Ten Years of Blessed Work and Glorious Victories.

Paine's Celery Compound

Has Brought Health and New Life to the Sick and Diseased in Every part of the Civilized World.

AT THE CHANGE OF LIFE.

This trying period in a woman's life usually comes between the ages of forty and fifty years and is marked by irritability, headache, dizziness, irregular monthlies, fitful appetite, forbodings of evil, palpitation of the heart and constipation.

Dr. Chase's Nerve Food is above all a woman's medicine because it helps her safely through this trying period. It enriches the blood, strengthens the nerves, regulates the functions of the feminine organs and tones and invigorates the whole body.

For the last ten years the work of Paine's Celery Compound has been a blessed and cheering one to men and women of every rank in society.

In no one case has the great medicine failed to benefit, and where it has been used promptly, it has in every case brought a cure.

The blessed results that spring from the use of Paine's Celery Compound are not confined to this Canada of ours. The great life-giving medicine has been sent to every quarter of the civilized world, and has cured the sick, restored the weak and depressed to health and strength, and caused tens of thousands to live who failed to find health in worthless prescriptions, sarsaparillas, nervines and pills.

Paine's Celery Compound has cured when all other remedies failed. It is to this best of all medicines, Paine's Celery Compound, that we would direct the attention to every man and woman suffering from weakness, general debility, rheumatism, neuralgia, heart trouble, dyspepsia, anemia, blood diseases, liver complaint and kidney trouble.

Thousands of grateful letters have poured in testifying to wonderful and permanent cures. It is foolish and criminal to delay the use of such a disease banisher when others have so clearly demonstrated its value; when many of your friends and neighbors have been made well by its use.

The health-giving virtues are so eminently great that the ablest physicians are prescribing Paine's Celery Compound daily for the sick. If you are weak physically, in the grasp of disease, or simply feeling out-of-sorts, irritable, sleepless or despondent, try one bottle of Paine's Celery Compound, and note well the magical effects.

The Call of San Francisco states that four big express companies of the country—the Adams, the American, the United States and the Wells Fargo—may merge into one corporation. It says that "word comes by private message from the east, that E. H. Harriman, President of the Southern Pacific Company, will be elected to the Presidency of the Wells-Fargo Express Company at the next annual meeting of the stockholders."

The paper adds that Harriman may be selected as president of the proposed company.

At Chatham on Tuesday afternoon of last week, Miss Mary Williston, daughter of Mr. Luther Williston, and Mr. Wilson Trevors of Douglasfield, were married in St. Mary's church by Rev. Canon Forsythe. After the ceremony a reception at which there were many guests, was held at the residence of the groom's father, Mr. Joseph Trevors.

Two young men employed at a manufacturing establishment in Fredericton, got into a dispute last week over a trifling matter and agreed to settle the matter with their fists. They selected seconds and in the evening drove out to a country resort, but being unable to gain admittance, returned to town and pulled of the mill in a barn. It lasted about 10 minutes, at the end of which time one of the contestants was pretty badly used up. The affair has created considerable talk about the city and the chief actors are said to be heartily ashamed of their conduct. It is hinted that there is a woman in the case.

The manufacture of steel at Sydney will give the Canadian nail men a supply of raw material independent of the United States Steel and Wire Trust. Reports say the new company will be capitalized at $500,000.

The Sackville Tribune presented its first issue on Thursday. It is a well-printed, seven-column folio sheet, published by the Tribune Printing Company, C. C. Avard manager. The Tribune makes no rash promises, political or otherwise, except to devote itself particularly to local interests. It has an excellent show of advertising, which bespeaks for it a large interest in the community.

The sale is announced of Cook Brothers' timber limits on the north shore of Georgian Bay, comprising 300 square miles of territory, with mills, etc., owned by the firm, Geo. W. Cook and Geo. J. Cook, and Wm. Lunness, the late manager of part of Cook Brothers' properties. The price paid is said to be $1,250,000. At a meeting of the Board of Trade, Toronto, on motion of C. B. Watts and A. E. Kemp, M. P., passed a resolution that if Great Britain should place a tax on products similar to those produced in Canada, a preference in that taxation should be given to the products grown within the Empire. In the preamble there was a phrase drawing attention to the fact that Canada had shown a desire to strengthen the bonds binding the Empire together by her participation in the war in South Africa, but this was struck out as rather a palpable bid for trade concessions in return for the performance of patriotic duty. The resolution will be sent to Sir Wilfrid Laurier for transmission to Mr. Chamberlain at once before the British budget is brought down.

