

SOCIAL AND PERSONAL.

EVENTS OF THE WEEK IN CITY SOCIETY CIRCLES

And a Summary of the Happenings Elsewhere in New Brunswick—Celestial Talk—Moncton Society—Woodstock Whipsaws—Richibucto and St. Stephen News.

Sir Leonard and Lady Tilley, Mr. and Mrs. Simeon Jones, Miss Jones, Mrs. and Miss King, and Miss Bayard are among the St. John people in New York.

Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Gilbert have gone to Bathurst for a visit. Their rooms at Miss Wheeler's are now occupied by Mr. and Mrs. H. Gilbert.

Mrs. F. Hazen left for England last Wednesday. The charitable institutions and many needy families of our city will greatly miss the generous and helping hand of this ever sympathetic lady, who leaves behind her numerous friends who regret exceedingly her departure.

The travelling costume of a fair young girl called forth much admiration and many comments from a number of ladies and gentlemen congregated at the I. C. R. depot a few evenings ago. The dress was a plain tailor-made black cloth, with heavy military trimmings, a soft black felt hat with merely a thick white silk cord twisted round the crown, long undressed white musquetaire gloves, and soft white necktie. It doesn't sound remarkably striking, but judging from the many favorable remarks, it must have been a very pretty and attractive get-up.

Mrs. and Miss Gordon, who have been visiting Mrs. Geo. McLeod and Mrs. G. F. Smith, will return to their home in Picton next week.

Mr. E. I. Simonds has returned from his European trip. He and Mrs. Simonds are now at the Dufferin.

The Misses Walker arrived home Tuesday thoroughly pleased with their visit to the states.

Miss Murray has returned to the city and will remain at Mrs. Wright's, Wright street, during the winter.

Rev. Allen and Mrs. Daniel, who have been visiting at Mr. T. W. Daniel's, left Thursday evening for their home, at Crapaud, P. E. I.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Harrison and their daughter will vacate their residence at Mount Allison and spend the winter at Mrs. John Burpee's.

So I have very few gaieties so chronic. We shall have to make up this dull season in the festivities to come. Some brilliant weddings are promised us shortly. Among the enviable groom elect is a popular night editor, so I'm told.

Carleton's gossip tells that one of the prettiest and most enjoyable entertainments of the season was held last Thursday evening, in Mr. Wilmot's parlors. The tableaux were all very good, especially the illustrations of "Cinderella." Miss Ellis and Miss MacDuffee read, and songs were given by Misses Stuart, Slip and Connors.

Mrs. F. W. Daniel is staying with her mother, Mrs. R. R. Allan, where she expects soon to be joined by Mr. Daniel. They then intend taking a short trip south.

Miss Minnie Noble, who has been visiting for a time in Boston, has returned, and is at present in the city, with her sister, Mrs. Scammell.

Miss Morrison's many friends will be glad to learn that she is rather better this week.

Miss Alley who has been visiting Mrs. C. E. Scammell, has returned home.

Mrs. John Montgomery left town last week to visit her old home in Pugwash, Nova Scotia.

Mr. W. Morrison who has been spending some time with his friends in Carleton has returned to Toronto.

Miss Liddie Mayes of Moncton is visiting her grand mother, Mrs. Mayes on Winslow street.

Miss Mary Thompson of Fredericton is spending a short time at J. W. Brittain's.

Miss Ada Clarke is still with her aunt, Mrs. Leonard, Lancaster.

gone to Calais, Me., and St. John to visit friends.

Mrs. O'Grady, daughter of Co. Maunsel, who has been spending the summer at the barracks, left yesterday for her home in Ottawa. On Monday Mrs. O'Grady's baby was christened in the cathedral.

Miss Sophia Perley is in Hampton, visiting Mrs. Otty.

The university footballists play at St. John next Saturday, and expect a return match here Thanksgiving day.

Intelligence has been received announcing the death of Mr. McGinley of Picton, Nova Scotia, stepfather of Mrs. T. G. Loggie of this city.

Miss Mamie Coleman, daughter of Mr. Fred Coleman, U. S. Consul, will leave Fredericton on Friday for Florida in company with her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Whiteside, with whom she will spend the winter. Miss Mamie has a farewell party to-night at the Barker House.

Mr. and Mrs. Robinson, of St. John, spent Sunday in Fredericton, the guests of Col. Robinson, George street.

Mrs. Leonard Johnstone and Miss Minnie are expected home from Boston on Friday next.

Mrs. W. S. Berton, who has been visiting friends in this city, returned to her home in St. John yesterday.

Mr. Gilliebrand has returned from England and is now at the Barker House.

MONCTON SOCIETY.

MONCTON, October 24th.—Last Sunday was observed as Harvest festival in St. George's Church, but except for a small cross of red berries and grapes on the altar, the music was the only special feature of the occasion. Indeed so conspicuous was the absence of all decoration that it seemed almost symbolical of the dearth of harvest this year, and forced the mind into a melancholy contemplation of the almost certain discrepancy between supply and demand.

Rev. Mr. Talbot, however, preached an able sermon, setting forth the many blessings we had to be thankful for, as contrasted with the terrible sufferings of some of our neighbors, whose entire harvest had been destroyed by storms and floods.

The music had been prepared with much care, and showed a very attractive departure from the beaten track in the cornet accompaniment to the hymns, by Miss Greta Peters, who played with her usual taste and skill. Miss Peters is a pupil of Prof. White, of St. John, and though a very young artist, has already won some distinction as a cornet player.

