

da formerly called Lower Canada; Dom- mick Daly, Esq., to be Secretary for Canada.

Quebec Gazette, Nov. 13.

We have papers from different parts of Upper Canada of the 9th instant. We are sorry to be obliged to contradict our assertion that there was no loss of life at the late elections. It now appears that one person was killed in the county of Simcoe in consequence of the party heats at the election.

We are glad however to see, by several of the newspapers, that the tempestuous sea of Liberty is somewhat subsiding. The public attention is now directed to the meeting of the legislature, where excitement will no doubt be endeavoured to be kept up by agitating every question but what really concerns the peace, welfare, and good government of the Province. Whatever may be the political character of the majority, there are too many members of the Assembly whose private interests are not in complete unison with those of the industrious and productive portions of the country at large, and the places which they immediately represent, not to leave room to apprehend that the public interests may again be lost sight of in the combats of personal interests and individual ambition.

Outrages on the Cornwall Canal.—We have received the following particulars of a series of outrages which have been lately committed on the line of the Cornwall Canal, and to which the attention of the Government is now respectfully called.

On the 22nd of October last, a party of the Canalers, supposed to have come by the order of the Connaught men, arrived at Cornwall from Maria Town, and immediately ordered off all the Mupster men on the Canal going so far as to cause persons who had been in the country more than twenty years to depart. Amongst others, Mrs Daly and her two sons, who kept a grocery, saddlery, and provision store on the Canal, were ordered by these ruffians to leave their premises immediately, and everything in their store was thrown into the road. Having obtained permission from Messrs Fernin and Lane, residents of the place, to put their goods into their premises, they had scarcely done so, when the same gang peremptorily ordered those persons to remove the goods, under fear of their severest displeasure, which they were compelled to do, against their inclination.

Finally, it was only after the most earnest and repeated entreaties, that Mrs. Daly was permitted to take away her goods, in a damaged condition, to her husband's premises in Cornwall. During the time that this outrage was being committed, the party repeatedly told the Dalys, that they had been in that place long enough, and that they themselves would take possession of the premises which they in fact did, and now hold.

Mr. Ryan, of the Longue Sault, who had a store on the canal, was served in the same way. They took from him an excellent gun worth £10, and all the powder in his store. They also took possession of his store and premises, which they now occupy, as well as those of many other persons along the line.

After committing the above outrages, a portion of the party left the place and proceeded onward, forcibly entering a number of houses between the canal and Prescott, a distance of 35 miles, and taking all the arms they could find.

We ought to mention that the Dalys and Ryan are from Munster, which drew down on them these attacks, the object being, it would seem, to pay off some old grudge that Cork over Munster.

Affidavits of these facts have been made and it is to be hoped that such a force will be sent to the spot as will protect the inhabitants from the attacks of a set of scoundrels who have no stake in the country, and who are fast becoming a curse to it.
