And the Happenings in Social Circles of Fredericton, Moncton, Richibucto, Dorchester, St. Stephen, Milltown, Bathurst, Sussex, Amherst, Truro, Calais, Etc.

The Queen's birthday being so bright and warm during the early part of the day, many took advantage of it and went out of town.

Another party also spent the day in the country and returned to the residence of Mrs. W. C. Drury for a dance in the evening.

Mrs. Thomas A. Temple entertained a few of her friends on the 24th at her country residence.

Those who did not go out of town enjoyed themselves, in spite of the rain in the evening.

The marriage of Miss Florence Travers and Dr. McInerney takes place on Wednesday, June 4th, and will be celebrated at the R. C. Cathedral at the early hour of 7 a. m.

Mr. E. I. Simonds, who has spent the winter in California and Alaska, has returned to St. John.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Palmer and family will reside in Hampton for the summer months.

Mrs. W. A. Cathers, 182 St. James street, gave a birthday party, for her little girl, last Wednesday evening.

There were too many attractions in town for people to care to go out of it. This was composed of about 20 young people, who thoroughly enjoyed the day up the Nashuasis, leaving the city about 10 o'clock, in four boats, and returning at 5 in the evening.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. C. Gillibrand appeared out at St. Dunstan's church on Sunday, and this week are receiving their friends at the Springhill hotel, where they have a very pretty suite of rooms.

On Sunday, Mrs. Gillibrand wore a pearl grey costume, with pink trimmings, pink bonnet and gloves. On Wednesday she received in a handsome faldard silk with cream ground, covered with large pink roses and green leaves, green silk sash same shade as leaves on dress, white lace vest, gold ornaments.

Miss Gillibrand is at Springhill, the guest of Mrs. Sewell, and Mr. T. S. Gillibrand has arrived here from Chatham, where he has been enjoying the Salmon fishing. He and his daughter will remain on this side about six weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. George Y. Dibbbee are going up the Nashuasis on Friday to spend about ten days. Mr. Dibbbee is going to try his luck with the trout. I hope he may be more successful than he was on the Miramichi last week.

After a long illness, Mrs. O'Connor, wife of Mr. T. O'Connor, of the crown land office, died at her home on King street, Friday evening. The deceased lady, who had a large circle of friends, was 78 years of age. Her remains were interred this afternoon.

Rev. H. P. Winter and Mr. A. L. Richardson, of Portland, Me., brother and brother-in-law of Mr. H. G. Winter, of the customs, have been visiting their friends here; they left again on Tuesday. It is nineteen years since Mr. Winter has visited his native city. He officiated in the Methodist church Sunday evening.

The "Fessils" had a very enjoyable picnic on Tuesday afternoon up at the Hermitage, and they went in boats. They returned about eight o'clock in the evening and went to the residence of Mrs. C. H. Beckwith where they finished up with a dance.

Miss Mira Randolph has a picnic to-morrow at the Hermitage. The only drawback to these pleasant entertainments just at present is the mosquitoes.

The lawn tennis season has really begun, and any fine afternoon now you may see the young ladies and gentlemen thoroughly enjoying themselves on the tennis court in the Officers Square. The band played for them Tuesday afternoon, adding much to the pleasure of the game.

Mrs. Forster leaves on the 3rd of June, to rejoin her husband in Halifax. Mr. Forster has taken a house in a very pleasant location, where they will begin housekeeping, and what is Fredericton's loss will be Halifax's gain.

MAY 29TH.—Last Friday was perhaps peaceful, not to say uneventful, Queen's birthday ever seen in Moncton. Indeed, if her most gracious Majesty could have taken a stroll through our streets on that day, she would have felt satisfied that there was peace in the colonies, even if the people were not sympathetically loyal. She might have felt a slight doubt in her mind as to whether it was a Canadian or an American town, for while the glorious "old Union Jack" floated from the tower of the general offices, the Stars and Stripes coquetted with the breeze from the flagstaff of Hotel Brunswick.

A manifesto has been issued to the effect that the small boy and the fire cracker were to be a hallowed memory instead of an unpleasant fact. The pop of the latter and the triumphant howl of the latter were only heard in the extreme suburbs. A number of fishing parties were formed, some for Campbellton, others for points nearer home.

Mrs. P. S. Archibald and her two children went to Campbellton, where they were joined by Mr. Archibald on his return from Quebec, and a very delightful day was spent.

Mr. J. K. Bruce also formed one of a Campbellton fishing party, and when that gentleman started for home, the Restigouche mourned four of its choicest salmon, victims of his hook and line. Those who remained in town attended the races at the driving park. I do not think I ever saw so many ladies on the grand stand, for as a rule, Moncton ladies take very little interest in horse racing, and rather consider it infra dig to be seen at the trotting park.

And the sun fell and all the land was dark, and people came home to their tea very tired and rather cross.

Mr. Geo. McSweeney left town last week for Summerside, P. E. I., where he will spend the next two or three weeks.

