SCHEDIASMA.

MIRAMICHI:

TUESDAY MORNING AUGUST 23, 1831.

The Courier arrived with the Southern Mail on Saturday at 6 o'clock, P. M.

We have no later intelligence from Europe to communicate than our last number contained; we have, however, culled from our late English papers, a variety of extracts upon European affairs, which will be found interesting

We congratulate our readers, and every well wisher of the Province, upon the formation of a Company lately established in England, for the purchase and occupation of eligible tracts of ungranted lands in New Brunswick. The speculation involves very enlarged and humane views; and we sincerely hope that all its benevolent designs will be speedily and fully realized. That good often results from evil, is, in the present instance familiarly and agreeably illustrated. The late discussion on the colonial timber duties, has introduced us to a remote acquaintance with the people of Great Britain; and we feel assured, that in the same degree, as they acquire a knowledge of our localities and resources, their estimate of both will be considerably enhanced.

In our next we shall endeavour to direct public attention to the consideration of this subject.

PROSPECTUS OF THE NEW-BRUNSWICK COMPANY.

THIS Company has been formed with a view of purchasing extensive tracts of uncleared Lands in the Province of New Brunswick; of bringing those Lands into cultivation by the labour of Emigrants from Great Britain and Ireland; of facilitating the emigration of families, and of assisting them upon their landing and first settlement in the Colony.

To accomplish these objects, it is proposed to raise a Capital of £1,000,000, by a distribution of 20,000 shares of £50 each; no Proprietor to hold less than 2 or more than 100 shares; each Proprietor to pay £2 per share upon becoming a Subscriber, and a further sum of 3l. per Share on executing the deed of settlement, or when called for by the Directors within twelve months; further calls not to exceed 5l. per Share in any one year.

As soon as the affairs of the Company are sufficiently matured, it is intended to apply to the Crown for a Charter of Incorporation.

The Province of New Brunswick contains vast tracts of fertile Forest Lands, watered by numerous rivers, for several of which tracts the Company are in treaty, and they are enabled confidentially to state, from information grounded on experience, and acquired by persons practically acquainted with the Province, that it not only produces all the kinds of green and white crops common to England, but that it is practically well adapted for the culture of Hemp and Flax, with a climate perfectly congenial to British constitutions and habits, while it will, at the same time, require only a moderate share of the labour of able-bodied Emigrants, with a small amount of capital, to bring the purchases contemplated by the Company into a high state of cultivation. Nor is the experience by which they are influenced confined to the result of a few individual instances, as experiments have been made on a higher scale, in establishing the new Brandon and Cardigan Settlements in New Brunswick, and by the Earl of Selkirk, in the contiguous Colony of Prince Edward Island.

The Canada Company, whose Lands are at a far greater distance from the Parent State, and we have, consequently, had more inconvenience and expense to contend against, have fully realized the most sanguine expectations of the Proprietors.

Indeed, the productiveness of the new Settlements of Canada has awakened the curiosity and alarmed the jealousy of the Congress of the United States; yet, in agricultural resources, New Brunswick is by no means inferior to Canada, while it is far more conveniently situated for the importation of the necessaries required by an Infant Settlement, as well as for the exportation of its produce, New Brunswick being less distant from Great Britain than New York, and one fourth nearer than any part of the United States where Lands can be obtained by Emigrants, while the ports in the Bay of Fundy are not closed by ice in the winter.

The extent of the Company's purchase will enable them to make suitable arrangements in this country, both with persons possessed of Capital, willing to emigrate, and with parishes or districts desirous of sending to the British Colonies their able-bodied paupers for whom they cannot find employment, and the relief of whose necessities presses so heavily on the landed interest of the United Kingdom. The Company will be able to give IMMEDIATE employment to able-bodied paupers in the opening of Roads, clearing of Lands, erection of Houses, Mills, &c. it being the want of such immediate employ which proves so distressing to Emigrants on their first arrival.

The Company will afford every facility and assistance to Officers of the Naval and Military Service, and retired Officers of the Civil Service, who, wearied under listless want of occupation, may be desirous to emigrate and settle in British America, for the purpose of increasing, by industry and exertion, their present incomes, and securing to their offspring a comfortable independence.