The recent storms cost Ottawa a neat sum. The pay sheets show the expenditure to have been $3,100. Of this amount $2,000 was spent in cleaning the streets after the heavy snowfall of a week ago.

E. B. Eddy, the paper manufacturer, vigorously denies the existence of anything that could be called a combine. Manufacturers would not be affected, he said, by the decrease of duty. Mr. Eddy said the wiping out of the whole duty would not affect Canadian prices, for the makers were now selling in Canada at 2 7-8 cents, while United States paper makers were now selling paper in New York at three cents.

HARCOURT NOTES.

Miss Nellie O. Humphrey, second daughter of I. B. Humphrey, station agent at Harcourt, died at her father's residence on Thursday evening, last after several months' illness of consumption. Miss Humphrey taught school at Smith's Corner, Grangeville, at Harcourt, and was held in high esteem by the pupils under her charge in these several places. Bright, cheerful, of a happy disposition, and the picture of health until her illness, deceased was a favorite wherever known, and her demise at an early age—only twenty-one years—will be heard with sincere regret. For the bereaved parents and relatives there is the most heartfelt sympathy in the community and elsewhere.

The funeral yesterday was largely attended not only by the residence of Harcourt and vicinity, but by many from Moncton, Newcastle and other places on the I. C. R. The body was removed to the Wesleyan church, where there was an impressive general service, conducted by Rev. D. B. Bayley, who also officiated at the grave. The pall-bearers were Woodville Ingram, J. F. R. McMichael, John A. Wachen, Gilbert L. Keswick, Fred Lockhart and Newton Lutz. The imports of France for the month of January decreased 33,142,000 francs and the exports for the same month increased 28,967,000 francs.

GOLD IN YOUR GARRET.

In many thousands of garrets and attics women have gold stored away and are not aware of it. It is not in coins, nuggets or bars that the gold is held, neither is it in bank notes or bonds; it is there in the form of cast off and faded clothing, garments and materials that can be turned into a gold value by the use of Diamond Dyes.

At a cost of ten cents you can re-color a dress, skirt, jacket, cape, blouse or waist, and make them as good and stylish as new ones purchased in a store. With one or two packages of Diamond Dyes you can give new life and beauty to your husband's overcoat or suit thrown aside perhaps for the rag gatherer. Your cotton and wool rags re-dyed with Diamond Dyes will make up handsome mats or rugs that will add to the comfort of your home. All the work and transformations suggested will give you results that have a gold value.

BEN FRANKLIN'S PURCHASE

An Old Electrical Machine Dating Back to the Revolution.

Nearly every schoolboy of a generation ago was familiar with the frictional electricity machine, never of very much practical value, but of great interest to youthful minds on account of the spark that could be made to pass from condenser to youthful finger. Nowadays the size of the spark has increased as the size of the machine has diminished, but an example of the earlier type is still preserved at the Jefferson physical laboratory at Harvard, where an interesting collection of antiquated pieces of apparatus gives the visitor to Cambridge an opportunity to compare the earliest with the latest methods of studying physics and astronomy.

This special piece, moreover, is particularly interesting in that it was originally purchased for the college by Benjamin Franklin when acting as American commissioner to France during the Revolutionary war. It is a cumbersome affair that would require a horse and a small wagon or a whole automobile to move, but the principle on which it is based is the same as in its modern successors. Aside from size the most noticeable difference is in the use of a glass globe about a foot in diameter to produce the electricity by friction instead of the big circular glass plate seen in later machines.

Despite its size and the big globe, however—which is supported on posts resembling those of a colonial four poster bed—the old machine never exceeded a spark two inches long and was even proud of that modest performance. How modest it really was may be seen by comparison with a modern machine in the next case, so much smaller than Franklin's that it can be held in one hand, that produces a spark of electricity of nearly seven inches.

Why He Hesitated. The Brooklyn Citizen prints an experience of a man who traveled all over Europe and declares that he did not meet but one person who hesitated over the acceptance of a fee:

I was wandering through an old graveyard in an English town and had stopped before a stone which had not been long in place. A man who must have been following me stepped up and said:

"Ah, sir, but she who lies here will be missed for years to come! She was for half a lifetime the president of the charity board."

In an absentminded way I handed him a sixpence, said the traveler. He received it, turned it over in his hand in a hesitating way and finally stammered:

"As she was my own wife, sir, and as I was here to plant flowers on her grave, perhaps it would not be exactly proper to accept a fee."

I replied that but for him I might never have known about her being president of the board, and he swallowed his scruples and pocketed the sixpence with one motion and with evident satisfaction.
