

ple were so enraged at the monopoly in corn by the Minister, that but for the presence of the British forces, natural deprivations would have urged them to wreak their vengeance upon the obnoxious speculator.

Wexford Election.—The following is an extract of a letter, just received by a distinguished patriot, from the Liberator.—'My dear friend,—Many thanks for the glorious triumph of the brave and noble-minded men of Wexford. I cannot express to you the delight I feel at this victory. It is the most opportune and the most valuable since the Clare election. We have but to follow it up, and Ireland will be a nation once again! Oh, how I love and respect the Catholic clergy and the honest people of Wexford! I wish I was worthy to pray for them! They are the pride and glory of Ireland!—Wexford Independent.

Steam Communication with India.—The Committee on steam navigation to India have made their report to the House of Commons, giving it as their opinion that a regular and expeditious communication with India by means of steam-boats, is an object of great importance both to Great Britain and India, and accompanying this opinion recommend a parliamentary grant of £20,000 for the purpose of ascertaining the practicability and expense of such communication by the line of the Euphrates. This route, in the opinion of the committee, besides having the prospect of being ultimately less expensive, presents many other advantages, physical, commercial, and political, over that by the Red Sea, justifying therefore the proposed outlay in bringing its practicability to the test of a decisive experiment.

The New Premier.—Lord Melbourne was brought up in the principles of whiggism, and was a great favourite with the late Mr Fox, and with Francis Duke of Bedford. He is a man of great acquirements and liberal opinions. He is said, by those who know him intimately, to have nothing aristocratic either in his notions or in his general manners. Few men are more thoroughly acquainted with the principles of political science, or less likely to be swayed by antiquated prejudices or bigotry. His conduct in reference to the reform bill was straightforward and manly. He has not bepraised himself at public meetings, but his claims to popular support have not on that account the less foundation.—Morning Advertiser.

Grey and Wellington.—Lord Grey held office as Premier for three years, seven months, and twenty-two days; his predecessor, the Duke of Wellington, not so long by nearly a year and a half.

The New Home Secretary.—Viscount Duncannon, the successor of Viscount Melbourne as Home Secretary, is a near relative of the new Premier, whose deceased consort was Lady Caroline Ponsonby, daughter of the Earl of Besborough, and sister to the noble chief commissioner of the Woods and Forests.

Decrease of Poor-rate.—A detailed account of the poor-rates in England and Wales, for the year ending March 25, 1833, has been printed, from which it appears that the whole amount levied was £3,739,381, of which £6,790,799 was expended for the relief of the poor, £254,412 in suits of law, and £1,694,669 for other purposes. The diminution, as compared with the year before, is four per cent.

Lord Grey.—The personal and political friends of Lord Grey are promoting a private subscription of £2000, to enable them to present Lady Grey with a statue of the late Premier, and the name of the Duke of Richmond is associated with that of the Duke of Sutherland, Lord Ebrington, Mr Denison, and Lord Holland, in this task of devotion to a distinguished statesman.

The King's Declaration.—The Bishop of Chester is stated to have asserted at a cold collation at Macclesfield, which was given after the consideration of a new church, that the speech attributed to the King on the occasion, when his Majesty was waited upon by the bishops, was correctly reported, his lordship having been present at its delivery.

More Changes.—It has been the intention of Lord Carlisle for some months, past to go to the continent, as soon as the parliamentary business is over. It is on this account, and on this only, that he is likely to give up the Privy Seal. Who will succeed him is not yet fixed. Lord Mulgrave is mentioned.—Sun.

Lord Duncannon.—This noble has been created a peer, by the title of Baron Duncannon of Besborough.

MARRIAGES.

At Chatham, on the 28th ultimo, by the Rev. Robert Archibald, Mr Alexander Gillis, of the parish of Glenelg, to Miss Janet Davidson, of the parish of Alnwick.

DEATHS.

Last evening, at 7 o'clock, Mrs. ELIZABETH HENDERSON, wife of Mr. Patrick Henderson, of Chatham, in the 59th year of her age. Her funeral will take place on Thursday next, at 4 o'clock, P. M. from her late residence, and her remains will be interred in St. Andrew's Church-yard. The friends and acquaintances of the family are requested to attend.

It is our painful duty this day to announce the death of the Honorable JOHN MURRAY BLISS, Senior Judge of His Majesty's Supreme Court of this Province, who departed this life on Friday evening last, at 10 o'clock, after an illness of about four weeks, aged 63 years.

