and we should an icipate a speedy extinc. tion to all the self constituted authority at Frankfort, but that we fear the French, by some whimsical change of the politieal scene, will again embroil everything just as the court party in Germany was securing the victory. In Italy matters are perplexed in the extreme. M. Les-seps sent in some ultimatum, making it appear that the Romans claimed the protection of the French; but although the document set forth that the Romans had full right to choose their form of government, and would love the French as brothers, the Triumvirate were not to be entrapped by these mere words, and unani-mously rejected all M. Lesseps' overtures. Indeed, it is plain that the Roman Republicans are in communication with the active leaders at Paris, and conscious of the success of the party, they do not seem inclined to allow their "brothers," the French troops, within the walls. So much for French legitimate influence in Italy. We have reiterated removed to the Pope at Gaeta is utierly opposed to his French on his the rash intervention of the French on his behalf, well knowing that his temporal authority is merely the pretext for their own aggrandisement in the Papal states. In the meantime the Neapolitians, being beaten, have prudently withdrawn within their own territories, and the Aus-trians seem slow to advance, now that the French have taken so prominent a lead in this intervention. The armistice between the French and the Romans expired on the 25th ult., but some pretext would no doubt be found to renew it. We can scarcely conceive it within the bounds of probability that General Oudinot would venture to bombard the city. It will be teen that the French are drawing their forces down to the south, and making every preparation to maintain a footing in Italy, if they should determine upon such a watlike policy. It is, however, no longer the question of the ambition of one successful soldier, as it was halt a century ago, but the resiless inquietude of a vast body of the French people. In Sicily and Naples tranquility seems restored. Spain and Portugal furnish no news of import to communicate. The Count de Montemolin having surrendered his pretensions to the throne of Spain, is about to marry one of our fair conntry women, Miss de Horsey, and the Cabinet of Spain has consented to settle upon the prince an ample annuity to enable him to live in splendour with the wife of his choice.

Since the departure of the last steamer there has been a better feeling in all de-partments of business. The Produce markets have been steady, and a good amount of business is transacted at full and, in some instances, advancing prices. The market for Breadstuffs is pretty steady within the last week. Fierford for Wheat and Flour were pressed freely for Wheat and Flour were pressed for Cotton is to a moderate extent, at steady but low rates. Iron has receded in value, and the business going forward is limited. The Discount market is yet easy at the rates that have existed for some weeks, and cash is plentiful.

Russia. - The Gazette de l'Allemagne Occidentale, dated Cracow, May 20, contains an account of a grand council of war having been held at St. Petersburgh, at which a protest was made against Russian interference in the affairs of Europe. The Emperor was much irritated, and received his advice with a bad grace, even insulting some of the senators. The Pre-sident of the Council Jermoloff, rose and told the Emperor that Napoleon by his obstinacy ruined himself, and his Majesty might meet the same fate ; and then the General quitted the chamber.

The same journal contains intelligence that several plots against the Emperor have been discovered at St. Petersburgh. Many officers and even generals, were at-tested, and instead of being sent to Siberia, were at once hung. It would appear that the army is discontented, and that is the reason of the guards having been sent from St. Petersburgh.

Cornwallis with a few followers landed in Hslifax, to commence the colonization of this country, under a flag which, for a thousand years, has braved the battle and the breeze. The booming of cannon was followed by a merry peal of bells, which simultaneously burst torth from steeple and tower, in which our old acquaistance, the Town Clock bore a conspisnous part. The troops were reviewed on the Common by His Excellency S:r John Harvey, at ten o'clock. Then followed a brilliant and exciting sham fight, succeeded by a general salute of mucketry and artillery, and three cherse for the O usen.

a general salute of mucketry and artillery, and three cheers for the Queen. The several Societies commenced forming about 12 o'clock on the Grand Parade. The Civic authorities, County Magistrates, and pro-minent members of the Ceatenary Com-mittee mounted on horseback, led the van. The Press, tastefully decorated, drawn by four grey horses followed. Then came the fire en-gines, beautifully decorated. The Charitable, Temperance, Missonic, and African Societies succeeded. Prominent places were assigned for the shorizinge and a carriage with several for the aborigines, and a carriage with several of the oldest natives, of British origin.

The Procession, after traversing several of the principle streets, formed a hollow equare on the common, which, with the groups on the glacis of the citadel, presented a tableau, the glach of the cludet, presched a tableau, gay, picturesque and animated, such as was never before witnessed in Halifax. A solute of twenty one guns, about two o'clock, aunoun ced the arrival of the Licentenant Governor, attended by a brilliant military cortege, Civic thorities and heads of departments. His Ex-cellency, who was warmly cheered, reviewed the several Societies, and exchanged courte-sies with their chiefs.

The Aduress from the City to Her Majesty the Queen, and another to his Excellency, was presented at his Facellency's request, by the oldest inhabitant, one of the first settlers in the County, who is now one hundred and seven years of age. A jet of water rose in a tall pyramidal column on the north side of the Province buil-ding, whilst five others played in feathery streams at the south end, diffusing a dewy freshness during the day, and sparkling clear and bright in the evening moonlight. Alter night-fall the tout ensemble in front of the Province Building surpassed anything of the kind ever witnessed in Halifax. The chaste and tasteful decorations of the arch which spanned the street-the elegant and appropriate devicesthe variagated and revolving gas-lights-the rich strains of the military band, and the display of fire-works, which were gratuitously set off by Mr Valler, made the Province build-ing the favorite scene of attraction during the evening. At 9 p.m., the Admiral commenced firing from the Wellesly The scene was truly magnificent.
