

C Class Corn Roast

The C Class students assembled at the High School one fine September night after promising the attendants to be in (the nursery) at nine sharp.

That Friday night proved eventful to us as we started on our long walk which ended on the shore below the Tourist Camping Grounds. Here the boys made three bonfires, around which we toasted marshmallows, corn and everything in general, until about ten o'clock, when feeling sticky and sandy, as per schedule, we started for home. That is, most of us did, some, however, visited the Holy Rollers, though as yet they show little improvement.

C Class takes this opportunity to thank Miss Gregory and Mr. Bishop for so kindly chaperoning them.

ST. JOHN BANQUET

On Saturday, October 18th, about fifteen none too-confident girls assembled at the Parish House after the game to prepare for the long-looked-for occasion. Per usual the "Dauntless Three" were late. The boys arrived about 5.30 and immediately sat down. After peddling water to them for fully fifteen minutes the girls began to think they were a type of reservoir. It was afterwards discovered, however, that most of the said fluid adorned the red and black crepe paper, much to the detriment of the tablecloths. When the girls had dished up scallops, chicken, ice cream, etc., for half an hour they were pleased to adjourn to the dining room to listen to some eloquent(?) speeches from Mr. McFarlane, Mr. Miller, Mr. Bennett, Johnny Babbitt and Billy Rutter. The toast to the girls especially interested them, considering that the boys showed an extra amount of fervor in singing "For they are jolly good fellows."

Altogether the St. John boys displayed a fine amount of humor, but the girls would like to know what the size of their banquet hall is. It must be gigantic if it gets on the outside of all the ribbons they carry.

Shortly after the "feed" was over the St. John boys left, but some of the F. H. S. boys decided to stay and serve the girls! Needless to say, they were pleased! There followed numerous dances, the "wreck" being played by Messieurs Burton Kierstead and Archie Parker and Mademoiselles Marjorie Mersereau, Esther Cremin and Muriel Wainwright. Gradually the dancers left the scene of festivity until, at the last dance, two couples ornamented the floor. So ended the St. John Banquet!!
