

Certificate from the Principal of the Fredonia (New York) Seminary.

Fredonia, July 17, 1846.

Dr. Seth W. Fowle.—Dear Sir:—Feeling as I do, under obligation to the friend who urged me to try Wistar's Balsam, in spite of my hostility to the endless variety of remedies claiming infallibility, I cannot justly refuse to comply with your request to furnish a statement of its effects.

From my youth I have been subject to lung complaints, and during the last ten years I have been under the necessity of using the utmost caution to avoid that most ungracious customer 'a cough.' In February last I took cold—a cough set in, and though slight in the beginning, I made use of the simple remedies which I always keep for that purpose. These failings I resorted to others, many of which have gained celebrity, but my cough increased in violence, and a pain in the side and a right lobe of the lungs set in, which soon became very distressing and at intervals were attended with oppressive strictures on the lungs. During this time I expectorated freely, but the mucus raised from the lungs indicated a disease deeply rooted. Two or three physicians kindly sent me their medicines, which have been very efficient in curing coughs, but they failed to reach my case, and I began to be somewhat uneasy. In the latter part of April I left home, intending to travel, awhile and if possible escape, by that means from present danger. When I had reached Buffalo I had taken an additional cold and my cough was considerably aggravated. A friend there advised me to try the Wistar Balsam of Wild Cherry, but I told him I had swallowed medicine enough. Well, sir I coughed out that day and the night following, and the next day my friend urged me again to try 'Dr Wistar,' and at 3, P. M., I was willing to try anything, for I coughed constantly. I procured a bottle—drank of it—read the directions—took the stage for home, continued taking it from that bottle one week, and when the Balsam were gone my cough and pains were gone, and I have not coughed since.

Respectfully yours, &c. F. A. REDDINGTON.
