Funeral Yesterday

The funeral of the late Mrs. Louisa Robertson took place yesterday afternoon at 3.30, interment in the Miramichi cemetery. Services were conducted at her late residence by Rev. S. J. Macarthur, assisted by Rev. M. S. Richardson. The hymns sung were "Hold Thou my hand" and "The Sands of Time are Sinking". There was a large attendance, and several very beautiful floral tributes. The pall bearers were Ald. J. G. Kethro, E. A. O'Donnell, Frank Masson, John McDonald, Joseph McMann, and Phillip Galley.

Russian Rough Riders

Included in the Russian army are about 1,500,000 Cossacks, strenuous fighting men and magnificent horsemen. The Cossacks, as a rule, are more highly educated than the average Russian peasant, and twenty years' military service is obligatory for the men, who supply their own uniforms, horses, and equipment, the Government providing the arms. In return for this the State gives large grants of land to the Cossacks. The Cossack's liability to military service does not end at forty or so. He is always at the Czar's command.

Absent—Three Admirals

Here are three admirals of the British fleet, carried in the navy list, who are not sailing with the battle-ships:

His Imperial Majesty, King William II., German Emperor, appointed Aug. 2, 1889.

His Imperial Majesty, Nicholas II., Emperor of all Russias, named June 11, 1908.

His Royal Highness, Prince Albert William Henry of Prussia, named Jan. 27, 1910.

British Troops are Doing Gallant Work

Stupendous Battle Still Going On With Allies Gaining Advantage

Washington, Sept. 11—The Allies have gained a "serious advantage" against the German right wing.

The first German army corps was forced across the river Marne and German troops have left that cabled the French Embassy. The despatch declared also that the fall of Maubeuge has not been confirmed and that part of the German advance in the Chapenany forest has been lost.

The official cablegram, which left Bordeaux at 6 a. m. today, follows:—

"Today, from indications given by the War Office, our troops have taken serious advantages against the German right wing to the north of Lafert sous Journe, while the first German army was obliged to cross the Marne.

Last night on the River Ladhuis, Levi, a town, and Pondnos, the valley of the Marne, was free of German troops. According to reports by British aviators our troops in Champagne were obliged to retire by the third German army to Gourganeon and Salons, but part of the ground was regained.

"The fifth German army was attacked by our troops in the Argonne. The French progressed slightly. The fort Genincourt in the Meuse valley was attacked by the Germans. Slight progress on the road to Chateau Salens in Lorraine by the sixth German army is reported in the forest of Chapenany. Part of the advance was lost. As for Maubeuge, the officials say, the garrison did not have as many as 20,000 soldiers.

GERMANS NOW FIFTY MILES FROM PARIS

London, Sept. 11—A general retirement of the Germans east of Paris continues, according to a statement this afternoon by the war information bureau in London. It is stated that British troops yesterday captured 1,500 prisoners and several guns.

Today it is announced in Paris that the Germans have retired in some places forty or fifty miles.

ANOTHER GERMAN... PRINCE IS KILLED

London, Sept. 11—A despatch to Reuter's from Meiningen, via Amsterdam, states that Emperor William has personally wired the Duke of Saxe-Meiningen of the death of Prince Ernest of Saxe-Meiningen. He was buried with military honors at Maubeuge.

The Prince was seriously wounded in the fighting around Maubeuge, France. He was the son of Prince Frederick of Saxe-Meiningen, who was killed at Namur on August 23. Prince Ernest was born in 1895.

GERMAN CROWN PRINCE DEPOSED FROM COMMAND

Paris, Sept. 11—It is reported that Crown Prince Frederick William of Germany has been deposed as commander of one of the German armies, and has been replaced by Field Marshal Von Echor, because of the Prince's failure to lead his troops to victory.

Mr. and Mrs. Allan Williston, who were in town attending the funeral of the late Beryl Jarvis, returned to Moncton today.

GERMAN CENTRE ALSO RETREATING

Paris, Sept. 11—It is officially announced that the German centre as well as their right wing is retreating.

Paris, Sept. 11—"The Germans continue to retreat. The British have taken eleven cannon and many prisoners." This was the gist of an official report issued here to-night.
