RAILWAY MATTERS.

WE are indebted to the Saint John Freeman, for the following additional in-formation respecting the doings of the Railway Surveyors in this Province.

Mr Morton examined the line, the plans, &c., and found nothing to object to, and no alteration or amendment to suggest. As a proof of the determination of the Contractors to build a really first-rate line it is stated that though the country is naturally level, yet owing to the determination to procure as short and as level a line as possible, there will be some very heavy cuttings, in some places over 40 feet deep. Nine miles of this short road will be perfectly straight and perfectly level.

THE DISSOLUTION.

THE papers still continue to propagate the rumour that there will be a dissolution of the Assembly very speedily. We do not know if there be any truth in this report, but we should not be surprised if it turn out a true tale. Private letters as well as the public journals, are full of the manœuvres of parties to secure seats, and to form new political alliances. We would advise the Freeholders in this Proscribers 15s. in advance, or 20s. at the end of the year. We prefer the advance price, and as it effects a saving of 25 per cent., we hope soon to contest.

On this subject, the Freeman of Tuesfor a day remarks :

tion of the Assembly. To judge from all we know of the present Government, we should say that nothing could induce them coming fiercer and more numerons ; but then they would continue to fight, like so many cats ticd in a bag, sooner than risk their tenure of office. If either of the factions were quite sure of victory in the contest that one may press for "an appeal to the country," such an appeal as is usually resorted to in this Province, where no one can understand the merits or substance of the question really at issue. But the party apprehensive of defeat would oppose such a movement to the uttermost, and no one is simple enough to expect that either party would be influenced by any honorable mo-tives or act on sound political principles.

We have not inserted among the official notices taken from the Royal Gazette, that of Pater McGowan, Esq., having been ap-pointed Treasurer and Member of the Executive Council, and this for the simple reason, that the hon, gentleman has since thought fit to resign. FREDERICTON MAIL.

It is really a surprising and humiliating thing that in this 19th century, in a couu-try possessing Post Offices, Steamboats, Ships, Newspapers, and Telegraphs, that the most simple elementary truths relating property and government are not only disputed but denied by the very men who are considered oracles in their localities. We could stand it to hear the inspection and superintendence of the public schools denounced as mere wastefulness by those who beciag as mere wastefulness by those who be-ing disappointed applicants for these very offices having nothing left to them but grumble and find fault, but to find a free school system supported by a tair assess-ment system—to find the principle that the property of the country should educate the

Scientific Entertainment,

Mr. ABOURNET has the honour of announ-cing to the Ladies and Gentleman of Chatham, that he will give a Lecture and Exhibition on MONDAY EVENING, August 8th, at the Hall of the Sons of Temperance. For description and particulars see Bills.

Speculations were sadly at fault. It had one of many points within the harbour of Shednac, and farms were bought at an exorbitant price in the neighbourhood of these various stations and speculators confidently counted their gains ; but now it turns out that the terminus will be far it is said the water is the deepest along that coast for many miles, and where sand stone rock running out a considerable di tance under water, affords an excellent foundation for a pier and breakwater. Near the Bend, speculators seem to agree that the terminus must be at Hall's creek, a splendid site for a floating dock, which could be constructed at a comparatively small outlay and would afford when constructed, accommodation to an immense amount of shipping. Here, too, the speculators were mistaken. Mr Giles found on survey that there is too great a descent to the creek from all sides to render this an advisable situation for a terminus; and the decision now is that the terminus is to be entirely at the other side of the Bend, about half a mile distant from the village to the Westward. Those who have speculated in land, &c., must lose seriously by this decision which, however, will confer great advantages on the French inhabiand the owners of property in the neighbourhood of Jones' field. The work will now be proceeded with at once. A sufficient number of men can be had in the neighbourhood to do the grubbing, &c., and two vessels are daily expected bringing the plants, &c., and we believe some labourers.
