

SOCIAL AND PERSONAL.

St. Anthony, forget to count his beads for a moment, and take just one peep. But the description of their charms will be the pleasant task of some future correspondent. Mine, just at present, is to speak of the guests, not the princesses.

And so I will begin by describing two lovely sisters, who may be frequently met on a fine afternoon, shopping or paying calls, and nearly always together, for they are as devoted to each other as if they were twins. These are Mrs. C. J. Butler, wife of the manager of the Merchants' Bank of Halifax, and Mrs. W. E. Stavert, wife of the manager of the Moncton branch of the Bank of Nova Scotia.

Mrs. Stavert, the younger sister, is tall and slender, with a sweet, fair face, whose perfect oval shape and rather pensive expression, remind one a little of the pictures of Beatrice Cenci. She has large grey eyes and light brown hair, and with her delicate complexion and tall, slight figure, she is "like some tall lily bending on its stalk."

Mrs. Butler is more like a rosebud. She is not quite so tall or so slender as Mrs. Stavert, but they are very much alike otherwise, only that Mrs. Butler's bright, dimpled face is set in a frame of soft brown curls. Her eyes are dark blue, and her color brighter than Mrs. Stavert's, and she has the sweetest rosy mouth imaginable. In addition to her other charms, Mrs. Butler possesses more accomplishments than usually fall to the lot of one lady, being a gifted musician, an artist of no small merit, and a clever amateur actress.

But it is not alone by their personal charms that these ladies attract admiration. Their sweet disposition and charming manner have won for them the hearts of friends, and although they have only been among us a short time, there are few things that we should regard as such a social calamity as the removal of either Mr. Butler or Mr. Stavert from their respective posts.

Of all Moncton's fair ladies, perhaps the one to whom the term "beautiful" could be appropriately applied is Miss Minnie Galt, sister of Mr. John Galt, of the engineering department of the I. C. R. Miss Galt's features are of a higher type than is usually met with, carrying one back irresistibly to the days of ancient Rome. She has the queenly figure, small head and clear-cut features of the Roman maidens, with masses of dark, nearly black, hair, clear olive complexion and slightly haughty expression, contradicted by the peculiar gentleness of her beautiful dark eyes.

Some years ago there was an entertainment given in the Pythian temple, by members of St. George's church, at which there were a series of beautiful tableaux, among others the scene where Cornelia shows her jewels to her friend. Miss Galt took part, dressed as a Roman maiden, and I have always thought of her as she looked then. She seemed to be in her proper dress and character, and I wish she could have had her portrait painted, in the classical dress which suited her so well.

I am painfully aware that I have done Miss Galt nothing like justice, but the fault lies with my too feeble pen, and not with my subject.

Mrs. G. J. O'Doherty left town on Monday, for New York, to join Mr. O'Doherty, who is already in that city, and spend a few weeks travelling in the states.

Dr. A. H. Chandler, of Dorchester, was in town on Monday.

Miss Annie Cooke returned to Moncton on Friday from her visit to Mrs. J. B. Forster.

Mr. and Mrs. G. B. Smith, of Boston, have engaged rooms in Dorchester, and are giving instructions in oil-painting to a class of nearly 20 ladies. The specimens of Mr. and Mrs. Smith's work which are exhibited in the drug store windows are beautiful in the extreme and superior to anything of the kind shown here for some time.

Messrs. H. A. Powell and A. W. Bonnet, barristers, of Sackville, were in Dorchester on Thursday last.

Miss Stronach returned to Moncton on Tuesday from her visit to Mrs. J. F. Teed.

Mr. George E. Steadman, ex-judge of probate for Albert county, was in Dorchester on Wednesday.

Mr. W. W. Wells left for Fredericton, Monday evening, to attend the supreme court.

Mr. W. A. Russell, barrister, of Shediac, was in Dorchester on Monday.

Mr. Frank A. McCully, barrister, of Moncton, was in town on Monday and Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. John Hickman, sr., gave a very pleasant card party, Saturday evening, in honor of Miss Sayre. Lent was strictly observed with regard to dancing, but the guests apparently enjoyed themselves no less on that account.

Trinity church choir, under the excellent supervision of the rector, is hard at work at a lot of new music for Easter, embracing several new anthems. Their lot is not a bad one of roses, just now.

PANSY.

