

the worthy host, that we are enabled to state, that in the selection of the numerous guests, that all party and individual feeling was laid aside, and the desire only evinced, to give all persons an opportunity of meeting, in festive conviviality—the only one which under the circumstances could be embraced—an opportunity of meeting the Representative of our gracious Sovereign.

On the following morning, he proceeded to Newcastle, and on landing at the ferry slip, was received by a number of the inhabitants, and a discharge of cannon placed in the square. He then, together with a select party, passed through the town to the residence of John A. Street, Esq. who had previously invited them to partake of Breakfast. He then returned, and visited the Gaol, and expressed himself highly satisfied with the in-door arrangements, and the cleanly manner in which the premises were kept, which reflect great credit on the Gaoler, Mr Grimley.

He then went to the Court House, where the committee appointed at the public meeting to present the Address, had previously assembled, together with a large body of the inhabitants. Mr Street then read the same, which was as follows:—

To His Excellency Lieutenant Colonel Sir William MacBean George Colebrooke, K. H. Lieutenant Governor and Commander in Chief of the Province of New Brunswick, &c.

May it please your Excellency, We, the inhabitants of Miramichi, in the County of Northumberland, most cheerfully avail ourselves of this opportunity to express the high satisfaction which your Excellency's appointment to the government of New Brunswick has afforded to the inhabitants of this part of the Province, in as much as the judicious and satisfactory manner in which your Excellency has administered the government of another colony, ought to be not only a most satisfactory guarantee that your Excellency's administration here will be wholesome and beneficial to the country, but is an additional proof of the maternal solicitude of our beloved and most gracious sovereign for the welfare of this happy and loyal colony; and we beg to assure your Excellency that the promptness with which you have on the present occasion, presented yourself amongst us, in this distant part of the Province, at the expense of so much personal comfort and convenience to yourself, cannot but be highly gratifying, as it evinces on the part of your Excellency a most anxious desire thus early to make yourself acquainted with the different sections, and local interests of the country at large.

The resources of this side of the Province, both in a commercial and agricultural point of view, are great, and require nothing but enterprise and capital to bring them into active operation. The fertility of our soil, and the salubrity of the climate, coupled with our resources for trade, our extensive seaboard, and field for prosecuting the fisheries, and constant intercourse with the mother country, render New Brunswick an important and highly promising opening for Immigration, and we earnestly hope that the laudable desire to encourage that object, so early manifested by your Excellency, with the fostering care of the Legislature, may be the means of attracting to our shores a class of settlers possessed of sufficient capital to enable them to prosecute agricultural pursuits with advantage to themselves and the colony at large.

We beg leave to thank your Excellency for this visit, and to express our best wishes for your happiness and prosperity, both in your public and private character; and in conclusion to assure your Excellency of our earnest prayers for the safe arrival of Lady Colebrooke and your amiable family, and that Your Excellency ere long may have the happiness to meet them all in the full enjoyment of health.

His Excellency then made the following reply:—

GENTLEMEN,

I feel peculiar satisfaction in receiving the Address which you have presented to me on my arrival at this place. The sentiments of a community which has had the energy to surmount such signal trials, and by its intelligence and spirit has risen so rapidly to distinction, are entitled to weight.

From the observations I have been enabled to make since my arrival in the Province, I can fully attest the accuracy of your opinion, that its resources for agriculture and commerce require nothing but capital and enterprise, to develop them. I have traversed districts which in natural advantages, hold out the most encouraging prospects to the Emigrant, and I cordially join with you in hoping that the settlement of so fine a country, maintaining so constant an intercourse with the United Kingdom, may be accelerated by the early application of capital, and by welcoming to its shores all who are able to co-operate with you. Considering the extent of Territory to be reclaimed, it is obvious that the unaided resources of the present population are inadequate to so vast an undertaking.

The confidence you are pleased to repose in my disposition to promote your views for the public improvement, is very gratifying to me; and if the experience of a life devoted to the public service, may in any manner be useful to you in their prosecution, I shall derive the highest satisfaction in fulfilling the desire of Her Majesty for the welfare of her faithful subjects of New Brunswick.

For your personal good wishes towards myself and my family, I request to return you my sincere thanks. It is no slight gratification to me that their expected arrival in the Province should thus be welcomed by you.

W. M. G. COLEBROOKE.

Three cheers, heartily given, followed this reply, to which His Excellency responded in a brief and neat manner—stating—he was sorry that his stay was necessarily so short; but the cordial and hearty welcome he had received, would cause him to accelerate another visit which he purposed making to this section of the Province, when he trusted his sojourn would be longer, which would enable him to become better acquainted with the people.

He then left the Court House, and escorted by a number of gentlemen in carriages and on horseback, journeyed down on the Newcastle side, as far as the Mills of Messrs Gilmour, Rankin & Co.; but as we had no vehicle on that side of the river, we were unable to proceed with the company; but we learn he stopped some time at Douglstown, and visited the extensive premises of Messrs Gilmour, Rankin & Co. at that place, as well as their Mills below.

