

The Directors seem to be acting prudently. The circulation of notes by them is kept pretty steady, it being, according to the last return, now about £21,393,000. The bullion in the Bank coffers now is £16,000,000, or thereabouts. According to the proposed plan for regulating the issues of paper by the Bank, the Directors could, at the present moment, have out, if they pleased not less than thirty millions of paper.

The East India Directors gave a handsome take-leave dinner to Sir Henry Hardinge, prior to his departure. The Duke and the Premier, with most of the other chiefs in the Administration, were present in compliment to the new Governor General. Every thing was cleverly managed, and the soreness evinced by the Government in the House of Lords and Commons appeared to be quite healed—not the slightest allusion by either party to the "recal,"—on the contrary, from anything that transpired on the occasion, it might have been supposed that there was no such personage in existence as Lord Ellenborough.

The important object of establishing a line of steam communication along the entire western coast of South America, is, we understand, in a fair way of being accomplished, and seeing the impetus given to British trade in the Pacific by what has already been done in running steamers from Peru to Chili, our mercantile interests will doubtless be highly gratified at the prospect of its further extension from Lima to Panama.

The Pamphlet on the French Navy, published by the Prince de Joinville, has attracted, as we anticipated, considerable notice on both sides of the Channel. The French have read it with a zest arising from the hope and anticipation of annihilating the British superiority, whenever we may be again be involved in war with that nation. Our own journals, however, reply, that success in steam machinery still belongs confessedly to England; and there is no reason to doubt that our navy will excel as much in this new species of warfare as they did in the sailing ships of former times, and that whatever injury the creation of a steam fleet may enable France to inflict on England, the Government of this country will not be insensible to her movements, but will be prepared to enter upon the contest with the same weapons.

Colonial Estimates.—On the 24th ult. the House went into committee on these estimates, and the following votes were agreed to:—£11,053 for ecclesiastical establishments in British North America; £12,292 for the Colonial Land and Emigration Board. In reference to the latter vote, Lord Stanley stated that there were plans under consideration for permitting the emigration of Hill Coolies to the West Indies and other colonies, but nothing had yet been determined upon. The following votes were agreed to:—£49,700 for salaries, &c., to stipendiary magistrates in the West Indies; £12,000 for religious and educational institutions for the negroes; £35,000 for the liberation of slaves in the West Indies; £24,000 for slave trade suppression commissions; £107,300 for consular establishments abroad; £20,000 for extraordinary expenses of foreign embassies.

Royal Visitors in England.—On Tuesday, the 28th ultimo, His Majesty, the King of Saxony arrived with his suite at Dover in the Princess Alice, steamer, from Ostend, and proceeded to Penthurst, on a visit to Earl Delawar. Next day he visited Amherst at Knowle, and returned to Penthurst. On Thursday, he visited Brighton, Chichester and Portsmouth, and proceeded to the Isle of Wight, after sailing which, he started for London, where he arrived on Saturday. He was met at the Nine Elms station by Prince Albert, who attended him to Buckingham Palace. The Emperor of Russia arrived in one of the Royal steamers at Woolwich, on Saturday night, the 1st instant, with his suite, and proceeded to town, which he reached about half past eleven o'clock. He drove to one of the hotels at the West end, where apartments had been prepared for himself and his extensive suite.

The appearance of the Empress of Russia in London, most unexpectedly, has startled the quietude and the sight gazers. He has travelled with amazing speed since leaving his own capital, stopping only a few hours on his route to visit the crowned heads of Prussia and Holland, anxious, no doubt, to bring the intelligence of his own arrival in England. It was rumoured some time back, that the Emperor intended to visit us, but great uncertainty prevailed as to the time and all expectations were abeyance, when lo! the great Czar presents himself at the palace of England's Queen.—It is well he has taken the nation by surprise, for the suddenness of his appearance has given to it an éclat which his deliberately announced arrival would have failed to create.

The King of the French has postponed for the present his visit to this country. It is, however, his intention, should no unforeseen obstacles intervene, to arrive here in September next. He will visit her gracious Majesty at her marine residence.—Louis Philippe will be attended by two responsible advisers of the Crown—M. Guizot, Minister of Foreign Affairs, and, if circumstances will allow of it, the President of the Council. Marshal Soult, will be one of the official personages selected.

Rear Admiral Bowles has been elected, without opposition, member for Launceston, vacant by the appointment of Sir H. Hardinge, to the Governor Generalship of India.—He is Conservative and a Lord of the Admiralty.

FOREIGN NEWS.

Switzerland.—Civil war has again broken out in Switzerland, in consequence of the long-pending disputes on religious questions between the French and German inhabitants of the Valais, and an appeal had been made to arms. The Upper Valaisans have had the best of the first struggle, and that the Lower Valaisans have been compelled to retreat. The number of killed on the side of vanquished does not exceed 28 or 30, though both parties were provided with cannon. All the horrors of civil war are exhibited within a circle of ten miles.

Spain.—From Spain we have accounts of the departure of the young Queen for the baths of Catalonia, accompanied by the Ministers of France and England. This excursion, it appears, is likely to have an object beyond restoration of her Majesty's health—the Count de Trapani, so long mentioned as the future husband of the Queen, being expected to meet her Majesty at Barcelona. An excellent reception was given to the party on the road to Valencia. They were expected to arrive at Barcelona on the 30th. The Spanish treasury is at its lowest ebb and all the ingenuity of the new Minister of finance is employed to provide money. The municipal elections of Madrid continued to be favourable to the government. The Herald confirms its previous account of the capture and execution of the Carlist leader, Senador. Two officers, had also been shot. General Zurbano had returned to Spain, and would probably receive the command of a division in the projected expedition against Morocco.