AMHERST, N. S.

"Progress" is for sale in Amherst by G. G. Bird and B. C. Munro.

APRIL 11.—Much regret was expressed upon hearing of the death of Mr. George Hubbard, of Lower Cove. He was highly respected and will be greatly missed in that section of the country. He was the father of Mrs. Max Sterne, so well known in St. John.

Mr. and Mrs. Rupert Bent have removed from their house, and it is now being fitted up with all the modern improvements preparatory to its occupancy by Mr. Kelsey, resident engineer for the London contractors of the ship railway.

Miss McGrigor, one of our popular school teachers, has returned from Halifax, after a sojourn at home for a week or two to recuperate.

Mr. John Sharpe is now on a visit here after an absence of twelve years. He came especially to see his mother, Mrs. Robert Sharpe, who has been quite seriously ill.

It is a fact beyond dispute that in no town in the maritime provinces does one see prettier, better and more stylishly dressed ladies than in this old and aristocratic town of Amherst. On a fine summer afternoon when they are out en masse to attend a 5 o'clock tea, their toilette is simply perfection, and to the masculine eye nothing is wanting.

Judge Townsend was in town last week. He likes to visit his native place and his friends are glad to see him.

Mrs. Col. Clarke and Col. Stewart, of Halifax, were here a few days ago, the guest of their sister, Mrs. Senator Dickey.

Mrs. W. B. McNutt, of Halifax, is at present visiting her mother, Mrs. James Bent.

Miss Johnstone is still suffering from the effects of her fall last winter.

Mrs. Seaman, the estimable grandmother of Mr. D. Carrith, of St. John, has quite recovered from her illness.

Mrs. Coator and Miss Hatchford are both out again, after their late indisposition.

Very sorry to hear of Miss Fannie Dunlap's serious illness from nervous prostration.

Miss DeWolfe leaves this week for her home, in Pictou. She leaves many friends who regret her departure.

Charles P. Fullerton, son of Mr. W. M. Fullerton, Q. C., is able to be out again, after a short illness.

Rev. S. Gibson, rector of St. George's, Parraboro, and Mrs. Gibbons were in town last week, the guests of the vicar and Mrs. Harris.

ST. STEPHEN.

APRIL 10.—St. Stephen is unusually quiet, not anything of importance having occurred socially since last week. Calais, more original in entertainments, enjoyed a topic party, given by Mrs. George Eaton, last Friday evening. About 60 guests were present and a very jolly and amusing evening was passed.

Mr. Herbert C. Grant returned on Wednesday from New York city, where he has been during the past two weeks. Mr. Grant visited New York expressly to hear German opera. He is a great lover of music, a fine pianist and much interested in opera.

Miss Bessie Cameron, of St. John, is spending a few weeks with her brother, Mr. Augustus Cameron.

Dr. Frank Moore arrived home from Baltimore last week. He has been making a special study of dentistry and will now open an office in Calais.

McKenzie will be missed in social and musical circles. Mr. Brown has the contract for the Dexter & Pictou railway, and is now making preparations to construct it.

Mr. Ralph Horton returned home last week, having spent the winter studying at the Worcester, Mass., academy.

Mr. Hume Bates has recovered from his illness. His friends are pleased to see him about town again.

Mrs. Breen, Mrs. Dwyer, Miss Cullinan and several other ladies of the Church of the Holy Rosary, have been busily engaged during the past week making the carpets for their new church. The church will be blessed and opened for service on Easter Day. It is very handsome and a great ornament to Union street. Prof. Buell gave a very interesting entertainment in the church, on Tuesday evening. The proceeds go towards liquidating the debt.

The chief topic in town is the hotel. Everyone thinks it should be built, but nobody seems to care to contribute much toward building it. If we had a few more business men with the push and energy of Mr. Julius T. Whitlock, I venture to say, in three months' time the hotel would be erected and ready for occupancy.

Mr. Alfred Street, of Fredericton, is the guest of her sister, Mrs. John D. Chipman.

I regret to learn that Mrs. Waterbury is suffering from an attack of bronchitis.

Miss Mattie Harris is visiting friends in Boston.

Miss Belle McElroy went to Woodstock on Wednesday, to visit her friend, Mrs. Wellington Belyea.

Mr. James Tipping is confined to his residence, with a serious illness.

