

Doc. Smith gives notice that he will travel to Marysville again as soon as the reads get better.

* * *

Co-ed, speaking about Hoyt—"Oh he needn't worry; nobody would take him as a gift!"

* * *

'09 Co-ed—"Talk about Mike; I'm interested in him."

* * *

Matthews—Singing—"She loves a Scotchman."

The Banker—"And that's the proper thing for her to do."

* * *

Professor Carson (after dealing with Antimony, Arsenic and Bismuth)—"We will now proceed to the study of Boron."

Sheenie (wearily)—"Bore on, old chap, bore on."

* * *

Miss Hatheway (in Botany lecture)—"Has every rosebud a thorn?"
For information apply to Grace, '09.

Matthews—"What are you playing?"
Co-ed (at piano)—"'Everybody's in love with some one.'" And then she mischievously asked: "Are you?"

* * *

Professor Geoghegan (lecturing to Senior Honor English Class)—"The Clarendon Press edition has excellent notes. McMillan's edition has notes that are—well, rather silly—Oh, of course, they would do well enough for the freshman class."

* * *

Senior—"Stewie told us that we didn't 'scintillate' much on that exam."

Firth—"What's that? If he told me that I would think that I had done fine!"

* * *

Co-ed—"Do you know Murray? I'd like to see him roasted."
