PROVINCIAL POLITICS.

Now that Premier Tweedie has returned from England, interest in provincial politics has revived. It is generally believed that the elections will be held this fall, though there is nothing to prevent another session before the expiration of the term of the present legislature. Of late years however, neither federal nor provincial parliaments have been allowed to live out their full terms. The only exception to this rule was the Dominion Parliament elected in 1891 and the fate which befell the Conservative government when it next appealed to the country was not calculated to bring about a repetition of the experiment. While it is possible that the present provincial government may decide to hold another session before calling on an election, it is pretty generally believed that this will not be done and already in several constituencies active preparations for the struggle have been begun. The Labour party in the City of Saint John has set the ball rolling by nominating two candidates for the City, Messrs. Geo. V. McInerney and W. F. Hatheway. Mr. McInerney is well known to the people of Kent, having represented this constituency in the Dominion Parliament from 1892 till the last general election, when he was defeated by Mr. LeBlanc. In Kent County very little interest has been taken up to the present time in the approaching contest, but no doubt when the election is called on the feeling will grow warmer. It is reported that Richard Poirier, one of our present representatives, will not seek re-election and that his place on the government ticket will be taken by John B. Gogain, of Cocagne. The government candidates will in that event be Messrs. Barnes, Johnson and Gogain. The only other candidate so far announced is Pascal Hebert, of Rexton, as an independent supporter of the government. Mr. Hebert is conducting an active and energetic canvass, and in case he is unable to secure running mates, declares he will enter the contest single handed. No doubt other candidates will appear when the time arrives and we may expect the usual election excitement.

COURT COSTUME AND CEREMONIES.

It has always been the aim of

British Courts and those in authority to clothe the bench and all who are concerned in the administration of the law with every outward mark of dignity. For this reason the proceedings are conducted with the greatest degree of formality and impressiveness. It has been found that there is a safeguard in formality and ceremony in courts, and to lightly throw these aside would be to lessen the esteem in which the law is held in the eyes of the general public. British courts and court officials are therefore wigged, gowned and clothed in the most dignified and impressive costumes and proceedings are conducted with the same ceremonies and formalities in use hundreds of years ago. In this country there has been a tendency to break away from many of the old forms and ceremonies. The gown and court costume, however, with the exception of the wig, are still in use and proceedings still retain much of their old formality and impressiveness. In the United States there has been a still greater tendency to do away with the traditional court costume and in the Western States it is a common occurrence for a judge to sit on the bench with a cigar in his mouth or in his shirt sleeves, with his feet on the table and with as little formality in the proceedings as would attend an evening meeting in a village store. The average man is not much impressed with the sacredness of the law or its majesty if he sees judges and court officials conduct the proceedings in this loose and undignified manner. The result has been that the western court has lost the reverence in which it is held in the east and this loss has not served to increase the popular respect for law and order. A western journal deplors this fact and adds: "There are certain relations of life in which the essential thing may be sought with little reference to forms, but in the large conducts of society there is a positive influence that flows from formal procedure that may not be omitted. To put the need in one word, we should say that in our daily life we have very largely lost sight of that beautiful and essential thing, the majesty of the law. It has become dimmed and faded insensibly until its very existence may sometimes be questioned. We need a more formal, a more rigid, a more exacting administration in all processes, and we need whatever will tend to help toward this end. Above all, there ought to be an end of the present influence that pervades everywhere, and a revival of the sense of the sacredness of law, a realization that its majesty is an absolute and actual thing that is to be revered on all occasions."

CHAMPIONS OF THE NORTH SHORE.

Richibucto Crescents First.

