The Moncton Transcript says: Mr. W. A. Trenholm, of the Audit Office, I. C. R., who was spending Xmas with his father, Mr. Hiram Trenholm, of Point du Bute, met with a serious mishap on Xmas day whilst skating on the ice he caught the toe of his skate in the shelly ice and fell, breaking a bone of the left leg. DORCHESTER, Dec. 26.—A company of 112 invited guests gathered at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Albert E. Oulton, Upper Point de Bute, last evening, Dec. 25th, to witness the marriage of their niece Miss Lily T. Oulton to Mr. R. Frank Tingley, of Upper Dorchester. As the wedding march was being skillfully played on organ and piano by the Misses Cole and Richardson the bride entered the large parlors leaning on the arm of her uncle. The ceremony was performed by Rev. B. H. Thomas assisted by Rev. Thomas Marshall. A unique feature of the ceremony was the dual ring service. A most elaborate wedding supper was served. An unusually large list of valuable presents attested the popularity of the bride. Among the guests were Rev. Thos. Marshall and Mrs. Marshall, Point de Bute, Dr. and Mrs. Cook, of Sackville. Mr. and Mrs. Tingley will reside in Upper Dorchester.

CHARLOTTETOWN, P. E. I., Dec. 26.—Tuesday night John Donalds, waiter in Harry Connolly's saloon, shot Wm. Power in the thigh. Power, on being refused a drink, attempted an assault on the waiter. When shot, Power left the saloon, but fell while crossing the gardens. He was removed to the hospital. The doctors were unable to locate the bullet.

WOODSTOCK, N. B., Dec. 26.—This morning, Amasa Turney, son of the late Thomas Turney, of Plymouth, this county, aged about 33 years, went into the woods to fell some trees. BRIDGEWATER, N. S., Dec. 26.—One of the saddest drowning accidents that has ever occurred here and one that has shocked the entire community occurred yesterday. Four boys, who were skating on La Have, above Cook's Mills, went through the weak ice and were drowned. Their names were Ferry and Mervill Rhodenbrser, aged 14 and 12, sons of Mrs. Stephen Rhodenbrser; Curry Hubley, aged 12, whose birthday was Christmas day, son of Cyrus Hubley; and George Bachman, aged 10, son of James Bachman. The boys were last seen at 11.30 o'clock in the morning and as they did not appear to dinner, search was made and their caps were found floating on the water. The bodies were grappled for and recovered at 2.30 p. m. Coroner March held an inquest, the result of which was a verdict of accidental drowning.

CHARLOTTETOWN, P. E. I., Dec. 26.—Late last night four men forced their way into a boarding house kept by Mrs. McAuley, at Annandale. It is said that the inmates used all possible means to keep them out but failed. Dennis Brown, one of the number, received a bullet in the abdomen. The victim died in dreadful agony shortly afterwards.

It is alleged that Captain John Warren, a boarder, did the shooting.

It is stated that Warren was in bed and when he came downstairs he told the intruders to leave. He had a revolver in his hand. No attention was paid to him and when he was set upon the revolver was discharged. Warren claims he did the shooting in self-defence. Brown was considered the quietest of the whole crowd. He leaves a wife and family. It is expected that arrests will be made to-night.

Donald, who shot Wm. Power, is being tried this morning. The wounded man's condition is not favorable, the doctors failing to find the bullet. The X-rays will be used to-morrow.

Frank Kelly, of Monaghan road, died Christmas evening, the result of injuries received by being thrown from a horse. The animal stumbled, throwing Kelly forward. The fall resulted in total paralysis.

SACKVILLE, Dec. 26.—The death of Mrs. McDougall occurred here on Tuesday morning about eleven o'clock. Deceased was the wife of F. McDougall, manager of the Royal Bank. She had been in Victoria Hospital, Montreal, for five weeks, and returned home last Sunday evening. Much sympathy is extended to the husband and three small children who mourn the loss of a devoted wife and loving mother.