The Company will have competent Agents, residing in New-

Brunswick, to superintend their affairs, and a sufficient number of commodious and well-appointed Vessels will be provided to ensure the punctual fulfilment of all their engagements. A medical officer will accompany each vessel, and attend the emigrants until settled upon the Lands to be assigned to them.

Under these circumstances, while the Company can confidently hold out to the Capitalist a secure and advantageous return for his investment, they can also justly claim the co-operation of the patriotic and humane, from the conviction that, by the aid of this Company, parishes, now burthened by a superabundant population, may be relieved speedily and economically, and, at the same time, Settlements essentially British will be rising up to the northward of the United States, calculated to be of important service to Great Britain in her political and commercial relations.

Another important advantage resulting to the public will be that of affording correct information to persons desirous of emigrating, thereby preventing the calamities which those invariably experience who are inveigled by a class of men who exist by plundering the unwary, and inducing them to emigrate in ill-appointed and crowded ships, merely for the gains of passage money, and whose frauds are not detected until it is too late to obtain redress.

Subscription Books are now opened for Shares in the New-Brunswick Company.

RESOLVED.—That 3000 Shares having been already subscribed for, the Managing Directors shall have power to allot, among such applicants as they may deem eligible, any further number of Shares, not to exceed 12,000, and the remaining 5000 unappropriated Shares will be disposed of by the Directors in such manner as, in their opinion, will best advance the objects of the Company.

Application for Shares to be made to the Managing Directors, at the banking-house of Messrs. FLETCHER, ROSCOE, ROBERTS and Co.; the Bank of Liverpool; and at the office of Messrs. LOWNDES and ROBINSON, Solicitors, Brunswick-street, Mastinor's, London; Bank of Scot and; Latouche's, Dublin; where books are opened for that purpose; and all further information may be obtained by applying (if by letter, post-paid) to the Managing Directors, at their Office, 19, Water-street, Liverpool.

KENT COUNTY.—The Courts of Nisi Prius, Oyer and Terminer, and General Gaol Delivery, for the above County, were opened at Liverpool, on Thursday the 18th inst. His Honor Judge Botsford, Presided, who delivered to the Grand Jury a lengthy and appropriate address.

On the civil side there were six records filed, but no causes of very great importance. Moses Gallong was indicted and convicted of the crime of Grand Larceny—having stolen from the store of Mr M'Kean, goods to a large amount. Sentenced to twelve months imprisonment at hard labour.

An indictment was also found by the Grand Inquest, against Shepherd F. Kollock, for assaulting the High Sheriff, T. Lansdown, Esq. in the execution of his duty. The defendant has for the present escaped, but we trust he may be taken and brought to trial for a charge of so grave a nature, and in which the good order and peace of the public are so materially involved. There were other indictments for common assaults, found by the Grand Jury, the particulars of which we are not informed.

GLoucester COUNTY.—On Saturday the 13th inst. an Inquest was held by Joseph Read, Esq. on view of the body of Mrs BALDWIN, of Bathurst, in consequence of various reports concerning the cause of her death; when, after a strict examination of a number of witnesses, and also an explanation of her disease, given by the medical gentleman in attendance, the Jury returned the following verdict.—That the deceased died of Delirium Tremens, occasioned by the abuse of ardent spirits.

The St John City Gazette contains the articles of the Constitution of a new Society just formed at Hopewell, under the denomination of the "Hopewell ANTI-LITIGATION Society. The first article which we copy below, clearly develops the purport of the society.

ART. 1st. In all cases of dispute arising between members of this society in settlement of accounts or otherwise, we will submit the same to referees (without council) mutually agreed on and selected from the Society by the parties, and in case the parties cannot agree, referees shall be appointed by the Society in manner hereafter provided, and in all cases the parties are to enter into sufficient bonds to abide by the decision of such referees.

SUBSCRIPTION RACES.—It will be seen by an advertisement in this day's paper, that the Annual Subscription Races will take place on Wednesday the 7th September next. A subscription list is left at the Reading Room, where such persons as are disposed to contribute towards defraying the expenses, are requested to leave their names.

Peter Stubs, Esq. has signified his intention of retiring from the Editorship of the St. Andrew's

Herald, a paper which he has conducted for some years past; it will in future be published by his son.