His Excellency, and a large party then crossed over the river to the Steam Mills of Messrs. Cunard, in Chatham, and on landing at the wharf was received by loud and repeated cheers, by a concourse of people who had assembled to meet him, and a discharge of ordnance; and after visiting these premises, which—for extent, and admirable construction, are not equalled in the Provinces—he returned to his lodgings, at Mr Hea's.

It being made known that His Excellency would leave about two o'clock for Richibucto, a numerous body of the inhabitants assembled in front of the hotel, and on stepping into the carriage he was received by loud acclamations. On passing through the front street, another salute was fired; and cheers from numerous groups assembled at various points, greeted him as he passed through the town. He was escorted as far as Black River, by a very numerous party, and on arriving there, stopped for a short period, when he took leave, and proceeded on his journey, accompanied by the Hon. Joseph Cunard and John A Street, Esq.

Thus was brought to a close a brief visit, which we trust at no distant period will be renewed. The affable and condescending manners of His Excellency, devoid of all show and ostentation, has won for him the regard and esteem of all those who had an opportunity of being in his company.

The escort then retraced their steps as far as McBeath's Hotel, where they partook of a luncheon; and after enjoying themselves for a couple of hours, returned to town much pleased with the day's excursion.

His Excellency intends to proceed to St. John, and there await the arrival of his Lady and family, who are expected by the next mail steamer from England.

STUCCO WHITEWASH.

The following receipt for making a beautiful Stucco Whitewash, we recommend to the attention of our readers generally, but particularly to the Agricultural portion of them. It is taken from the Genesee Farmer:

Many have probably often heard of the brilliant and lasting whitewash upon the east end of the President's House at Washington city. The following is a correct receipt for making it.

Take clean lumps of well burnt lime, (say five or six quarts,) slack the same with hot water in a tub, (covered, to keep in the steam,) pass it in the fluid form through a fine sieve, add one fourth of a pound of whiting or burnt alum, pulverized; one pound of good sugar; three pints of rice flour, made into a thin and well boiled paste, and one pound of clean glue, dissolved by first soaking it well, and then putting it into a small kettle, which should again be put into a larger one filled with water, and placed over a slow fire. Add five gallons of hot water to the whole mixture.

This wash is applied where particular neatness is required, with a painter's brush. It must be put on while warm, if upon the outside of the building—if within doors cold. It will retain its brilliancy for many years. There is nothing of the kind that will compare with it. About one pint of this mixture will cover a square yard upon the outside of a house, if properly applied. If a larger quantity than five gallons is wanted the same proportions must be observed in preparing.—Colouring matter may be added to give it any required shade.

MACKAREL FISHERY.

We are glad to perceive by the Nova Scotian that the catch of this invaluable Fish, is likely to prove very successful this season, on the coast of our sister Province. The time was when this fish was very abundant in our market; but the times are sadly altered. The sight of a 'Bloater,' such as we were accustomed to see in days gone by, is a novelty indeed. The very thought makes our mouths water.

COUNTY OF KENT.

LAUNCHED, from the building yard of John Jardine, Esq., at Richibucto, on Wednesday morning last, a fine Barque, called the PEEL'S ONE, 518 tons old measurement, and 627 under the new Act. This is the fourth vessel of the same class launched from the same yard within 48 days: the three first of which were launched, rigged, loaded and sent to sea in 38 days. The Peel's One will be ready for sea on the 16th inst.

Tonnage of the four vessels—2062 old, 2497 new measurement.—Communicated.

INQUEST.

An inquest was held before Martin Cranney, on view of the body of a man unknown, at Bunt Church, on Thursday last. Verdict—Found drowned.

It appears since the Inquest, that the deceased was a man of the name of Charles M'Donald, from M'Carra Cove, Antigonishe, Nova Scotia, and in coming up the river about a fortnight ago, jumped overboard after a hat, and before the boat could reach him, went down. He was a shoemaker, and worked two years with Mr William Gremley, of Newcastle. When found there was a silk handkerchief tied round his waist with a five pound Halifax note in it, and change to the amount of 19s. 9d.

THE LATE FRANCIS PEABODY, ESQ.

The remains of this venerable man, whose death we announced last week, were interred in Saint Andrew's Church yard, on Wednesday, the 7th inst. The funeral procession, as we expected, was the largest ever witnessed in Miramichi; all having a desire to pay the last tribute of respect to the memory of their departed friend. The funeral service was conducted, after the usual manner of the Scotch Presbyterian Church, with this exception, that at the grave, the Rev. Mr Archibald, in compliance with the dying request of the deceased, offered up a solemn and impressive prayer. Mr Archibald, we understand, has intimated his intention to preach a sermon next Sabbath, on the occasion of Mr Peabody's death.