St. JOHN, Dec. 26.—The death occurred at 1 30 o'clock on Xmas morning at the residence of D. J. McLaughlin, Leinster street, of Captain M. A. Akerley, of Fredericton. The nature of his demise was exceptionally sad. He had arrived from Fredericton last night, in apparently good health, and went to Mr. McLaughlin's home. Heart failure is attributed as the cause of death. His wife survives.

HOPWELL HILL, Dec. 26.—The death occurred last evening at the home of Alex. Rogers of Miss Maria Reynolds after a three weeks' illness of typhoid fever with pneumonia and heart weakness. Deceased was 22 years of age and was a native of Caplin Cove, Nfld. She had been living at this place about two years, during which time she had won the respect of all. She leaves a father, mother, one brother and four sisters, one of whom is Miss Dora Reynolds, of this place, who has the deep sympathy of the community in her bereavement. Deceased was a member of the Methodist church and of Golden Rule division No. 51, Sons of Temperance, of this place.

CANADA'S SURPLUS.

A DEFICIT OF $488,186 FOR THE INTER-COLONIAL RAILWAY.

OTTAWA, Dec. 27.—The Public Accounts blue book for the fiscal year ending June 30 last was distributed to-day. The exact surplus over the ordinary expenditure was $5,648,335, the net receipts being $52,514,701.

The revenue from the Intercolonial Railway was $4,972,235 compared with $4,552,071 last year, an increase of $420,164. The expenditure was $5,460,423, an increase of $1,029,017. The difference between the revenue and the expenditure for the year shows a deficit of $488,186. On locomotives alone there was an increase in expenditure this year over last of $655,915; on cars $124,024; on maintenance of ways $188,285; on station expenses $9,324; on general expenses $62,300 and on car mileage $2,844. There was a decrease of $24,017 in the rental of leased lines which makes the total increase in expenditure of $1,029,017, or $608,853 greater than in the previous year.

From Confederation until 1900 inclusive the net deficits in operating the I. C. R. totalled $8,115,307. From 1873 to 1898 both inclusive there were deficits every year. In 1899 and 1900 under Mr. Blair there were surpluses totalling $358,892 or more than one-half of the total surpluses since Confederation which were only $637,741. The deficits which exceeded those of last year were as follows: 1874, $954,495; 1875, $695,547; 1877, $605,159; 1878, $518,027; 1879, $813,540; 1890, $642,170; 1891, $767,376; 1892, $612,204. In 1888 the deficit was $454,824.

The Dominion of Canada surpluses under Liberal rule are as follows: 1898, $1,722,712; 1899, $4,837,749; 1900, $8,054,714; 1901, $5,648,355, grand total for four Liberal years of $20,263,510 surpluses as against deficits totalling $6,214,742 in the four preceding years under the Tory tariff policy. In the three succeeding years 1899, 1900 and 1901 the Liberals have the three largest surpluses in Canada's history despite the war special expenditure.

A NEW WRITER OF THE "HOOSIER SCHOOL."

With General Lew Wallace and James Whitcomb Riley as its deans, the "Hoosier School" of poets and authors is assuming a prominent place in the field of American letters. The late Maurice Thompson and Charles Major and Booth Tarkington have each contributed and are still adding to its fame, and now a comparatively new name is written beside these: Frederick M. Smith. Mr. Smith is a native of Indiana, who confesses that he has "been trying to learn to write for ten years," and also that the reason his writings haven't appeared oftener is not so much his fault as the editors'. One of his first stories to attract general attention was "The Blue Gown that Wouldn't Fit," which came out in The Ladies' Home Journal last August. Since then he has contributed a short romance called "Christine" to the same magazine, and an interesting note about this tale is that it is not wholly a "child of invention." The material for it was gathered in Germany, where the writer finished his education.

For Cuts, Wounds, Chilblains, Chapped Hands, Rheumatism, Stiff Joints, Burns, Scalds, Bites of Insects, Croup, Coughs, Colds, Hagyard's Yellow Oil will be found an excellent remedy. Price 25 cents. All dealers.

