RECIPROCITY.

Several persons are now in this city, who left New Orleans as late as the 12th of August. They describe as of daily occurrence, scenes of distress in that plague stricken city, which one can scarcely consider as real. Death overtakes foot passengers in the streets. Many have been to cross to the shady side of the street, and throw themselves on the pavement, already sinking, almost as soon as laken, under the influence of the dates.
