HALIFAX.

Nov. 27.—"Fortune" does not always "favor the brave" as evidenced by the rain storm that put in an appearance on Miss Fuller's wedding morn. an appearance on Miss Fuller's wedding morn. Wednesday was the day appointed, eleven o'clock the hour, and St. Mary's Cathedral the place, and punctually to the moment Mr. E. G. Kenny arrived, accompanied by Mr. Louis Fuller, brother of the bride. All eyes were turned when Miss Fuller ap-peared leaning on the arm of her father. Her cos-tume was of heavy white corded silk exquisitely trimmed with Brussels lace and orange blossoms. Her tulle veil was caught by a handsome diamond ornament. ornament.

The bridesmaids were Miss Kenny and Miss Kate Kenny and little Beatrice (Trinie) Fuller. The Misses Kenny wore dainty costumes of pale pink Misses Kenny wore dainty costumes of pare pink silk and tulle, with green ribbon trimmings, green hats to match. Miss Trinie looked sweet in a white silk frock with pink ribbons, a large hat with pink feathers. All the bridesmaids carried elegant bouquets. Messrs. Wm. Thomson, W. A. Henry, John Smith, Frank Phelan, D. A. Curry and G. Hart, acted the part of ushers. The aisle was car-peted in red, and lowly flowers and ribbons were used for decoration. The chairs placed for the bride peted in red, and lovely flowers and ribbons were used for decoration. The chairs placed for the bride and groom were very handsome. The seats were of Indian work and they were upholstered in white moire antique. His Grace the Archbishop, with the Rev. George B. Kenny, S. J., Rev. Father Daly, and Rev. E. F. Murphy wers present. Rev. G. B. Kenny, uncle of the groom performed the ceremony. The service was very long as the Nuptial Mass was celebrated. The number of presents was something wonderful, hundreds of gifts including a chest of silver from the groom's parents, etc., etc. Thursday afternoon was the day appointed for Miss West's wedding and just at half past three the sun managed to struggle through the heavy clouds, and bestow its warmth and blessing on the happy pair. The marriage took place at St. Luke's cathedral, which was crowded with curious onlookers. urchins poked their inquisitive little noses even into the bride's carriage. At the hour named, Mr. Findlay Dalziel, of Can-terbury, Eng., arrived on the scene, accompanied by Lieut. Wallace, of the West Riding regiment. Miss West soon followed, escorted by her father, Mr. Angustus West, and assisted by Miss Jean West, Miss Mary Abbott, Miss Millie Cady and Miss Ina Mabel West (a young niece of the bride). The service was performed by the Rev. W. B. King. The choir and clergy preceded the wedding party to the chancel. The bride was elegantly attired in a robe of white satin, with a magnificent train, which was borne by two dear little sailor laddies, Masters Jack and Dick French. Two teas took place, song was vigorously encored. Two teas took place, one at the Jost Mission chapel and the other at St. Mark's hall. Everyone appeared pleased with their reception, and the teas were enormously good. The Masons of St. Andrew's chapter invited their lady friends to a dance, and about 200 ladies and gentlemen danced to the inspiring music of the West Riding regiment. A number of ladies and gentlemen, notably militay residents of the city, started for a ride across country. I imagine they did not find country just to their famey. Mrs. Fenn was unable to go the whole distance planned, and poor Prince Dhulup got a couple of tumbles. Miss Noyes is a fine rider and kept up splendidly; her father, Col. Noyes, was thrown. Some of the horses became unmanageable, and take it all together the ride could hardly be called a success. Try, try again, is evidently the motto of the members of this riding club.
On Saturday last, about a dozen ladies with three cavaliers each started for a long ride. The day was fine and mild, and from all accounts they had a very jolly time, winding up with a tea at the Wellington barracks.

Nov. 27 .- Mrs. C. H. Smith's drive whist party, on Thursday evening last, was a most enjoyable affair. About 40 guests were present. Mrs. R. K. Ross and Mayor Grimmer were fortunate enough to capture the prizes. Several young ladies belonging to the "King's Daughters," with Mrs. Bolton to aid and direct Daughters," with Mrs. Bolton to all and anect them, have for some weeks been most industriously working for a fair, which they held in Mrs. Bolton's parlors, on Monday afternoon and evening. These parlor fairs are quite a novelty here, and many availed themselves of the opportunity to buy pretty things for Christmas. Some of the articles offered for sale were very beautiful, and all were the handi-merk of the young ladies. Onite a handsome sum work of the young ladies. Quite a handsome sum of money was realized, which will be devoted to charity.
