were vast tracts of land lying in a state of un-cultivation, to which a portion of our capital and labour might, with great benefit to the mo-ther country, be removed. He then entered into a statistical detail, to prove the great im-portance to the trading and shipping interest of this kingdom, of our colonial markets, and therefore the good policy of increasing the numtherefore the good policy of increasing the num-ber of those markets by the emigration of some Part of the overflowing population of this country. He alluded to the necessity that emigraty. He alluded to the necessity that the tion should be promoted throughout all the Tanks of the people, as this alone would ensure the civilization of the colonies; and concluded the civilization of the colonies; and concluded by pressing the subject upon the attention of government. Lord Stanley admitted that this plan of colonization was consistent with sound policy, and might be instrumental in providing subsistence for many of our population, who were at present in a state of destitution, by hinging into active employment, capital, which was now comparatively useless. He stated that a plan of systematic celonization had been in progress during many years under the superlatedence of government, but that no general rules had been acted upon in consequence of the different circumstances attendant upon our se different circumstances attendant upon our colonies. He deprecated any plan that would make emigration compulsive: referred to the isdicious system adopted by the present government in comparison with that of former times, and stated, that it would be unfair to those who had already emigrated at their own expense to compalabourers into Canada at the Expense who had already emigrated at their own expense, to pour labourers into Canada at the expense of government, and thus materially affect the price of labour in that colony. He then alluded to the state of affairs for some years. Years past in Australia, where he stated, that capital had been abundant; but in consequence capital had been abundant; but in consequence of the owners of it not being colonists, the abundance of it had acted rather to the prejudice than the benefit of that country, and concluded by opposing the motion on the grounds above stated. After several speeches, and with the consent of Mr. Baller, the motion was withdrawn.

THE American Sporting Chronicle,
A New and Comprehensive Weekly Sporting Paper,
AT TWO DOLLARS PER ANNUM.

The Publisher of the American Turf Registo and the Spirit of the Times will commence, on the 21st of March instant, a new weekly journal, entitled the AMERICAN SPORTING CHRONICLE, which, from the extent, novelty, and attraction of its contents, and its unprecedented cheapness, will commend itself to all classes of the community. The Chronicle will be essentially devoted to the interests of the Farmer, the Breeder, and the Sportsman, while the Current News of the Day, and Literry and Theatrical Intelligence will render it rry and Theatrical Intelligence will render it egfultoat the general reader. For the falfils ment of the Publisher's purposes, he has engaged Wm. T. Porter, Esquire, so long and favorably known throughout the Union as the Editor of the Spirit of the Times and th American Turf Register. Numerous subjects will claim his attention in the management of the Chronicle and first.

the Chronicle, and first

THE TURF.—The prominent design of the Chronicle will be to procure and give interest to the Sports of the Turf. To this end it will give reports of all the Races throughout the United States and Canada, with descriptions of the most important racing events in Great Britain and Continental Europe.

TROTTING.—Constantly increasing attention is now paid to Trotting Horses in this country. A few years since it was exclusively confined to New York and Philadelphia, but Trotting Associations are now regularly organ-nized in Beston, Baltimore, Cincinnati, St. Louis, New Orleans, Mobile, Montreal, and several other cities. Great attention will be given to this department; that a wholesome rivalry be maintained, all the great Trotting feats in this country, Canada, and England will be recorded.

BLOOD STOCK.—All Importations of Horses, Cattle, Sheep, Swine, etc., and all important Sales of Stock at home and in England—selected essays on the Breeding and Management of Horses, etc., and a regular Review of Stallions, with pedigree, performances, etc., will be published.

FARMERS and BREEDERS will find their interests fostered and upheld in the Chronicle to the best of the editor's ability. In addition to a wide correspondence, he is in the receipt of all the best Agricultural Publications in the language, from which copious extracts will be

SPORTING INTELLIGENCE—Being pub-lished at the office of the Spirit of the Times, the Chronicle will have the advantage of an the Chronicle will have the advantage of an infinite number of correspondents, at home and abroad, and so complete are the arrangements entered into, that its Sporting Intelligence will be unusually comprehensive, varied, and interesting, comprising all the On Dits in the Sporting World.

FIELD, RURAL, and AQUATIC SPORTS.

—All the manly diversions which give zest to life will be appropriately regarded, and come in for a large share of the editor's attention. Mith this view, frequent extracts from 'Bell's Life in London,' and the English and other Sporting Magazines will be given, together with original details of all these recreations in this country.

It will suffice, that the Publisher is determined to make the Sporting Chronicle what its name imports, and that in its columns will be found, at intervals, the discussion and the narratives which pertain to Racing Farming

Sailing Pedestrianism Trotting Hunting Blood stock Shooting Pugilism Fishing Breeding Cricketing Rowing Swimmin Sales of Stock Billiards Training Swimming Skating Ten Pins Sweepstakes Cocking Matches Quoits Challenges. NEWS, LITERATURE, &c.—Although the leading objects of the Chronicle are of a speri-

ing cast, our readers may reply upon it that we shall not be behind hand in varied and elagant Literature, and the current news of the THINGS THEATRICAL.—As objects of lively interest, the Drama, Opera, and Ballet will demand the editor's best efforts. Without stint or measure, but with candor and impartialny, he will take cognizance of the novelties presented at our five different city Theatres, and also lay before his renders the Green Room Intelligence of the United States and Europe. Aspirants to histrionic distinction may always look to the Chronicle with confidence for encouragement and support.

Salmagundi.—This, the miscellaneous department of the Chronicle, will be so managed so as to give zest to all the rest. It will be composed of every variety of material; sober news, both foreign and domestic-remarks upon the fashions-fun and frolic-scraps and oddities; in fine, everything we can glean of wit and merriment, will be crowded into our columns.

Terms of Subscription .- For one year's Subscription, in advance 2 dollars.

No name whatever will be placed on the list of subscribers until the money is paid. All letters must be post paid.

Agents can be supplied with one hun-ded copies of the Sporting Chronicle for three dollars, by application to John Richards, proprietor and publisher of the Spirit of the Times and Turf Register, No 1, Barclay steret New York.
