

MISCELLANEOUS.

PRINTERS have probably much more enthusiasm than any other set of men employed in mechanical labor. Their implements are the means by which the mighty stream of knowledge is purified and enlarged, and rolled onwards towards the unknown wastes of futurity.—They multiply the conceptions of genius, and enable them to speak through new symbols to ten thousand eyes at once. They are agents to unknown process, and although in part ignorant of its multifarious and remote tendencies, they have a strong consciousness that they are the conductors of the fire of genius to distant regions and times.

A doctor visiting his patient, a lady, requested to look at her tongue. She opened her mouth and put the end of her tongue out; the doctor said, put it out a little further, madam, and was under the necessity of repeating it several times, the lady only putting her tongue out a trifling distance each time. At length the doctor remarked, put it out as far as possible, madam. 'Mercy, doctor,' says she, 'you must think there is no end to a woman's tongue.'

A composition for coloring and preserving Gates, Poles, Barns, Roofs, and Timber generally from the weather.—Melt 12 ozs. rosin in an iron pot or kettle, add 8 gallons of train oil and three or four rolls of brimstone; when they are melted and become thin, add as much Spanish brown, or red or yellow ochre, or any other color you like, ground as fine as usual with oil, as will give the whole the shade wanted.—Then lay it on with a brush as hot and thin as you can. Some days after the first coat is dried, lay on a second. It is well attested that this will preserve plank for years, and prevent the weather from driving through brick walls.—Domestic Encyclopedia.

LIGHT VARNISH TO PRESERVE INSECTS.—Take a pint of spirits of wine, and a little light amber, which should be allowed to dissolve in a sauce pan for thirty eight hours; to this add a little mastic, as much red arsenic, and an equal quantity of turpentine and let it dissolve in a vessel for twenty four hours. This done, take the insect you wish to preserve, extract its entrails, and let it be well bathed for several days in spirits of wine, into which some sugar candy has been put. In this state, rub it over with the varnish at intervals until it shines; it may be thus preserved for a long time.

CHOICE OF GESE.—In choosing your Geese for the table, care should be taken that the feet and legs be yellow, which is an indignation of the bird being young; the legs of old geese are red. If recently killed, the legs will be pliable, but if stale they will generally be found dry and stiff.

MOSS MATTRESSES—made with fine moss are now getting into general use in Russia and Sweden. They are filled to a depth of twelve inches, are very elastic and wholesome, and the cost of renewing them is of course trifling.

A NOVEL UNDERTAKING.—The London Court Journal, states that 'a large establishment has been projected at Paris, for the purpose of enabling any individuals by the annual payment each of 700 francs (less than 30l.) to enjoy all the pleasures of social, with all the independence of domestic life. For that sum they are to have lodging, board, clothes and washing, the use of a library, the daily papers, billiard rooms, play, conversation, &c. The whole to be under the management of a Committee chosen by themselves. The prospectus even holds out the expectation of a country house, and free admission to the theatres!'

LACONIC ORDER OF THE DAY.—Frederic II. wrote one day to Gen. Salmon, Commander at Cleves—My dear Salmon, if the Austrians come into my territories, tell them they have mistaken their way; if they begin to argue, make them prisoners; and if they make any resistance, cut them in pieces.

HOW TO SHAKE OFF TROUBLE.—Set about doing good to somebody—put on your hat, and go and visit the sick, or the poor—enquire into their wants, and minister to them—seek out the desolate and oppressed, and tell them of the consolations of religion. I have often tried this method, and have always found the best medicine for a heavy heart.—Howard.

A shopkeeper the other day in urging a lady to buy a gown of him, said, buy enough for the sleeves, madam, and I'll throw in enough for the skirt.

He who receives a good turn should never forget it; he who does one should never remember it.—Charron.

A fool may ask more questions in an hour, than a wise man can answer in seven years.