Mr. Hugh McKenzie, C. E. of the Cape Breton railway spent some days in town last week. Mr. McKenzie was accompanied by his bride, formerly Miss Bourinot of Port Hawkesbury, to whom he was married on the 20th. The bridegroom is very well known in Moncton, and his numerous friends joined in wishing him all possible happiness. The happy couple were the guests of Mr. W. B. McKenzie of the I. C. R., during their stay.

Speaking of weddings reminds me that I hope to be able to give a description of the wedding of two of Moncton's popular young folks next week. And as the invitations are already out, there can be no harm in referring to it. It is understood that the prospective bridegroom will make his last appearance in public, as a bachelor, to-morrow night.

Mr. Henry Stavert, of Summerside, spent a few days in town last week, visiting his brother, Mr. W. E. Stavert of the Bank of Nova Scotia.

Mr. Hawkins of the Merchants' Bank of Halifax, Dorchester, spent the holiday in Moncton. [N. B. It might be as well to leave this item in type for future use, as it seems hardly worth while to insert it.]

Mr. Percy Chandler of Dorchester, who spent last year at the New York College of Medicine, is spending his holiday in town, continuing his course of study at Dr. Chandler's office.

The many friends of Mrs. William Stevens, a well known member of St. George's church, will regret to hear that she met with a very painful accident last Monday, falling the entire length of a flight of stairs and dislocating her shoulder. Mrs. Stevens is an elderly lady and such a fall is a serious matter to one of her years, but she is doing wonderfully well and with care will soon be herself again.

Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Steeves left town on Monday for Halifax, to take the steamer for Europe and add two more to the long list of Canadians who will visit the Paris exhibition. This is the second trip to Europe that Mr. and Mrs. Steeves have made during the last few years. Their friends join in wishing them a pleasant journey.

The safe arrival of the Parisian is reported. Among the passengers were Dr. E. B. Chandler, Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Harris, and Miss Harris, of Moncton.

The large congregations who attended mass and vespers at St. Bernard's church last Sunday enjoyed a rare musical treat.

Mr. Albert Duke, of Boston, an accomplished musician at present sojourning in Moncton at both services, singing in the morning a very beautiful solo, Ave Maria, admirably united with his fine voice, and which was thoroughly appreciated by all those who had the pleasure of hearing him.

Mr. W. B. McKeeney, of Halifax, was in town last week, visiting friends.

Hon. A. E. Bosford, and Mr. Josiah Wood, M. P., of Sackville, were in town on Monday.

The Rev. Donald M. Bliss, of Westmorland, paid a short visit to Moncton, on Monday.

The work of building the new rectory for St. George's church is to be begun at once. The rector's family intend moving this week, so the old building can be removed at once and the cellar dug. The new house will be ready for occupation by November.

Tomorrow evening, the Amateur Dramatic club intend presenting to the public the popular society drama of Caste, which has been in course of preparation for some months. The play will be put on with every advantage of costume and scenery, and should draw a crowded house, especially as the proceeds are to go towards fitting up the grounds of the Athletic association.

The cast of characters will be as follows:

Escher Eccles, Mrs. J. S. Benedict
Polly Eccles, Mrs. J. S. Benedict
Marquise de St. Maur, Mrs. J. S. Benedict
D'Alroy, Mrs. W. E. Stewart
Capt. Haines, Mr. G. J. Butcher
Eccles, Mr. W. G. Paver
Sam Gerridge, Dr. C. A. Murray
Mr. W. C. Desbrisay, late of the Summerside Journal, was in town on Saturday, on his way home to P. E. I. from Ottawa.

Mr. E. J. Smith, of Shediac, was in town on Friday.

Sheriff McQueen, of Dorchester, paid a short visit to Moncton, yesterday.

Mr. J. E. Price, of Campbellton, was in town yesterday.

Mr. Thomas Robb, town clerk, leaves today for the Restigouche for a ten days holiday. He will return the latter part of next week.

Mr. L. B. Archibald, of Truro, was in town on Friday.

The manager of the B. & M. railway has organized an excursion every Monday morning from Moncton to Buctouche, the train to return in the evening, and the different clergymen of the town highly disapprove of his action, so there is a slight unpleasantness all around.

[Progress is for sale in Shediac at H. Stewart's store.]

MAY 29.—The 24th passed off very quietly here. Quite a number went to Moncton to enjoy the holiday, among whom were Mr. and Mrs. B. Smith, Miss Sarah Barnes and Miss Sadie Avar, Dr. L. J. Bellivan and Mr. O. M. Melanson. Among the strangers in town on that day I noticed Dr. Bridges and Mr. S. Robertson.

Miss Maggie Evans and Mrs. W. A. Russell returned from Sackville on Monday. I am glad that Mrs. Russell is recovering from her recent illness.

Dr. F. J. White went to Sackville Monday to attend the closing exercises of Mr. Allison.

Miss May Harper spent Monday in Moncton.
