this county : - dealers are greated in the St Andrews circuit court has termina-ted, leaving sixteen causes to stand over. This state of things, which, if it does not amount to a denial, is certainly a delay of justice, is attri-batable (under the blessing of the ing mitly of lawyers) to the great' expenditing of time in the trial of a cause, "Marks vs Porter." This was an action of ejectment - the value of the and in dispute is about ten pounds-- twelve days were lost in the trial to the youry fees alone (special) amount to thirty three pounds !! alone (special) amount to thirty three pounds ! Eight gentlemen of the long robe were at work in the battle !!!--and there was a verdict for the defendant !!!! Truly we are living in an enlightened age."

CANADIAN WEATHER. A Montreal paper thus discourses on the weather. What a contrast it presens to the delightful season we have enjoyed :

"The weather, for the last few days, has afforded not a bad specimen of the climate of London during the month of November. We London during the month of November. We have had fogs of the real asthmatic quality – rain and snow scars intermission — and mud enough to delight the heart of the most fasti-dious duck that ever waddled. Fortunately, the people in Canada are too sensible to blow out their brains, or else this is just the weather for such 4 amusement.""

P. E. ISLAND .- An exchange paper says, that the computed value of Potatoes shipped this season from Charlotterown to the United States, is £10,000.

COLONIAL BUILT SHIPS .- The following letter from Mr. Gould, a member of the London General Committee of Ship Owners, is taken from a late Quebec paper. The hints thrown out by the writer, are well worthy the serious consideration of ship builders in the Colonies :

To the Hon. William Walker, President, and the Council of the Board of Trade, Quebec. Although not appertaining to this business, I Although not appertaining to this Durndess, it trust that L may be pardoned for adverting to the inefficient manner in which vessels are too frequently constructed in our North Ameri-c in Colonics, by which the whole of their shipping gets involved in character. I alludo to the use of inferior, and unseasoned timber, to the use of inferior, and unseasoned timber, and indifferent fastening, whether in respect of the timber used for trenails, or their irregular rounding and loss driving —when comparatives is so small a difference in ost would make very appender vessels; as is sufficiently proved by the number of good and efficient Colosial Vessels, which, after long service; are suill in henorable employment. Hackmatack in place of pine or spruce, seasoned timber, better fass tening and more air sheles -- would soon raise the comparative value of our North America raise the comparative value of our North American colonial vessels ; whilst the occasional examples of vessels grossly defective in every one of these particulars, prevental the really well built vessels from getting classed according to their meries because committees can only of the second sec act by general rules; and although by general rules individual evils will occur, set it is only by the application of such rules that general insoficiency can be guarded against or soft an As this letter is upon a matter of public im-portance. On taking up your paper the other evening, my eye accidentally fell upon the article of your correspondent, which would appear to have been intended as a compliment to Mr Miller, but is in fact an insult offered to every Teacher of every educational Institution in the Province. Provide a transmission of the provide and the ving the term opprobrious? Has he and does he think a sensible man like the Grammar School Teacher, will take it in compliment to be called the first of these opprobrious institutions, and that "like the Turk, he can bear no brother near the throne." Could not your cor-respondent have found materials for the praise of Mr Miller, without plundering the good name of others to build a reputation from the ruins? Let him ere be again so profuse of praise or blame, visit a lew of the schools in this county. K. N. Miramichi, November 23, 1844.