Judge Botsford and Mrs. Byers returned last week from their trip to Quebec, having spent a very delightful holiday.

Miss Weldon has been in Amherst for the past week, visiting friends and the same time taking in the Amherst exhibition.

Miss Cameron of Halifax is in town visiting her brother, Mr. Owen Cameron of the I. C. R. freight department.

Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Butcher gave a small but most delightful dance at their residence on Alma street, last Thursday evening, and from all the fair maidens gathered together on that occasion—and they were many—"Isleult of Ireland" bore away the golden apple.

I hear that the Moncton Dramatic club intend reorganizing at an early date, and beginning the winter campaign with renewed vigor. The club have covered themselves with glory in the past, and I trust it will not be long ere they give us another of their excellent entertainments.

Miss Creighton, of Halifax, is visiting Mr. and Mrs. Proctor.

The Rev. J. M. Robinson, who was last week inducted pastor of St. John's Presbyterian church, preached his introductory sermon last Sunday morning, to a large congregation.

Mr. George Botsford, of St. John, spent last Sunday in town, the guest of Judge Botsford.

Mrs. P. S. Archibald returned, on Saturday, from a trip to Quebec, and departed again Monday morning for Antigonish.

Mrs. C. F. Hanington spent last Sunday in town, and I hear, on good authority, that we will soon have the pleasure of welcoming her among us as a permanent resident.

Mr. Charles Fawcett, of Sackville, paid a short visit to Moncton last Friday, en route to St. John.

Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Harris and Miss Harris left, last Thursday night, for Boston, where they will visit relatives.

Mrs. Chipman left town on Monday afternoon for a short visit to St. John.

Mrs. Cushing returned last week from a three months' visit to Boston.

Miss Lufery, of Charlottetown, is visiting her sister, Mrs. George McSweeney.

The congregation of St. George's church, are rejoicing in a very beautiful, new altar rail, which was brought out from England for them, by the Metropolitan. It is of twisted brass, and walnut, and is a great addition to the pretty little church, which has always had rather an unfinished look, until now owing to the absence of an altar rail.

Miss Harley, and Miss Thompson, of Newcastle, who have been brightening our town with their presence, for the past few weeks, returned to their respective homes this morning, leaving an aching void, in more than one masculine heart.

Mrs. Williamson's many friends, are glad to welcome her amongst them, once more, even though it be, for but a short visit.

And now I must tell you some of the good words I have heard for PROGRESS lately. Last Saturday, as I was plodding my weary way down town, I overtook a young lady friend, very much disguised in gossamer and umbrella, and as the rain was coming down in torrents, I expressed my surprise, at her courage. "Well!" she said, "I am going down to the post office for PROGRESS, there was no one else at home to send, and you know PROGRESS, is one of the things one cannot do without. If father did not take it, I would do with one pair of gloves less, in the year, and take it myself."

And then your correspondent, left his fair friend, and became absorbed in silent thought, and the result of his cogitations was this, that notwithstanding the awful fact that bread being in cents a loaf, with a prospect rising to nine, at any moment, that the potato crop is below the average, and the outlook for buckwheat cakes dreary in the extreme, there was one thing people would have, and that was—PROGRESS.

Mr. R. B. Boggs, of Amherst, is spending some weeks in town.

DORCHESTER DOTS.

DORCHESTER, Oct. 23, 1888. The "Devil's Half-acre" is dull just now and society news correspondingly scarce. Mr. and Mrs. Fairweather entertained a number of their friends at a dance last Thursday evening, and entertained them well. Dancing began about 8.30 and was kept up until three o'clock, with but one interruption—the usual one. Mr. and Mrs. Fairweather are comparatively recent settlers in Dorchester, but they show a praiseworthy disposition to make their presence felt in a very agreeable way.

Oh Friday, Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Wilbur gave a party of about the same dimensions as that of the preceding evening, and an equally enjoyable one. This is not the first time this season that people have enjoyed their hospitality, nor let me hope, the last.

It is said that Moncton ladies intend following Dorchester's lead by giving a return leap year ball before the winter sets in. Competition is the life of trade, and should Moncton carry out its idea, as I earnestly hope it will, Dorchester is prepared to im- even on its last effort.

I hear, too, that Amherst is preparing to give a large ball in the near future. If its invitation list is to include Dorchester, it will, no doubt, send a large delegation. The wretched weather prevented many from going over to Amherst's great fair last week but a few from Dorchester managed to spend a day there, notwithstanding.

Dorchester sent three candidates for attorneyship to Fredericton, last week—J.

TURNER & FINLAY.

R. Campbell, A. N. Charters and George H. Turner—while C. E. A. Simonds and Arthur Robinson, though now in Moncton, are old Dorchester boys. All were successful at the examinations, and are looking around now for an unoccupied chink somewhere. Mr. Turner, it is said, is going to settle in St. John, while Mr. Charters intends forming a co-partnership with A. W. Chapman, of this place. Mr. Campbell is thinking of establishing in his old home, Yarmouth, N. S., where he has many friends. Why not all remain here? We need a few more lawyers.

Miss Holmes returned on Friday to her home, in Stellarton, N. S.

Miss Belle Forster returned on Thursday from Richibucto, where she has been for some time. Peck and Fursman's Uncle Tom's Cabin company played here last night to a crowded house. Owing to the smallness of the stage, they were unable to put on their best scenery; but, notwithstanding this drawback, the entertainment was the best of the kind seen here for some time. There would be money in a music hall here, if anyone could be found possessing sufficient means and public-spiritedness to build one. But it seems that those who
