knowing that in this case there need be no dread of the expectation exceeding its realization. Next week I hope to be able to say more about it. Then I hear of a similar event to take place soon at a house on Sackville street, though this report has not yet assumed so tangible a form as the last. Finally, there are rumors, still more shadowy, of a large public ball to be given by the members of a fraternity which is famous for doing them well. Judging from our recent experience, if the project once gets a fair start it will not lack encouragement by party givers elsewhere, and I am sure everybody would gladly contribute to the good cause.

I am told that Mr. Broad is to deliver a lecture on the same subject in St. John sometime during the coming winter.

A Hallowe'en dance was given by Mr. Simpson, proprietor of the Queen, last evening, on the occasion of his retiring from that position. The supper was, like all Mr. Simpson's suppers, most enjoyable, and the party broke up with universal regret that they were so soon to lose the genial proprietor. Mr. Henry Maxwell will succeed Mr. Simpson in the care of the Queen.

DORCHESTER DOTS.

DORCHESTER, Oct. 30, 1888. We are oppressed this week with rumors more or less vague, of dances to take place in Dorchester and out of it. In addition to les oui-dires that I reported last week, of approaching festivities at Amherst and Moncton, I hear now of at least three large parties, which, if reports are to be believed are to be given in this town at no distant day. One of these rumors Mr. S. O. Turner has returned from a is to actualized this week at the residence trip to Boston. He reports everything of a prominent politician, and everyone is

Mr. and Mrs. W. Frank Tait gave a delightful party last Wednesday evening at their charming residence. The floor was like glass, the music good, and everyone was in the humor for dancing. At two o'clock, when the party broke up, all the dancers reviled tempus for fugiting so, and all voted Mr. and Mrs. Tait the most charming of hosts and hostesses.

Mrs. W. D. Douglas of Amherst spent Friday and Saturday here with her father, Mr. Joseph Hickman, who, I regret to say, has not been well.

Miss Julia Godfrey has returned from St. John, where she has been staying with her friend Mrs. Andrew W. Upham. Miss Godfrey is going to Moncton this week to visit Mrs. T. P. Williams, Before returning Miss Patton, of St. John, is here, the guest of Mrs. Thos. Keillor.

Mr. and Mrs J. B. Foster entertained a large number of their friends at their residence, on Thursday euening. Drive-whist was the principal occupation during the evening, with instrumental and vocal music by Miss Belle Forster and others. Drivewhist is a popular game here now, and it is proposed to form a whist club this winter, to take the place of the euchre club which furnished so much pleasant entertainment last year.

By the way, "Cecil Gwynne" appears not to have heard anything about Moncton's leap year ball, Docchester people would be glad to hear from him on the subject, in your next number, and learn what the prospects are. SPHINX.
