

AGRICULTURE.

PROTECTION OF LAMBS AND GEESE.—It is but little known, but is nevertheless a fact, says the Portland Mirror, that a little tar rubbed on the necks of young lambs or geese, will prevent the depredation of foxes among them, these animals having an unconquerable aversion to the smell of tar.

MANGEL WURTZEL.—At the Doncaster Agricultural Society, Lord Althorpe described an interesting experiment which he made to ascertain the comparative merits of Swedish Turnips and Mangel Wurtzel, in the fattening of cattle; the result of which went to prove the superiority of the latter. His lordship further observed that during the present draught season, when the turnips had nearly been burnt up, or destroyed by the fly, Mangel Wurtzel had flourished, and was an abundant crop.—(Farmer's Journal.)

FATTENING FOWLS WITH POTATOES.—There is a great profit in feeding geese, turkeys and fowls of every sort, with potatoes and meal mixed, they will fatten in nearly one half the time that they will on any kind of corn, or even meal by itself. The potatoes must be bruised fine, while they are hot, and the meal added,—when the mess is given to them.

A COMPOSITION FOR THE SHOES OF GARDENERS.—Take one pint of boiled linseed oil, two ounces yellow wax, one ounce Burgundy pitch, two ounces spirit of turpentine. Melt the ingredients well together, over a slow fire, and apply the composition to the shoes with an ordinary brush, repeating the operation as often as the ointment will dry in the sun.—This composition not only renders the shoes more impervious to wet, but preserves and gives a tone to the leather, and enables it afterwards to take an exceedingly fine polish from blacking. It would, therefore, recommend its use, not only for strong shoes to gardeners, farmers, sportsmen, &c. who are obliged to be much exposed to the wet, but for shoes and boots in general. The composition may be kept in an earthen cup or gallipot for a length of time, and laid by for use as occasion requires.—Gardener's Magazine.

CURE FOR BLOATING IN CATTLE.—The Volatile Spirit of Ammonia is said to be used in France with great success in the cure of bloating, a disease arising from excessive eating of green grass. 'Its action is chemical,' says the American Citizen, 'decomposing the gas generated in the stomach by fermentation.' We suppose the gas generated is the carbonic, and that the Ammonia does not decompose but unites with it. We know not why lime water would not have the same effect.

WHEAT.—The quality of this crop has improved within a few years from the attention paid in selecting soil and preventing smut. The method of sowing the seed in brine, and intermixing lime with it before sowing, is become more general, and is found to be a certain prevention against smutty grain.—Albany County Agricultural Report.

TO PREVENT THE DEPREDATIONS OF WEEVIL.—Whoever will take the trouble to gather Elder stalks and leaves, and put plenty of it among their wheat while mowing it away, will find it in a state of preservation at threshing time.—Western Tiller.