Some days ago the Chatham Stars wrote to the Crescents of Richibucto asking for two games of base ball. The Crescents had already beaten the Royals of Chatham and so the Stars wrote eulogizing their team, stating that they had beaten all the teams in Northumberland County and were the Northumberland champions. Our team offered to play them one game on Labor Day, the Stars accepted the offer. The game was advertised through THE REVIEW. The Stars flunked, crawled into the hole, sneaked, backed water, stayed at home, lost the Championship, and are now small potatoes. Word was received from a Chatham friend that the Stars challenged the Crescents in the first place to make the latter take a back seat, it is the Stars who have gone away back and sat down. In the meantime, the Royals asked for a game, were accepted, and Sunday at noon the manager of the Crescents received a telegram, to collect, stating that the Royals had flunked. The question arises, has Chatham any more flunks? Our boys have met eighteen flunks from that town, that is sufficient. In the meantime the Crescents have earned the championship of the county of Kent and Northumberland and can rest on their laurels.

KILLED AT REXTON.

P. E. I. SEAMAN RECEIVES INJURY BY A FALL FROM WHICH HE DIES.

On Monday evening, September 1st, as William Fraser was walking up the run to the mill at Burns' mill, Rexton, he stepped on a roller and, slipping, fell over, striking his side on the foundation timber upon which the run is built. He died on Wednesday morning at half past four o'clock. The deceased is a native of Montague, P. E. Island, and was fifty-seven years of age, leaving a wife, four sons and two daughters. He was a seaman on the schooner Fannie Young of Montague, Capt. F. Lemon, loading lumber at Rexton for Sydney.

The remains were taken in charge by undertaker O. K. Black and fitted for burial, and the schooner sailed with the remains for Montague on Wednesday evening. The interment will be made at that place.

Capt. Lemon wishes to express his sincere thanks to the people of Rexton and Richibucto for their kindness.

BABY'S OWN TABLETS.

Help Little Babies and Young Children in All Their Minor Illnesses.

When your child—whether it is a big child or little baby—suffers from stomach or bowel troubles of any kind, is nervous, fidgety or cross and doesn't sleep well, give Baby's Own Tablets. This medicine is the quickest and surest cure—and the safest, because it contains no opiate or harmful drug. No matter how young or how feeble your little one is the Tablets can be given with a certainty that the result will be good. For very young infants crush the Tablets to a powder. Mrs. Geo. W. Porter, Thorold, Ont., says:—"My baby had indigestion badly when he was about three months old. He was constantly hungry and his food did him no good as he vomited it as soon as he took it. He was very thin and pale and got but little sleep, as he cried nearly all the time, both day and night. He was constipated; his tongue coated and his breath bad. Nothing did him any good until I got Baby's Own Tablets, and after giving him these a short time he began to get better. His food digested properly; his bowels became regular, he began to grow, and is now a big, healthy boy. I always keep the Tablets on hand and can recommend them to other mothers."

The Tablets can be obtained at any drug store or you can get them by mail, post paid, at 25 cents a box by writing direct to The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont., or Schenectady, N. Y.

TENNIS TOURNAMENT.

Richibucto Again Defeats Harcourt.

The Wacissa Tennis Club of Harcourt played a return tournament with the Richibucto Tennis Club on the latter's grounds at the residence of H. H. James, Esq., on Saturday last. The day was perfect, but hot, the hottest day of the season. The Harcourt players drove through and arrived here at an early hour. Dinner was served the visitor at the Kent Hotel. Play commenced at one o'clock with the Rev. Geo. L. Freebern and A. E. Pearson as alternately referees. Several friends accompanied the Harcourt players. The Rexton Tennis Club were present in full force. A large number of people from the town witnessed the play. Icecream and cool drinks were served during the afternoon. At tea time, the members of the three clubs and friends adjourned to the adjoining garden where the cravings of the inner man were amply appeased. The committee, Miss Caie and Miss Hudson, who had this branch of the tournament in charge, are to be complimented for its successful issue. At the close of the tournament cheers were given for the respective clubs. Some very pleasant remarks were made by Rev. G. L. Freebern, H. H. James, Esq., and others. The gathering dispersed with the singing of the National Anthem. There were nine tournaments played, Richibucto capturing seven. In the gent's' doubles it was best two in three sets, while the remaining six were single deuce and advantage sets, below are the players and scores.
