

on the floor but was too sick to put up his usual game. High School tightened up about twelve minutes from time and, merely, through persistent individual effort, tied the score. St. John began holding and checking over the shoulder and the result was a short fisticuff bout between two members of the respective teams. That ended the illegal checking. Both teams were about on their last legs trying to break the tie. St. John kept feeding Wittrien, a dead shot, and finally he worked free and netted the decisive basket. High School had lost by one basket, for the gong went a few seconds after. The game was fast and very exciting, but the supporters of both schools felt that their teams had not been up to their usual game. Babbitt and Wittrien were high scorers for their respective teams.

High School started their league fixtures by defeating their old rivals from Rothesay at the Arctic Rink on the evening of Jan. 31. The game was very fast, but the five man defense and excellent combining powers of the local team was too much for the collegians. The first period ended 3-0, the second, 4-0, and the third, in which the High School let out and pressed very hard, 8-0. Rothesay, though a fast skating aggregation showed lack of knowledge of the game, whereas High School showed the result of skilled coaching. There was a fair crowd in attendance. A banquet was tendred the teams after the game.

On Feb. 8, a bunch of "future greats" assembled at the C. P. R. station for our annual hockey trip to St. John and Rothesay. After some anxious minutes for our manager we found that every one was present, even "Onion" and "Hick." At last we got started and thoroughly enjoyed our trip to the "Hilly City," but our dinner, (please don't speak ill of the dead!) We had it in a "chink" restaurant, and it was very substantial, nix, consisting of eggs on toast and a tooth-pick. Well, we again boarded the train, and soon arrived at Rothesay. "The way was long, the wind was cold, etc.," but at last we had climbed the old familiar hill at R. C. S., and found ourselves once more in the "South House." The boys were soon ready to go on to the ice where they worked off the effects of the train. Then the game started, and F. H. S. had no trouble in winning by a score of 5-1. After the game the best feeling prevailed, and we "hiked" for the train to St. John, so that we would be at the feed in the "Y" that night at seven.

At 9.30 a.m. our boys were at the St. John arena, ready to meet the St. John High School boys in the first interscholastic game played there this season. The few spectators, it seemed, came only to witness the skating exhi-
