Gentlemen,
The Address of a number of Frecholders soliciting me again to offer myself as a Candidate at the approaching Election, and my answer complying with their request, having been published; I deem it scarcely necessary to put forth an address in this form, apprising you of my intention, and should not have done so, was it not for the improper and unjustifiable canvass that is instituted against me. In my address from the Hustings at the opening of the Poll, I stated that Mr. Rankin was then using his influence to carry Mr. Street in with himself; to this I received a flat contradiction, and Mr. Rankin persisted in denying it, until it became too plain to be longer concealed. He actually solicited voters at the hustings to vote for Mr. Street after they had voted for himself. He is now canvassing the county, and my principal object is addressed. is now canvassing the county, and my principal object in addressing you, is to urge upon you, not to allow your minds to be prejudiced against me by the improper epithets made use of towards myself personally, and against my supporters, by that gentleman.

I was fully aware that I should have all the weight and influence of the concern of Gilmour weight and influence of the concern of Gilmour Rankin & Co. against me at the approaching contest; but I did not expect that Mr. Rankin Would would be the concern of Gilmour Rankin & Co. would so far forget himself as to travel the county, and personally solicit the Freeholders to give Mr. Street a vote after having recently bestowed their suffrages on himself. Surely there ogive Mr. Street a vote after having recently bestowed their suffrages on himself. Surely there must be something more than personal friendship, to induce him to do this; there must be some great private interest at stake. All this toil and labour, and perplexity, and expense, cannot be from pure, disinterested friendship; if it is, and Mr. Street should succeed, he will owe his friend and supporter a debt of gratitude he will be unable to pay, and one which will so trammel him in the Assembly as to destroy his independence and usefulness.

Gentlemen, I shall be at my post on the epening of the Poll on the 17th, to receive your suffrages, when I shall be able to refute every slander that has been circulated against me, and when I shall be able to address you more at length than I can do at present.

I throw myself on the independent constituency of Northumberland. I rest not on the support of any one man, or one concern, but on the support of the People, who I am ready to serve—it is their cause that is now to be tried, and if lost, the loss will be theirs, not mine. I have no interest to serve—no favor to ask—and have no interest to serve—no favor to ask—and if returned, shall do my duty fearlessly and independantly.

I am, Gentlemen, Yours faithfully, JOHN T. WILLISTON. Chatham, July 7, 1843. AUCTION.

NOTICE.

Steamer St. George.

The Directors of the Prince Edward Island Steam Navigation Company, having received a Communication from His Excellency the Lieutenant Governor of New Brunswick, enclosing the legal opinion of the Attorney and Solicitor Generals of that Province, to the intent that the Company has neither a legal or an equitable claim to any support from the Government of New Brunswick for the services performed by the Steamer St. George, have very rejuctantly determined to withdraw her from the Miramichi voyage, until the Grant of the Legislature of New Brunswick is assured to the Company.

CHARLES HENSLEY, CHAIRMAN.

P. E. Island, Juhe 29, 1843.

03- The documents and correspondence causing the above determination will be shortly published, for the information of the Shareholders and the public in general.

To the Freeholders of the County of Northumberland,

Northumberland,
Gentlemen,
As you must all be aware of my intention of again coming forward as a Candidate for your suffrages at the approaching Election, from my reply to the very flattering requisition from a large body of the constituency of this County presented to me in April last, and published in the Gleaner of the 29th April last, I have now only to remind you of such my intention. I beg leave to avail myself of this opportunity of soliciting your votes and interest, and to assure you that if I am honored with your confidence, it will ever be my ambition and earnest desire to show you by every honest means in my powit will ever be my ambition and earnest desire to show you by every honest means in my power, that your confidence has not been misplaced. Gentlemen, it is my sincere wish that the election should be conducted peaceably, and with a due regard to the free exercise of the Elective Franchise. I have no wish to force myself upon the constituency of the county; on the contrary, if I cannot succeed upon fair and constitutional principles, I have no wish to go at all; and it is only from a firm conviction in my own mind that there is a large majority of the Freeholders of this County favourable to my return, that I am induced to come forward. turn, that I am induced to come forward. Gentlemen if the peace of the country should be broken and disorder prevail, it shall not be my fault or that of my supporters—all I and my Friends ask and require is that every Freeholder shall have the power of giving his vote freely and voluntarily without coersion or restraint. Gentlemen, I have only further to add, that I trust none of my supporters will be induced to keep back from any apprehensions of personal violence on the part of my opponents, as they may rest assured that efficient means will be taken by the properly constitued authorities to preserve peace and protect your constitutional

I have the honor to be, Your very obedient, and very humble servant J. A. STREET.
