MUSIC, AT HOME AND ABROAD.

Report has it that the scene of Gilbert and Sullivan's forthcoming comic opera is laid in Egypt, and the action takes place during the reign of King Rameses. One of the princes of the royal house falls deeply in love with a mummy, and consults a learned Egyptian, said to possess the power of re-storing life. The second act takes place in a vast mausoleum among all sorts of mummies, and one after another the scientist brings them all to life, getting at the same time desperately in love with the embalmed but now revived beauties.

The above cutting will be of some interest, and will no doubt make many wonder whether there will be an Egyptian craze, similar to the Japanese one when the Mikado was brought out.

It sometimes nappens that an apology hurts a man more than the original offence did. This was true in the case of a musician, in a city not a hundred miles from St. John, who told a man about town that he proposed to leave the city. The man about town repeated the statement, and shortly afterwards it came to the ears of the musician, who, repenting of his confidence, sent for his acquaintance and cautioned him to say no more. "Oh, well, if you don't want people to know you're going away, of course I won't speak of it !" was the rejoinder that paralyzed the musician-who has a good many creditors.

The annual concerts of the Oratorio society are now fixed for the 10th and 11th of July, The Seasons being given on the 10th and Judas Maccabaus on the 11th, with probably a matinee on the afternoon of the 11th.

The performances will be given in the Mechanics' Institute, and not in a church, as last year. This will be welcome news to the singers, in one way, that they will not be debarred from having their efforts applauded by the audience ; though the old Institute is hardly the place to hear oratorio, especially as there is no organwhich seems to me to be almost absolutely necessary. The soloists are now settled, as follows : Soprano, Mrs. Heuston West : tenor, G. H. Parker; bass, G. B. Ronconi.

PLANS FOR AN OPERA HOUSE.

Where It Should Be Placed and How to Go About It.

PROGRESS received a communication a few days ago asking what had happened the opera house idea.

The opera house idea is in existence yet and so far as PROGRESS can learn, liable to result in something at any time. There can be no doubt that St. John wants an opera house and if the citizens and the press will endeavor to fill the want, next year this time the city will be able to accommodate any company and satisfy every amusement seeker.

The want of an opera house conceded, the questions which arise first are, how shall we get it and where will we place it.

PROGRESS will consider the latter question first. A number of sites have been mentioned, including the vacant lot between Germain and Charlotte streets, Chipman's field, so-called, and the Dockrill site, Union street. It would take a small fortune to purchase the site first named and Chipman's field is out of the question because of its location. To practical business men who have an eve on the future as well as the present, Dockrill's site is he place in the city which offers greater advanta es than any other.

ness of St. John is extending in that direction, and that in a very short time Union street will be an important business centre. In a few weeks the street will be pavedan improvement which can hardly be estimated, and which will be greatly enhanced by the passage of the street railway. As stated in PROGRESS some time ago, commercial men are looking to this street for ably taught her how to do it. business sites, and rents are advancing. Two or three years ago, when an opera house on this thoroughfare was spoken of, people laughed. Why? because then the street's reputation was none of the best. and cleanliness of today was absent.

I note, however, that "Felix" quotes manager Clarke as saying that, if he had been playing the Rehan company in St. John for a week, under the same arrangement as they played there, he would have lost $1,000 instead of $500. Here I must beg leave to differ with manager Clarke. There would be little or no money lost on a good company in St. John, if it played here under him-or any other gentleman.

The Orangemea of this city are preparing for a grand excursion to Williams' landing on the 12th. They are bound to have a grand time, because they know how to go about it. It is a splendid place to spend a day, and if the town should accompany the excursionists it would do it no harm.

The Listemann combination have been secured for the orchestra, and will, no doubt, give as good an account of themselves as heretofore. Anyhow, it is always a supreme delight, for myself at least, to listen to Herr Listemann.

Mrs. Shaw's singing at the concerts, on Tuesday and Wednesday evenings, was, with Mr. Morley's accompaniments, the only musical feature worth notice. Mrs. Shaw's beautiful voice has lost none of its the first and second galleries lead to the freshness and purity of tone, and her compass is as great as ever. One thing that is so pleasing with this talented lady is that she can so thoroughly interpret the different styles of musical composition, whether the highest classical music or only a single ballad. The only thing that struck me, the other evening, was that she took a little more liberty with the time in "With verdure clad" than was right. Mr. Morley's accompaniments were splendid, as usual, but he excelled himself in his accompaniment to Mr. Shaw's readings of the "Legend of the Organ Builder." I am sure that Mr. Shaw must have been greatly helped by it.