Judge Bliss was a native of Massachusetts, in the United States, whence he removed on the breaking out of the Revolutionary War, and came to this Province in 1786. He practised with great success at the Bar for many years, during which time he filled the office of Solicitor General, and several other offices connected with his profession.—He represented the County of York in General Assembly for several years, and in July 1816, was elevated to the Bench, and at the same time appointed a Member of His Majesty's Council. In 1824, on the death of the Honorable Ward Chipman, then President and Commander in Chief, Judge Bliss succeeded to the Administration of the Government, and continued in office until the arrival of Sir Howard Douglas as Lieutenant Governor, a period of about a year.

Such is the brief history of the principal events in the life of this distinguished individual—but we would be wanting in the duty which we owe to the public, were we to omit the expression of those feelings of respect for the character of the deceased, which we share in common with the inhabitants of the Province at large, and which the uniform tenor of his conduct during the many years he has been before the public eye, has so generally produced.

Whether as a Judge on the Bench, as Administrator of the Government, a Director of its Councils, or as a Member of the Legislature, his manly, open and independent deportment commanded universal confidence and esteem, whilst the dignity of his demeanour and the distinguished urbanity of his manners, both in public and in private, won for him the regard of all who were brought in contact with him.

Among the members of the Profession to which he belonged he was both revered and beloved, and as well in society at large as in public life, has left a blank which will be felt as generally, and deplored as deeply, as in the case of any individual whose loss the public could have been called on to lament.

We draw a veil over the sorrows with which such a man must be regretted by the afflicted relatives whom he has left behind him; but if public sympathy can tend to soothe their present anguish, we feel assured they will possess this source of consolation in no ordinary degree.—St. John Courier.

In this city, on the evening of the 11th inst. JOHN JAMIESON, Esq. aged 36, a native of Glasgow, but for the last 8 years a resident of Pictou, Nova Scotia. On the previous evening, Elizabeth Mailla, infant daughter of the above, aged 13 months.—Montreal Herald.

VALUABLE PROPERTY FOR SALE!

The Subscriber offers for Sale, the following valuable LANDS and PREMISES, &c. &c:

All that Tract of Land, formerly called Ship-yard Point, lying on and fronting the west side of Richibucto river, and at present in the occupation of the Subscriber; measuring in front 60 rods, and containing about 200 acres, 30 of which are cleared and under cultivation: there is an Excellent Dwelling House on the property, 36 by 30 feet, consisting of a drawing and dining room, two back rooms and six bed rooms, and a kitchen 24 by 25 feet, with pantries and store rooms, &c. &c., and an excellent frost proof cellar, all finished in the most substantial and superior style of workmanship in the year 1829, with suitable Barns and Out Buildings necessary, all in a complete state of repair; adjoining which is a large and excellent well walled Garden, tastefully laid out and stocked with fruit trees in a thriving condition. Also—a large two story Store, 34 by 26 feet, and a substantial built Wharf, alongside of which vessels of any burthen may load; with a safe and convenient Boom attached to it; which renders it a situation for mercantile and Ship-building business, seldom to be met with.

Also—about 20 acres of Land, all cleared, and fronting the east side of Richibucto river, joining the upper side of the property of Samuel M'Kean, Esq., on which is an excellent Dwelling House, consisting of dining and drawing rooms, two back rooms, and five good bed rooms, a large kitchen, &c., with a frost proof cellar, an excellent Garden, Barns, and other necessary Out Buildings attached—all in good repair. There is also an excellent two story Store on the property, which renders it a most desirable situation for persons intending carrying on Business of any kind.

Also—all that certain Lot of Land on the east side, and about eight miles further up the said river, lately occupied by Mr. John Graham, and containing about 200 acres—50 of which are cleared and under cultivation, and yielding the finest and most abundant crops; with a considerable extent of Meadow, which at a small expense, could be made to cut at least 30 tons of Hay yearly. There is a large and excellent Dwelling House on the property, with all the necessary Out Houses complete, and in good repair, which, together with its being situated about half way between the harbour and the Settlements near the head of the tide, particularly the Mills of J. P. Ford, Esq., renders it an eligible situation for a Tavern.

TERMS of payment will be made easy, and further particulars known by application to

GEORGE PLATT.
