"Because I Love You."

The reproduction of the drama, "Because I Love You" on the evening of Labor Day, was a success. The new stage gave plenty of acting space and still allowed sufficient room for out of door scenery; the parlor decoration of the third act was extremely tasty. Considering the limited supply of scenery, the scenic effect was excellent. Each participant demonstrated an individual ability to sustain their respective parts. The R. A. D. C. has maintained its position as a club of no mean dramatic ability. The entrance fee having been cut down makes total receipts much less than they would have been at the regular prices. Although the house would be called a fifty dollar house, still the proceeds were only thirty dollars.

Richibucto can now feel proud in possessing such an excellent hall and such a superior stage. Just a little work and a little push and such public conveniences are given to the public free from debt.
