There was another alarm on Sunday moning as the bells were ringing for hurch service. The Fire Bell sent forth Iremendous peal, and consternation was epicted upon every countenance- the sthering congregations in the Churches ushed to the streets, and each questioned is neighbour as to the whereabouts of the unflagration. No one could tell, and still the bell pealed forth its warning. After about a quarter of an hour's tintinabulum, when when the bell pealed for when some of the Engines had started for Gouingen street, and the uniform of the ire force, and the staves of the Consta-bles, might be here and there observed in expressive astonishment, some long head-ed wight thought of making inquiry at a wight thought of making inquiry at the engine house, when it was discovered that Ben Fuller, a son of Ham, and a staunch votary of Bacchus, had surrepti-tionsly obtained a key of the building, and was eagerly striving to immortalize simself, by disturbing the devotions of Her Majesty's subjects without a just ause. Some of the engines looked re-markably sheepish as they wended their way back to their particular domiciles— and as for Ben, he has been consigned to the Bridewell, where it is to be presumed attack of the second second second second second second the Bridewell, where it is to be presumed ataste of the cat will cure him of his taste for such frolicksome amusements, and

St. John New Brunswicker, June 28. We have received the "British North American Wesleyan Methodist Maga-line" for June, being the first No. of the fourth volume, which contains a variety of interscine religious intelligence. We of interesting religious intelligence. We learn that there are now in the New Brunswick District, sixty one Chapels, and one hundred and fifty six other places where the Word is preached. "The number of church members is 3,943, with sixty iwo condidutes for admission to sixty two candidates for admission to christian communion. These are under the care of twenty four Ministers, who ate assisted in their great work by thirty-nine Local Preachers, and one nundred and fifty seven Class Leaders. There are thirty cir Scheath Schools, two hupare thirty six Sabbath Schools, two hundred and sixty seven Officers and Teachers, and sixty seven United hundred and thy nine Sabbath Scholars. United States News.

From the New York Tribune. Oregon and California.—We have just had a conversation with one of the Just had a conversation with one of the hardy pioneers who went over the Rocky Mountains with the Oregon Emigrating Expedition in 1842. He remained the following winter in Oregon, but did not like the country, and left next spring for California, where he intends to make his permanent home.

permanent home. He says Oregon is a remarkably hard country to mak ea living in. The soil is generally sterile and rocky, though there are some good valleys and plains, but the climate is still more discouraging. There is no part of the country out of sight of mountains snow covered at all consons : and though the winters constitution. seasons; and though the winters are mild for the latitude, the summers are cold and frostry. The nights are cold at all seasons —the breezes from the snowy mountains chilling the atmosphere in the absence of a vertical sun.—Corn cannot be raised at all, except a very small, frost-defying kind, and the crops are generally light; while there is little or no chance for internal navigation. What the luck is for harbours and external commerce, the world already knows.

Our informant says a majority of the our informant says a majority of the emigrants to Oregon are disappointed and dissatisfied with the country, and many of them leave as soon as possible for California, which he regards as a fine country—warm enough, with a good proportion of rich and arable soil in spite of its mountaine and widding code com of its mountains, and yielding good crops notwithstanding the absence of rain in summer. He thinks the emigration to California, both from Oregon and the States, will inevitably and rapidly increase and that those who have started from Missouri this year will in good part, when they come to the point where the two routes diverge, follow down the Bear River and so into California, rather than cross to the Sahaptin and pursue the trail to Oregon.

Mission to England.—We congratu-late the country on the appointment of the hon Louis McLane, of Baltimore, as Envey Extraordinary and Minister Pleni-potentiary to London. He has been invited to this public service without the slightest solicitation on his part. This able and experienced gentle-man accepts the office of Minister to one of the most distinguished Courts in the of the most distinguished Courts in the of the most distinguished Courts in the world, at the most eventful crisis which could occur in the relations between the two coantries, and when the most impor-tant interests of his own nation are invol-ved in the issue. He carries with him to the Court of St. James great talents, extended experience, particularly at that court where he formerly represented the court, where he formerly represented the interests of the United States with great distinction. Prudent, firm and sagacious, he will assert and maintain the rights of he will assert and maintain the rights of his own country, without violating the respect which is due to the British Government. He is orthodox on the great questions which now divide the country, and in none more so than on the important questions of Texas and Oregon. We understand that Mr. McLean will probably leave the United States as early Carabobo in 1821, after which an armistice was entered into, without however, any recognition of the independence of Columbia on the part of Spain. In 1829 the three provinces separated themselves into distinct and independent nations, and adopted such constitutions and laws as best suited them.