KILLED HIS MOTHER IN A NIGHTMARE.

KRAUSE SAYS HE DREAMED ABOUT A HORRIBLE SNAKE AND TORE HER JAWS APART.

CLEVELAND, Dec. 26.—Suffering from a horrible nightmare Henry C. Krause went from his own room to that of his mother, strangled her to death, then returned to his own bed and slept till morning before he had discovered what he had done.

Krause is twenty-seven years of age and a young man of exemplary habits. He lived with his widowed mother at No. 60 Rogers street. The first that was known of the crime was when Krause, accompanied by the Rev. J. H. Wefel, pastor of the Lutheran Church on Cable street, entered the Sixth Precinct Station this morning. There he told what he had done.

According to his story, he had a horrible dream some time during Friday night. He thought he saw a brilliantly colored snake crawling over his mother's face. She was asleep and he thought the snake was going to kill her. Mad with fear, he ran to her room. Creeping stealthily to her bedside and summoning all his strength, he grabbed the serpent by its jaws in an effort to tear them apart.

He says he heard a cry, "Henry you are killing me," but he pulled the harder, and the serpent was soon dead. Afterward he awoke in a cold perspiration, and the full force of the dream came to him. At once he went to his mother's room, and was horrified to find her dead.

He had torn her jaws apart as he had thought he was tearing those of the snake, and blood was upon her face. At first he could not realize what he had done.

Covering the body, he remained in the house for a short time and then went to the house of the Rev. Mr. Wefel. Together they went to the police station.

Krause was locked up on his own confession, and officers who were sent to the house shortly confirmed the truth of the story he had told.

While Krause was telling his story to Lieut. Felhaber he talked rationally enough, but he soon became frenzied and shortly afterward it was apparent that he was a raving maniac.

Krause had been employed for fourteen years by the Sherwin Williams Paint Company and was a good workman. On Thursday afternoon he said he was not feeling well, and the foreman sent him home.

It is possible that he was insane when he committed the murder, but the police are inclined to believe that he was not. They say that an insane man would not have taken the trouble to invent such a story as Krause told, and they think his mind was unbalanced by the horror of the discovery that he had killed his mother.

A SAD XMAS.

A P. E. ISLANDER AND SEVERAL NOVA SCOTIAN SAILORS DROWNED.

GLOUCESTER, MASS., Dec. 26.—The happiness of the Christmas season in this city was sadly marred by the news of the past week that two of the Gloucester fishing vessels and their crews will never more return to port.

The crew list of the schooner Iolanthe was given out last week, which meant the loss of that vessel and her crew of 14 men. Now it is the schooner Eliza H. Parkhurst and crew of seven. This vessel left the Bay of Islands, Nfld., on Sunday, Nov. 24, for this port, with a full cargo of salt herring. This makes over four weeks in passage, the distance being usually covered in one week, and it is the belief that she foundered in the gale in the Gulf of St. Lawrence the day after her departure. All the vessels that sailed before and after have arrived home or have been reported, and those vessels which sailed at the same time state that the voyage across the gulf was terribly rough. The crew were as follows:

John D. McKinnon, captain, 49 years old, a native of Grand River, P. E. I., leaves a widow and five small children in this city; Captain George Moody, mate, 26 years old, single, belonged in Liverpool, N. S.; Angus McLean, cook, 42 years of age, native of Cape Breton; Alexander McLean, belonged in Malogawatch, C. B.; George D. Strachan, 44 years old, belonged to Hall's Cove, N. S.; Simeon Keeping, 23 years old, native of Britton; Lawrence McDonald, a resident for many years, who went to the Bay of Islands in company with a Mr. Davis, to catch herring, and took passage on the Parkhurst, his companion coming home overland. He was married.

The Eliza H. Parkhurst was one of the finest vessels sailing from this port. She was of 121 tons gross, built at Essex in 1892, and owned by Mr. Fred L. Davis. She was valued with outfit at $7,000, on which there was an insurance of $5,500.

She's as White as a Ghost.
