

FREDERICTON MAIL.—The following is the only additional items of news furnished by the papers received by this Mail.

Through the kindness of Mr Seeds, of the Courier office, Saint John, we have received the Boston Atlas of Monday, which furnishes the following account of the loss of life on board the steamer Eastern City, at New York on Saturday last, occasioned by the explosion of a boiler.

The new steamer Eastern City, built to run between Boston, Eastport and Saint John, while lying at the foot of Grand street, preparing for her trial trip, burst one of her boilers, at half past two o'clock, p. m. instantly killing the Captain and Engineer, and seriously injuring several of the hands, two of whom have since died, and three more it is said cannot survive till morning. The vessel was not materially injured. We did not learn the Captain's name, but noticed among the killed W. H. C. Stearns, of Eastport, and John Beers, of Stratford, Conn.

Further particulars—May 30—Six men were scalded fatally, one of whom was killed almost instantly, and another has since died. The others were taken from the boat in a terrible condition, and conveyed to the city hospital for medical assistance.

The names of the injured and dead are as follows—Wm. H. C. Stearns, Captain, scalded about the face, head and neck, and is not expected to recover. Charles Gorman, engineer, scalded in the face, neck, chest, arms and hands; no hopes of his recovery. John B. Curtis, engine builder and acting engineer, trying the machinery, taken from the boat dead. Francis Mayo, fireman, very severely scalded on the face, neck, chest, back and hands; he may possibly recover, although but little hope is entertained. Charles Hall, fireman, scalded on the head, chest, arms and face; died in the hospital last evening. James Smith, scalded on the arm and hand, and taken to his residence in Margin street.

The three unfortunate men who were alive at six o'clock last evening, will survive the injury. Captain Stearns, and Gorman the engineer, were expected to die before morning. But very slight hopes are entertained of Mayo.

By the Admiral, which arrived 2 o'clock, P. M., I have Boston papers of yesterday morning.

The new steamship, Eastern City, built to run between Boston, Eastport and St. John, when preparing for her trial trip at New York, on Saturday afternoon, burst one of her boilers, instantly killing the captain, Stearns; Charles Gorman, an engineer; John B. Curtis, acting engineer; John Beers, and Charles Hall, a fireman. Several others are badly scalded, but may recover. The boat is not much injured.

Francis Meagher, the Irish patriot, who made his escape from banishment, has arrived in New York, and been received with much enthusiasm by his fellow countrymen.

The only topic of interest in the American papers, is the great excitement raised by the arrival in New York of Thomas Meagher. He is the lion of the day, and Kossuth is forgotten.

Weather here still very dry.

Friday Evening.

By the steamer Admiral, Boston papers of yesterday are received.

Dates from San Francisco to the 6th May have been received in New York by two steamers, bringing also 600 passengers, and about two hundred and fifty thousand dollars in gold dust. The news is not important. Accounts from the diggings continue favorable. The population of San Francisco increased six thousand in one month.

Nothing new here; weather to day dry and warm.

Saturday Evening.

The Creole arrived this evening from Boston, bringing dates of yesterday, but the papers do not contain any thing of interest. Papers by the Asia state that the weather in Ireland had been propitious beyond the best hopes of the farmer. In England seasonable rains had revived the crops previously suffering from drought. Consols were firm at 99 7/8 to 100. Capital is so abundant in England that profitable or safe investments for it cannot be found. A line of Steamers is about to be established between Dublin and Kingston, Jamaica. A Cabinet Council had been held in London on the 21st ult. to consider the position of the Government, and the time for a dissolution of Parliament.

Mr Nyles, another of the sufferers by the explosion on board the steamer Anna Agusta, died last night; another named Murray is not expected to recover. Dry weather still continues.
