Dr. Moffatt's Life Pills and Phoenix Bitters!

THE UNIVERSAL ESTIMATION in which the celebrated LIFE PILLS AND PHENIX BITTERS are held is satisfactorily demonstrated by the increasing demand for them in every section of the Union, and by the voluntary testimonials to their remarkable efficacy, which are everywhere offered. It is not less from a deeply gratifying confidence that they are the means of extensive and inestimable good among his afflicted fellow creatures, than from interested considerations, that the proprietor of these pre-eminently successful medicines is desirous of keeping them constantly before the public eye. The sale of every additional box and bottle is a guarantee that some persons will be relieved from a greater or less degree of suffering, and be improved in general health; for in no case of suffering from disease can they be taken in vain. The proprietor has never known or been informed of an instance in which they have failed to do good.—In the most obstinate cases of chronic disease, such as chronic dyspepsia, torpid liver, rheumatism, asthma, nervous and bilious head ache, costiveness, piles, general debility, scrofulous swellings and ulcers, scurvy, salt rheum, and all other chronic affections of the organs and membranes, they effect cures with a rapidity and permanency which few persons would theoretically believe, but to which thousands have testified from happy experience. In colds and coughs, which, if neglected, superinduce the most fatal diseases of the lungs and indeed the vicera in general, these medicines, if taken but three or four days, never fail. Taken at night, they so promote the insensible perspiration, and so relieve the system of febrile action and feculent obstructions, as to produce a most delightful sense of convalescence in the morning,—and though the usual symptoms of a cold should partially return during the day, the repetition of a suitable dose at the next hour of bed time will almost invariably effect permanent relief, without farther aid. Their effect upon fevers of a mere acute and violent kind is not less sure and speedy if taken in proportionable quantity,—and persons retiring to bed with inflammatory symptoms of the most alarming kind, will awake with the gratifying consciousness that the fierce enemy has been overthrown, and can easily be subdued. In the same way, visceral turgescence, though long established, and visceral inflammations, however critical, will yield—the former to small and the latter to large doses of the LIFE PILLS,—and so also hysterical affections, hypochondriacism, restlessness, and very many other varieties of the Neurological class of diseases, yield to the efficacy of the PHENIX BITTERS.

The above Medicines are for Sale at the Store of Mr. JOSEPH SPRATT, in Chatham, who is appointed sole Agent for their disposal in Miramichi.

Charles Willmer's American News Letter and European Intelligencer.

The above Newspaper, now enlarged ten additional columns, which was established in July 1842, is regularly published at Liverpool expressly for transmission by every steam ship sailing from any port in Britain to any port in the United States, and its leading feature is to give at a glance, an account of every important event that has occurred in Great Britain, Europe, or Asia, in the interval between the sailing of each steam ship, whether in politics or commerce—a correct and comprehensive Shipping List, in which will be found a faithful record of the arrival and departure of American vessels at and from all the British, European, and Asiatic ports—together with no idea of such casualties or disasters as may from time to time occur—a complete price current, in which the greatest care is taken to give the latest reports of the various descriptions of American produce, from the most unquestionable sources—thus combining, in one sheet, a Newspaper, Shipping List, and a Prices Current.

MURRAY'S Colonial and Home Library:

THE main object of this undertaking is to furnish the Inhabitants of the Colonies of Great Britain with the highest Literature of the day, consisting partly of original Works, partly of new editions of popular Publications, at the lowest possible price. It is called for in consequence of the Acts which have recently passed the British Parliament for the protection of the rights of British authors and publishers, by the rigid and entire exclusion of foreign pirated editions. These Acts, if properly enforced, will for the first time, direct into the right channel the demand of the Colonies for English Literature: a demand of which our authors and publishers have hitherto been deprived by the introduction of piracies from the United States, France, and Belgium. In order, therefore, that the highly intelligent and educated population of our Colonies may not suffer from the withdrawal of their accustomed supplies of books, and with a view to obviate the complaint, that a check might in consequence be raised to their intellectual advancement, Mr. Murray has determined to publish a series of attractive and useful works, by approved authors, at a rate which shall place them within reach of the means not only of the Colonists, but also of a large portion of the less wealthy classes at home, who will thus benefit by the widening of the market for our literature: and the Colonial Library will consequently be so conducted that it may claim to be considered as a Library for the Empire. Owing to the very low price placed upon the numbers of this series, the undertaking can succeed only if it meets with strenuous support of the Colonial Government at home and abroad, in giving effect to the law, and in supporting the just rights of British genius, industry, and manufacturers, by preventing illicit importation of foreign reprints. It is also necessary for its progress and success that it be favoured with the patronage of the Reading public in all parts of the British dominions; and the chief aim and object of the publisher will be to render it worthy of their contenance.

Mr Murray's Colonial Library will furnish the settler in the woods of America, and the occupant of the remotest cantonments of our Indian dominion, with the resources of recreation and instruction, at a moderate price, together with many new books within a short period of their appearance in England; while the student and lover of literature at home, who has hitherto been content with the loan of a book from the book club, or who has been compelled to wait for its tardy perusal from the shelves of a circulating library, or perhaps has satisfied his curiosity by the scanty extracts in magazines or reviews, may now become possessed of the work itself, at the moment of its publication, and at a cost little beyond that entailed by either of the methods above mentioned. He may at the same time lay up a permanent Library in a condensed and portable form.

It will no doubt prove a source of satisfaction to the lovers of English literature in the Colonies, to know that they are enjoying the intellectual gratification of the works of native authors, without doing any wrong or injury to those authors' interests.

Persons residing in the distant quarters of the world, to which the dominions of Queen Victoria extend, and unacquainted with the practical system of authorship and publication, may probably never have dreamed that they were doing an act of injustice to the authors, for whose works they perhaps entertained the sincerest devotion, by the encouragement they have been in the habit of giving to foreign reprints. But the reason why the American, French, and other pirates of British copyrights have no difficulty in producing cheap books is, that they pay nothing to the authors of them. They cannot publish the works of their own authors at the same rate. But besides availing themselves of the genius and hard toil of others, without making them any return, the cost of printing and paper in those countries is nearly one half less than in England.

On the other hand, the pirated editions, owing to the hurried manner in which they are got up (being generally printed within a twenty four hours of the receipt of the English edition), and in order to save the (in England necessary) expense of common revision, are full of the grossest blunders, which must often interfere with the correct understanding of the work.

The series of Works designed to appear in Mr Murray's Colonial and Home Library will be selected for their acknowledged merit, and will be exclusively such as are calculated to please the most extensive circles of readers. They will be printed most carefully, in a superior style, and on good paper." London, Alport Street, Sept. 1843.
