

have recently had the small pox, are entirely recovered and that there is not the slightest cause of fear that it will spread any farther just now.—Yarmouth Herald.

FROM MEXICO.—Dates to the 18th ult., have been received from Vera Cruz. There is no confirmation of the report that Gen. Scott had received proposals for peace from Mexico; nor from the state of affairs in the capital, where Santa Anna is still in chief command, can we believe any such proffer has been made.

Well advised persons think peace is as remote now as a year ago.

Gen. Scott was still on his march, and no doubts seemed entertained that he would enter Mexico without any serious resistance.

FROM MEXICO.—Vera Cruz dates to the 25th ultimo have been received. The latest intelligence from General Scott was to the 14th.

The advance of the army upon the city of Mexico has been postponed until farther reinforcements should arrive.

Appearances indicated that there would be a stronger opposition on the part of the Mexicans to the advance of our army upon the capital, than was anticipated. The Mexicans were reported to be in the capital in large force, and to be provided with 70 pieces of artillery.

A rumour was current at Vera Cruz to the effect that Gen. Cadwallader had surprised a party of Guerrillas, and killed thirty of them, without the loss of a single man on his own side.

Gen. Pillow attacked a party of guerrillas, nine miles from Puente Nacional, and dispersed them, killing 30 of their number. None of the party under Gen. Pillow were killed, though eight or ten were wounded.

The scene of war now presented in Mexico, with its horrors of pestilence, famine, and of murder, is the most disgusting and soul-sickening spectacle that ever disgraced a page in human history. The late letters from Monterey show that the murder of non-combatants is the daily diversion of the American troops. Accounts from Vera Cruz, published in the Era of this morning, exhibit some striking facts as to the great mortality among the American troops.—The Vera Cruz 'Eagle,' and the letters from the army correspondents cannot be expected to tell the worst of these tales of terror.—New York Journal of Commerce.

HALIFAX, July 3.—Death has seized another illustrious victim, Lieutenant General Sir Colin Campbell, formerly Lieutenant Governor of Nova Scotia, and recently of Ceylon, in the 70th year of his age. He died on Sunday morning, 13th June, at his residence in London, after an illness of only two days. Though in the administration of the Government of this Province, through the differences and conflicts of antagonist parties, Sir Colin Campbell occupied a position of extreme disagreeableness, to a gentleman who wished, as he did, to make his influence conducive to the happiness of the people, yet he demeaned himself so honestly, so unswervingly, and so gallantly, that his fiercest political opponent never doubted his good intentions and uprightness but accorded the respect and honor to his exalted virtues quite as freely as his most favored courtiers. He was distinguished for bravery among the list of Great Britain's most renowned military heroes;—but the example of courage which he showed in daily visiting the Hospital, while the Cholera was raging in the city, immediately after his arrival, far excelled in noble patriotism and devotion to duty the greatest of his daring feats in the battle field in the service of his Sovereign. May the virtues of the good and brave old warrior be long cherished in the memory of all who knew him in Europe, Asia, and America.—Recorder.

Several serious railroad disasters occurred on Monday. A carriage, containing eight persons was driven by a drunken driver in the way of the train at the crossing of the Boston and Worcester railroad, on the mill dam, and a man and boy were so much injured that they are not expected to recover, and all the others in the carriage are more or less injured—the horses were killed. A man, named Harris, was found with his neck across the track, which could not be stopped, and he was run over and his head severed from his body. Another, named Wiley, lost his arm in a similar manner.

STEAMBOAT EXPLOSION.—The steamer Simon, Kenton, at St. Louis, with a number of delegates to the Chicago Convention on board, recently exploded a boiler. Two deck passengers and one boat hand mortally wounded.

MIRAMICHI HEAD.

No doubt, we ourselves, as well as our neighbors of the Press, occasionally, by our blunders, furnish amusement to our readers. Our attention has been directed to a (shall we term it) lapsus linguæ, furnished by the Halifax Journal of the 5th inst; where, among its arrivals, Tuesday, 29th June, it announces "the schooner Salamander, Murphy, Newfoundland, Molasses, Flour, &c., wild and untameable as a hyena, as could be caught by no other means than by digging a pit, into which Fairbanks and Alfisons."
