From the New England Farmer " THAT IS MY HOME."

Mary a fa ner manages in such a way that weither his sons nor his daughters can take pleasure in directing the eye of a stranger to the family dwelling, and say-ing, "That is my home." It is not in the erection of costly and tem-ple-like houses, or ornamenting other build-angs with much profiless expenses, that "home" is made most beautiful. These costly decorations may appear very splen-did at first, but they are of that character which loses beauty instead of increasing it. The mind of the youth is reaching forward, and is most pleased with that kind of ornament which every day grows more

The finite of the pleased with that kind of ornament which every day grows more beautiful.
Most men, ia building houses, expend much money in making the house showy.—
One, two, or five hundred dollars spent in this way is a common item in building.
But this is all just " paying too much for the whistle." Such a beanty only pleases while it is new. The second look at it has no interest. The eye ceases to behold with pleasure whatever from its fixed hold with pleasure familiar and established

Copy of a Letter from Mr. Thompson, Chemist. LowAY, Dear Sir—I am enabled to furnish you with a most extraordinary cure effected by your invaluable Oniment and Pills, which so astonished every person acquainted with the sufferer. About ten years ago, Mr W. Cummins, of Saltney Street, in this town was thrown from his horse, whereby he received every serious injuries; he had the best medical advice at the time, and was afterwards an inmate of different infirmaties, yet he grew this way is a common item in building. ling, one, two, or five hundred dollars' worth of trees, shrubs, vines and flowers, and what a world of beauty and attraction it would present. These are "things of life," and their beauty will be progressive. When the eye of a stranger shall rest upon it, he will exclaim, "how beautiful !" and that lovely daughter, whose presence althat lovely daughter, whose presence al-ways gives joy and gladness to the home circle, will be happy always when she thinks " that is my home." And that no-ble-spirited young man who would have left the homestead years ago, but for these attractions, will feel a conscious elevation of character, a growing greatness inspired by the objects with which he is surrounded. It is certainly true that the character of men is shaded by the objects which constantly engage their attention and care. There is not another class of men in the world to whom is granted such a privilege of uniting beauty with worth, pleasure with interest, as the farmers. And the most attractive beauty, 100, is that which will grow more beautiful and more profitable at the same time.

The attractions of home are also full of moral power and' social refinement. The eye of love never sparkles with more bril-f .rth affords up happier spot than where the throbbing, anxious, hopeful spirit of youth is quieted and sausfied. The farmers of New England may re-fuse to gratify their sons and daughters, by attention to the rural scenery about their dwellings, and see their sons and daugh-ters become " anxious for a trade, " and their daughters determined on " going to the factory, "or they may see them wedded to home as to an earthly paradise. ded to note as to an earning paradise. And taking up this idea of paradise, it is proper to remark that in the scriptural des-cription of Eden's Paradise as in every vi-sion of poetic thought, the abode of peace and happiness is in the midst of rural sce-

A MOST EXTRAORDINARY CURE OF ADREADFUL SKIN DISEASE WHEN ALL MEDICAL AID HAD FAILED.

Copy of a letter from Mr Hird, Draper, of Keady, near Gainsbro', dated March 1st, 1853. To Professor HOLLEWAY, Sir-Some time since, one of my children children was afflicted with dreadful eruptions over the body and limbs. I obtained the ad-vice of several eminent Surgeons and Physivice of several eminent Surgeons and Physi-cians, by all of whom the case was consider-ed hopeless. At length I tried your Oint-ment and Pills, and without exaggeration the effect was miraculous, for by persevering in use, all the eroptions quickly disappeared and the child was restored to perfect health.

I previously lost a child from a similar complaint and I firmly believe had I in her case adopted your medicines she would have been saved also. I shall be happy to testify the truth of this to any enquirer. (Signed)
