footsteps in the corridor increased his excitement. We tip-toed across the room and stood so that the opening door would hide us from view. The footsteps ceased at the door of the room . there was a low knock, the door moved upon its binges, someone entered, the door closed again, and we saw a beautifully-dressed woman walking across the room towards the window.

At the sound made by our movements she turned and, to his utter astonishment Elsmore found himself face to face with Lilian. For a moment he stared at her in dumb astonishment. Her_eyes twinkled mischievously.

"Lilian!" he gasped, at length. "What on earth are you doing here?"

"I came in answer to Frederick's advertisement," she answered.

"Frederick's advertisement?" he echoed. "What advertisement?"

"The cipher advertisement in yester-

The Rhenmatic Fiends.

"I have been in the business for nine years," says a drug clerk quoted by the Philadelphia Record, "and up to date I have learned of 3.097 cures for rheumatism which regularly licensed physicians know nothing about-or, at least, if they do, they don't recommend them. People come in suffering from rheumatism-and it's queer that people who suffer from rheumatism all seem to look and act alike-and present a doctor's prescription.

"The first thing they want to know is how much it's going to cost. I look over the prescription and tell them, and then they invariably rear up on their hind legs and howl. They tell me about the virtues of something that cured Uncle Henry-goat's milk, drunk at 3 o'clock every morning: a raw onion carried in the left hand hip pocket, horsechestnut carried in the vest a pocket, magnetic rings-oh, all sorts of things that I've made notes of. It has become so that I am discouraged over the chances of filling a prescription for a rheumatic patient."

A Difficult Feat.

In the old days of western Pennsylvania, when the people had little money to pay for teachers and could spare their boys but little time from the work of the field, school "kept" almost incessantly during the few weeks when it was in session, with no Saturday holidays and very brief recesses. At one little schoolhouse among the mountains an old fashioned Irish schoolmaster was once employed who kept his boys grinding steadily at their tasks, but gave them permission to nibble from their lunch baskets sometimes as they worked.

One day, while the master was instructing a class in the rule of three, he noticed that one of the pupils was paying more attention to a piece of apple pie than to the lesson. "Arrah, there!" said the master. "Jack Bales. be listenin' to the lisson, will ye!" "I'm listening, sir," said the boy. "Listenin', is it!" exclaimed the master. "Then it's listenin' wid one ear ye are an' atin' poi wid the other!"

HAD NERVOUS PROSTRATION.

Mrs. S. W. West, Drayton, Ont., states: "I got terribly ran down, and finally became a victim of nervous prostration. I had no appetite, seemed to lose interest and ambition and could scarcely drag myself about. Hearing of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food 1 used three boxes with great benefit, gaining eleven pounds. It made me

As she spoke she took out the little box and handed it to me, and taking out the ring I slipped it on her finger.

Elsmore turned and looked at Lawson who was watching him, a smile of amusement playing about the corners of his mouth.

"You knew!" he said.

Lawson laughed and nodded. "Well, I'm jiggered!" he said. "What a sell! By Jove, Lawson, but they fooled me to the top of my bent!" Then a roar of hearty laughter filled the room, and we knew that not only had our ruse succeeded but also that we were forgiven.

DESPAIRED OF BEING CURED.

Mrs. W. E. Jeffries, 44 Hicks Ave., Kingston, Ont., states : "I suffered agony with itching piles. In fact, I don't believe that any person who has not had piles can realize what I endured. The first application of Dr. Chase's Ointment brought relief and it has since entirely cured me. I hope that this testimonial will be the means of bringing comfort to other sufferers by making known 'the great power of this ointment."

The Canadian provincial premiers, Ross of Ontario, Murray. of Nova Scotia, Tweedie of New Brunswick, Roblin of Manitoba, Peters of Prince Edward Island, Dunsmuir of British Columbia and Haultain of the Northwest Territories; also Provincial Treasurer Duffy of Que. bec, again conferred on Wednesday. They discussed the expense of the maintenance of lieutenant governor, and decided to confer with Mr. Chamberlain with a view of easing the burden in the provinces, and also to ask for a decision in regard to authoritative precedence and the official status of provincial ministers.

servance. The husband, surrounded by a bodyguard of twenty or thirty young men, carries his wife home on his back in a scarlet cloth and is desperately assaulted the whole way by a number of girls.

Sticks and stones are hurled at the bridegroom, who, in the coming home with his bride, can hardly be considered a very happy man, for the irate amazons often inflict on him marks which he carries to the grave. It may be that among the lady pursuers are some of the bridegroom's former "flames," who turn the mock attack into downright earnest to avenge slighted love.

An Excited Vision.

"Baptizing days" are great events among the negroes of the south. On took two candidates, one a middle aged, sedate, quiet man, the other a young, excitable fellow, well out in the stream, where the water was waist deep. He put the older one down first, who came up, folded his arms and looked dignified and pious.

The younger one, after being put under, came up greatly excited and shouting: "Glory! Glory! I seed de Lord! I seed him in de water-right down dar at de bottom!"

The older one, patting him on the shoulder, said: "Hush, honey; hush. Dat warn't de Lord. 1 seed it. It was nothin' but a terrapin."

How Lincoln Felt.

In 1862, says a writer in the Kansas City Journal, Colonel Alexander of To-President Lincoln, visited him at Washington and found him in a greatly de- unded holding her for ransom. pressed state of mind.

"This being president isn't all it is cracked up to be, is it, Mr. Lincoln?" inquired Colonel Alexander.

"No," said Lincoln, his eyes twinkling momentarily. "I feel sometimes like the Irishman who, after being ridden on a rail, said, 'Begorry, if it wasn't for the honor av the thing. I'd rather walk!" "

An Ancient River.

In Long Island sound, not far from the north shore of the island, is clearly defined the channel of an ancient river. As shown by the United States coast survey, it is a gorge, having a depth of about sixty feet below the general floor of the sound on either side of it. The gorge or channel was cut into the bedrock of gneiss, the erosion of which is exceedingly slow.