After the separation were made by Ve-nezuela to obtain from Spain a recogniti-on of its independence, but every effort has hitherto proved fruitless; the former owners of the soil having steadily per-sisted in considering the Venezuelans as rebels, during a period of 35 years. The negociations, by which the recog-nition has at last been brought about, were conducted on the part of Venzuela by their Minister at London, Mr. Fortique, who it is said, was invited by Spain to a conference at Madrid, where the treaty was concluded on the 30th of March last.

No news of the successful termination of these negociations reached this coun-try until the 11th inst, when the utmost surprise and curiosity were excited by the appearance in the harbor of a Spa-nish Vessel of war, no such vessel hav-hish Vessei of war, no such vessel hav-ing visited this country since the cessati-on of hostilities ; and still greater was the surprise when she rau up the Venezueli-an flag and fired a salute of 21 gnns. The bearer of the despatches proceeded immediately to Caracas, where he was received 'with great enthusiasm. The treaty was laid before Congress, and after having been under discussion some four having been under discussion some four or five days was ratified on the 26th inst., and on the 27th the vessel left the harbour bearing the news of the confiirmation. The Venezulians seem to have taxed all their ingenuity to give a gorgeous reception to the bearer of the dispatches as well as to the officers of the vessel; and the representatives of Spain were no less active in showing respect to Venezula.

Holloway's Pills. THE EARL OF ALDBOROUGH CURED OF A LIVER AND STOMACH COM-PLAINT.

PLAINT. Extract of a Letter from the Earl of Alborough dated Villa Meesina, Leghorn, Feb. 21, 1845 Te Professor Holloway. Sir,--Various circumstances prevented the possibility of my thanking you before this time tor your politeness in sending me your Pills as you did. I now take this opportunity of send-ing you an order for the amount, and, at the same time, to add that your Pills have effected a cure of a disorder in my Liver and Stomach, which all the most eminent of the Faculty as home, and all over the continent, had not been able to effect; may! not even the waters of Carlsbad and Marienbad. I wish to have ane-ther Box and a Point of the Ointment, in case any of my family should ever require either. Your most obliged and obdient servant, (Signed) ALDBOROUGH. A WONDERFUL CURE OF DROPSY OF FIVE YEARS' STANDING.

FIVE YEARS' STANDING.

Copy of a Letter from Mr Thomas Taylor, Chemist, Stockton, Durham, 17th April, 1845. To Professor HollowAy.

To Professor HollowAX. Sir,-I think it my duty to inform you that Mrs Clough, wife of Mr John Clough, a res-pectable farmer of Acklam, within four miles of this place, had been suffering from Dropsy for five years, and had had the best medical drives without vertices and the best medical advice without receiving any relief. Hearing of your Pills and Ointment, she used them with of your Pills and Ointment, she used them with suchsurprising benefit, that, in fact she has now given them up, being so well and quite able to attend to her household duties as formerly, which she never expected to do again. I had almost forgotten to state that she was given up by the Faculty as incurable. When she used to get up in the morning it was impossible to discover a feature in her face, being in such a featful state. This cure is entirely by the use of your medicines. I am, Sir, yours, &c. &c.,

St. John Herald, June 30. Trial for Murder.-The trial of Rich'd barke, for the murder of John Cary, on bard, the bard the brig Velocity, occupied the attention of the Court the whole of Thurs-day and the Lunn ofter an absence of day, and the Jury, after an absence of about two hours, returned a Verdict of Guilty of Manslaughter.' The testimony was somewhat conflicting, but that given by Messrs.Scott and Duggan, two branch Pilot llots, went far to prove that the act was a cool and deliberate one, for which there acool and deliberate one, for which there are few palliating circumstances. It appears that high words had passed between the parties in the forecastle, and after compine on dack. Burke threatened

" the appointment will perhaps prove the most satisfactory that Mr. Polk has yet made.

From the Correspondence of the United States Gazette.

A very unexpected and important change has taken place in the political relations of Venezuela. Her independence has at last been recognized by Spain, and a treaty of peace and amity entered into between the two nations.

After a series of oppressions on the part of the mother country, the province of Venezuela declared itself an independent nation on the 19th of April, 1810-Subsequently it united with the provin-ces of New Grenada and Ecuador, under the name of the Republic of Columbia, and a most spirited resistance was made under Gen. Bolivar to the veteran alter coming on deck, Burke threatened sive years. The battle which settled the stick Cary, and advanced towards bim question of independence was fought at
