

MISCELLANEOUS.

The Captain of a privateer writing to his owners an account of an engagement, informed them of his 'having had one of his HANDS shot through the nose.'

A LITERARY INTERPRETATION.—On the demise of George the Third, information of the event was forwarded, as a matter of course, to the local authorities throughout the empire. The CIRCULAR from the Home Office concluded by stating that 'His Majesty George the Fourth was to be proclaimed in THE USUAL MANNER' on a specified day. When this notice was sent to the Mayor (SCOTTICE PROVOT,) of Abroath, the worthy dignitary determined to obey the injunction to the strict letter of the law. It unfortunately happened, however, that the 'usual manner' of proclamation was by means of the town crier, who was in the daily habit of 'frightening the town from its propriety' by beating an 'unbraced drum' through the streets and advertising the sale of all commodities, the loss of stolen or strayed articles, and the notice of all shows, plays, etc., etc., etc., with most Stentorian lungs. To him the sapient Magistrate entrusted the task, and he read the document as one of his usual announcements. Having sounded his rub a dub, he gravely commenced: 'Oh, yes! oh, yes! this is to give notice that George the Fourth is King o' thae realms—an' there's twa boats wi' bonny caller (fresh) skate at the shore.' The heralds employed by Government arrived in the course of the day, and the ceremony was repeated in a manner somewhat more consistent with regal dignity.

WHAT IS LAW LIKE?—Law is like a country dance—people are led up and down in it till they are fairly tired out. Law is like a book of surgery—there is a great many terrible cases in it. It is like physic too—they that take least of it are the best off. It is like a homely gentlewoman—'very well to follow'—and like a scolding wife—very bad when it follows us. Law is like a new fashion—people are bewitched to get into it and like bad weather, most people are glad to get out of it.