Mr. James G. Stevens is making a brief visit to Fredericton.

BATHURST.

APRIL 10.—A large audience greeted the appearance of our amateurs in the Masonic hall, last Wednesday evening. Their very creditable rendition of that difficult and rather heavy play, She Stoops to Conquer, speaks volumes for their application and energy. Some of the parts were very cleverly sustained, notably that of Tony Lumpkin, which in the hands of Mr. W. F. Pepper was a most unqualified success. The acting of Mr. T. M. Burns, in the character of Charles Marlow, was excellent. Miss McLean was a very handsome Kate Hardcastle, and Miss Minnie O'Brien a graceful and pretty Constantine.

Mr. Bertie Lannigan and Mr. Baldwin as George Hastings and Mr. Hardcastle respectively, were very good. Miss Cullen sustained her reputation for good acting in her part of Mrs. Hardcastle. The minor parts of the play were well taken by Messrs. Frank McLean, D. Doyle, J. M. McGinley and J. Melvin. The entertainment closed with the laughable farce, Paddy Miles, with John J. Harrington as the Limerick Boy. His acting kept the audience convulsed with laughter. The other parts were taken by: Doctor Coates, Bertie Lannigan, Harry Coates, W. F. Pepper; Mrs. Fidget, Miss Cassie McGinley; Jane, Miss G. Hutton; Job, D. Doyle; Reuben, James McGinley.

Miss J. Burns left on Thursday for Woodstock, where she will be the guest of Miss Janie Wilbur for a few weeks. She was accompanied as far as St. John by Miss Minnie Burns.

The Bathurst division S. of T., gave a concert in their rooms, on Thursday evening. The programme comprised solos, choruses, recitations, and readings.

Miss Belle Mullins fell on the sidewalk in front of her home, last week, and injured her knee. Under Doctor Duncan's skilful attendance she is rapidly recovering from the effects of her fall.

That enthusiastic sportsman, Mr. Frank Gattin, shot two wild geese and a brant, at the Point last week.

Mr. A. R. Racey left on the express Monday night, for Woodstock, to take charge of the branch of the Merchants Bank of Halifax in that town. Though his stay among us was comparatively short, his many excellent qualities have won for him hosts of friends, who will long hold him in kindly remembrance.

Mr. John Lawlor, of Chatham, was in town during the week.

Mr. Finen, of your city, who is in charge of the post office here, at present, is winning golden opinions from the public, for his courteous manners, and strict attention to business.

Mr. John Sivewright was in Carleton for a couple of days last week.

I am glad to learn that Mrs. K. F. Burns is recovering from her recent serious illness.

SAR WHITE.

WOODSTOCK.

Messrs. George Baker and W. Seaborn returned last week from Kingston, Ont., where they have been attending military school.

Mr. H. A. Fleming is now the agent of the Bank of Nova Scotia here, in place of Mr. William Blackburn, who has the Liverpool agency.

Mr. J. Trainor, of Halifax, is acting as agent for the Merchants' bank here.

NEWCASTLE.

APRIL 10.—We had a quiet wedding here on Tuesday morning, when Mr. Donald Sutherland, of the firm of Sutherland & Creighton, was married to Miss Maitland, of Scotland. The ceremony was performed at 11 a. m., at the Waverley, by the Rev. Mr. Johnston, and the happy couple took the accommodation for the South at noon. Mr. P. B. Wheeler, in his customary courteous manner, assisted the groom, and Miss Keoughan, of St. John, waited on the bride.

In a few days we shall lose one of our flaxen-haired boys, who is going to try his fortune in the terminal city of the great West. I imagine he will be considerably missed about the curling rink.

Mr. Allan Farrell, who has been in the West for three or four years, is expected home this spring.

Mrs. E. Sinclair and Mrs. Aitken will leave in a few days for a short visit to St. John, and possibly Boston.

Dr. A. C. Smith returned, on Saturday, from Montreal, where he took a degree in medicine from Bishop's college.

Mrs. T. W. Crocker will give a drive-whist party after Easter.

Mrs. Will Mitchell is expected home on Friday. The "bank staff" go up to the singing school. They don't go inside the building, but perch on the fence near by. We have christened them "The Crows." It's not often you see a dicky-bird among a lot of crows.

We had a slight fall of snow last Tuesday and on Wednesday quite a number enjoyed their final sleigh drive. Miss Sargeant drove to Chatham and back.

