

persons, the rioters continued in the streets during the day and the following night. Several persons were severely beaten, and some wounded by the discharge of fire arms; one of the latter, we learn from a private letter, has since died in consequence.

The same paper informs us that "an affray of a much more serious nature" occurred at Woodstock, on the same day. We have not yet learned the particulars, but are informed that a requisition was sent to the Governor for troops, and that a company of the 33rd Regiment were sent up to Woodstock on Wednesday last.

From papers received since writing the above, we learn that on the same occasion there was considerable rioting and bloodshed in St. John. It appears that during the evening, firearms were being discharged in all directions, and many persons wounded. The state of the City was such, that the Mayor was under the necessity of calling out a company of soldiers, upon whose appearance, the mob assembled in a certain part of the city, immediately dispersed. Thus in Woodstock, Fredericton, and St. John, have soldiers been needed to aid the civil power in restraining the violence of infuriated partisans.

PLOUGHING MATCH.—The annual Ploughing Match of the Northumberland Agricultural Society, will take place this year, at Chatham, early in October. The day, the field of competition, and the prizes will be seasonably announced.

The Board of the Society have resolved that the winners of last year, shall not be eligible to compete for the like prizes this year.

LAUNCH.—From the building yard of Mr. Gavin Rainnie, in Chatham, on Thursday morning last, the fine brig Ythan, of the burthen of 200 tons. She received her name at the hands of Miss Rainnie, and glided majestically and gracefully into her destined element.

QUARANTINE NEWS.—There have been since the last report 6 deaths at the Lazaretto; there are one hundred and ten under quarantine of observation, one half of which will be discharged during the week. There are still several cases in a weak state; the wet and damp weather is much against them, but, upon the whole, there is a marked improvement.

We omitted stating in our last notice, that the number of deaths for the week ending 13th inst., was 4.

Deaths.

At Newcastle, on Tuesday morning last, 13th instant, JAMES JOHN, eldest son of John Nesmith, Esq., in the 26th year of his age.

Possessing naturally a rather delicate frame, he had, nevertheless, a stout and manly heart; and exhibited, in the spring time of life, ripe and rare qualities, such as would grace a maturer, or indeed any age. Truth, honesty, and integrity shone conspicuous in his character, pervading his dealings with his fellow men; and he gave promise to be more extensively useful in his day and generation. He was, withal, eminently benevolent; and there are not a few who can attest to his philanthropy, and the kindness of his nature. Bound to his family by the strongest domestic ties, he fulfilled every filial and fraternal duty in an exemplary manner; and in this respect particularly, he was a blessing, a priceless treasure to his parents. He has gone to an early grave, cut down in the flower of his age; but the perfume of his virtues remains, and the remembrance of his many good qualities will be a lasting solace to his friends and connexions.

As an evidence of the great respect in which the deceased was held, and of the regret at his untimely departure, the Bank and stores were closed during the performance of his funeral obsequies.

At the Quarantine Station, Middle Island, on Thursday last, 15th instant, WILLIAM ADAMS, son of the late William Adams, Esq., Merchant, South Bridge, Edinburgh.

The young man whose death is recorded above, was very respectably connected. His father was a merchant in Edinburgh, where he was much respected for the "valuable service rendered by him in the improvement of trade in the quarter of the city where he resided." Mr. Adams was a passenger on board the ship "Looshtauk," on his way to join his uncle in Montreal. Montreal and Quebec papers please copy.

At Chatham, on Saturday last, Mr. MICHAEL DALEY, aged about 40 years, a native of the County of Louth, Ireland.

WRECK OF THE SHIP CŒUR DE LION.

The schooner Eliza, Capt. Boudrot, which arrived here on Saturday evening last, from St. Pierre, brought several passengers, belonging to this place, besides Henry Palmer, Esq., of Windsor, and a Mr. Atkinson and child from Toronto, Canada West. These gentlemen have informed us, that a state of things exists at the French Islands in the Gulf with respect to British Shipping and merchants, that should at once be brought under the notice of the Colonial as well as Imperial Government. It appears that a splendid new ship the Cœur de Lion, Capt. Kendall, on board of which Mr. Atkinson with his family were passengers, went ashore on Langloise Island, one of the group, on the 6th inst., on her way from Montreal to Liverpool, laden with Wheat and Flour. The Captain immediately attempted to resort to the means usually adopted for the protection of owners and shippers by protesting and having the ship and her cargo surveyed, appraised and sold for the benefit of all concerned, but was informed by the Commandant, that they permitted no captain to settle his own affairs in that way, and that it was the exclusive privilege of the Government to do so. Capt. Kendall, from the appearance of matters, would not suffer them to interfere, there being many other vessels ashore, all of which had been taken possession of by the inhabitants or authorities in as violent and high handed a manner as the most accomplished wreckers could have done.

He therefore determined to use all the means in his own power for the protection of the property under his care; and hearing that H. M. Steamer Vesuvius, was lying at an island about 15 miles distant, he hired a boat and despatched a messenger claiming assistance. This was declined without assigning any reason, and being apprehensive that the ship would become a wreck, the wind setting in very strong, he commenced landing his cargo and succeeded in getting about 350 barrels of Flour on shore, when she fell over on her beam ends and he was unable to land any more. When our informants left, the captain and crew were standing guard over the flour, which was lying on the beach, and they were determined not to give it up until it was taken from them by main force, while on the other hand a ragamuffin kind of police, calling themselves the gens d'armes, were also on the spot claiming the goods on behalf of the French authorities and preventing them from removing them to any place of safety. Mr. Palmer represents in forcible terms the necessity of some persons on the spot for the protection of British property when cast away, and states that within nine miles along the coast he counted the remains of fifty wrecks, principally British Shipping. He is about forwarding to the Lieutenant Governor of Newfoundland, that being the Government nearest the scene of the outrage, a statement of the whole affair, drawn up on the spot, in order that some steps may be taken for the remedy of the evil.—Pictou Chronicle, June 24.

The ship Dædalus, from Quebec, bound to Padstow, G. B., with a cargo of timber and deals, went ashore on the morning of the 2nd instant, on the north side of the Magdalen Islands, in a thick fog; she was afterwards got off by heaving part of the cargo overboard.

Waterford, June 20.—arrived, Michael Anthony Fleming, from Miramichi.

Deal, June 29.—Arrived, Lord Mulgrave, from Miramichi.

Corb, June 25.—Arrived, Belt, from Shediac.

St. Mawes, June 26.—Passed up, the Lord Melville, from Miramichi, 24 days.
