination and advice free. YOU CAN CURE YOURSELF AT HOME at a nominal cost. INTERNATIONAL AURAL CLINIC, 596 LA SALLE AVE., CHICAGO, ILL.

The young woman who died in New York private hospital under circumstances that called for an official investigation is said to be Hattie La Roque, daughter of a Montreal architect.

Bicyclists and all athletes depend on BENTLEY'S Liniment to keep their joints limber and muscles in trim.

Mr. Ferguson (looking over the household expense account)—Here's an item of $3 for charity. What does that mean?

Mrs. Ferguson—I was going to explain that. Mrs. Oudego had a ping-pong set she got the other day at a bargain for $3, and she's just going to break up housekeeping, and it will be of no use to her. It hadn't been unpatched, and she said it would be a real charity if I'd take it off her hands, and so I took it.—Chicago Tribune.

George—Well, life is worth living after all.

Jack—What has happened?

George—I went to a railway station to see my sister off, and by some chance Harry Hanson was there to see his sister off, and in the rush and noise and confusion we got mixed and I hugged his sister and he hugged mine.—New York Weekly.

For the masses not the classes, BENTLEY'S Liniment is the family medicine chest. Price 10 and 25c.

The Rev. W. S. Rainsford was telling the other day of the futility of trying to comfort people with Bible texts.

"I had an experience early in my career," the doctor said, "which made such an impression on me that it has saved me from many mistakes.

"Whenever I tried to persuade an Irish member of my flock to pay more attention to his church duties—he would make excuse that it took him all his time to earn a living, and he would touch my heart by his expatiation upon the difficulty of making money.

"But," I exclaimed in protest, 'man does not live by bread alone.'

"No, y'r reverence," replied Patrick, with ready wit. 'Sure, an' he needs a bit o' mate an' some vegetables as well.'

"That answer rises up and accuses me!" concluded the doctor, "when the temptation comes to ladle out cant in place of human sympathy and concrete aid."—New York Times.

Her Opportunity. "Mrs. Weeds," said Mr. Binks, "I asked your daughter to marry me, and she referred me to you."

"I'm sure that's very kind of Susie; but then, she always was a dutiful girl. Really, Mr. Binks, I hadn't thought of marrying again at my time of life, but since you insist suppose we make the wedding day the 20th of this month."

A Temperance Story.

"You seem rather hilarious today," the lathe remarked to the buzzsaw.

"Yes," replied the buzzsaw; "the man who runs me brought some whisky into the shop with him a little while ago."

"Well, I took two or three fingers at his expense."

Attentive to the Duties.

"Yes, I'm one of the trustees of the proposed gallery of art."

"What have you done so far?"

"So far? Why, we've eaten three annual dinners and are preparing for a fourth."

Not Good Enough.

Mr. Nucomer—I found a china collar button in the hash this morning, and—

Landlady—Nora, bring a gold plated button for Mr. Nucomer. Remember he is on the second floor.