Three of our young gentlemen frequently seen together on the south side of the square, are accused of corresponding with Progress. They evidently appreciate the accusation.

SHEDAC.

APRIL 10.—Amongst those who have visited the town since last week I noticed Mr. and Mrs. George Willet, who spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Hamilton, and Mr. Whitman who passed the day with his old employers, Messrs. Harper & Webster.

Mr. W. A. Russell spent Sunday at Sackville, where his wife went some time ago, for the benefit of her health.

Mrs. W. E. Bishop is expected here this week from the states.

The many friends of Miss Jennie Webster are sorry to hear that she is sick.

Mr. R. C. Barnes is home at present for about a month.

Messrs. Kelly, Brown and Barnes, of Shediac, and Dr. Moore, of Sackville, have gone out on a shooting excursion, and expect to be absent some days.

Quiet tea socials are quite the rage here, just now, there being a tea party at Mrs. B. B. Smith's last week and one at Mrs. Henderson's tonight, with several more in prospect.

Quite a number of visitors have been with us lately, among others Miss Bessie Taylor, of Moncton, visiting the Misses Webster, at Riverside cottage; Mr. and Mrs. George A. Day, of St. John, guests of the Misses Harper, at Sunny Brae, and Miss Patton, of River Philip, visiting her friend, Miss Helen Inglis.

The Misses May and Sadie Harper are again at home, after an absence of two months spent in St. John.

Miss Mabel Smith is, I believe, preparing for a trip to New York. She will be accompanied by her aunt, Mrs. Beake.

KINGSTON, KENT CO.

APRIL 10.—I am grieved to hear of the departure of one of our prominent citizens, Mr. Robert Harding, who left for the West this morning, where he will reside with his son, who, I believe, has become quite wealthy.

The many friends of Mr. D. A. McDonald are glad to see him again. Mr. McDonald has been spending the summer at his home in Pictou.

Mr. George Kinnear, of Shediac, has been here, visiting his sister, Mrs. Morrison. He returned home this morning.

Mrs. John Cameron has been spending a few days in town, visiting her many friends.

Messrs. B. Cleveland and G. F. Doherty are off on a goose-shooting expedition. It is to be hoped they will have better luck than Fred had shooting caribou.

Among the visitors this week, I particularly notice Mr. T. N. Vincent, Mr. George A. Noble, Mr. and Mrs. Parlee, of St. John; Messrs. J. Sandham, H. J. Weary, W. Webster, of Montreal, and Mr. R. N. Allwood, of Moncton.

TRAMP.

TRACADIE.

Easter Cards to Be Coveted.

That tasty genius in the book and bric-a-brac line, Mr. Alfred Morrissey, has Easter cards so beautiful that all the prettiest girls in town have fallen in love with them. Mr. Morrissey cannot help this, but he tries to remove the cause by selling it as fast as possible. Progress was surprised, this week, to note the steady sale of the attractive holiday souvenirs. It is impossible to describe the many suitable and beautiful designs on Mr. Morrissey's counters and tables. Ladies and gentlemen who are looking for remembrances of the approaching festive season could not do better than call upon Mr. Morrissey.

Successful as Before.

Another soiree litteraire was held last Monday by the members of the Berlitz school, this time at Mrs. Fisher's and with the same success. After about an hour's general conversation in French and some recitations, one of the ladies present sang with a powerful voice the Marseillaise. The Berlitz teachers were greatly impressed by the masterly manner in which their national hymn was rendered and presented to the fair singer their warmest compliments. The next social meeting will be held at Mrs. Turnbull's.

They May Make Home Runs.

Mr. B. R. Macaulay, of Messrs. Macaulay Bros. & Co., has returned from his trip to England. Mr. Macaulay was on the same steamer as the American base ballists, and if he wasn't converted before, probably threw up the sponge when he saw "baby" Anson. But base ball doesn't disturb him half so much as his new goods will the ladies of St. John. They are bound to "steal home" with them.

Keep Away From Him.

The friends of "Dave" Connell had better give him a wide berth while he's hovering around his excavation contract. He's the only man that has had the drop on Progress, and that was last Saturday, when in a somewhat argumentative conversation he pulled two dynamite cartridges from his coat pocket. He was alone in a second.