The minstrels will give their performances next Wednesday and Thursday, and will no doubt have full houses. The end men are: Bones, F-d B-r, A-r M-s and B-v B-v; with tambourines, Mr. T-s, C-y D-t and C-s H-n. Now I can assure you that there is any amount of fun in these men and that the audience will have nothing to complain of in their fooling. Look out for the little baby's-but I am afraid that I shall say too much and have the management giving me a rap over the knuckles for disclosing the secrets of the combination.

The first part will be the usual admixture of sentimental and comic songs with the chorus, winding up with the "cake-walk" for a finale. Then in the second part there will banjo solos and duets, a stump speech by C-y D-t, duet in character with dance, clog dances and breakdowns and the citizens will it. Some time ago an opera interest on the part of some of the gentlemen, the scheme flagged and halted at a certain point, but valuable information was obtained and the opera house idea is much advanced by reason of it. It was to this company that Messrs. Dockrill Bros. made a definite offer. They had their Union street property valued by competent men, who estimated its worth at $27,000. The follows: Deducting 25 per cent. of the valuation placed upon their property, payment. was estimated at $40,000, of which Messrs. Dockrill would take $20,000, leaving an equal amount to be subscribed. When the company halted, $6,000 had been subscribed and it is presumed that that amount can be regarded as secure. It now remains to get $14,000 subscribed.

PROGRESS wants to see the opera house built and will do all in its power to boom it, but it feels with many others that this means plenty of push on the part of the directors, backed up by public-spirited citizens who, when they subscribe, will not only look upon the act as a business transaction, but as one brick of those which will erect a creditable building in the city.

Owing to a lack of formances to which the public will have to pay admission.

It is high time that an enterprise like this was being set on foot-though I deplore the fact that one public-spirited man, instead of many, should bear the expense. The plain truth is that the stock company is the only school for the actor and with the decline of the stock system the theatre has offer made to the company was, in brief, as been going to the dogs, these few years past. Such a dramatic abortion as an actor able to succeed in but one or two roles Messrs. Dockrill offered it to the company would have been hissed from the boards a for $20,000 and agreed to take stock in decade ago. The many failures of travelling companies, during the last two or three The amount of stock required to be raised seasons, have inclined the profession to think favorably of a return to the good old way; and if this school succeeds, as it ought, it will fairly turn the tide.

There can be no question that Mr Boucicault is of all persons best fitted to instruct amateurs. As a dramatist, I have no regard whatever for him, but as an actor and stage manager I admire him exceedingly. As for Mr. Palmer-the American stage, the best interests of dramatic art, have never had a truer friend. If any further proof of this were needed, hi splendid scheme provides it.

June 16; 30 days expire July 16. Monopoly vs. Monopoly.

"It may be a fact," says an Arizona exchange, "that the Western Union Telegraph company is a giant and grasping monopoly as charged in some quarters, but it nevertheless remains that the building of a line of this company to Bob Cat City has broken up one of the worst monopolies that ever infested our city. We refer to Col. Bolo, who possessing the only tree in town with a large, strong limb at the proper distance from the ground, has been in the habit of renting it out to lynching parties at $5 per meeting. It has, of course, been an inspiring sight, and one that spoke volumes for the get up and get of our citizens, to see the colonel standing on his well-kept lawn, and when business was brisk, hear him shout : 'Cut down the gentleman! Next!' But nevertheless it has been rather expensive and he could have well afforded to rent the tree as low as 12 bits or $2.

"The Western Union Telegraph company's plant has, however, done away with all this. Last night One Eyed Smith was adjusted to the cross-bar of the pole in front of the post-office by the Willing Workers' Vigilaance committee, while Yankee Bunker, Pizen Pete and another gentleman whose name we could not learn were suspended from the next three poles to the north under the auspices of the Western Improvement society. It is rumored that a prominent citizen of Paradise Valley was seen securely attached to another pole four miles north of here. If it is true the North Side Higher Plane association have commenced operations, as we trust it has, there being a loud demand for such an organization in the valley, this makes Bob Cat City independent of the colonel's tree.
