

SOCIAL AND PERSONAL.

Frederickton where she was called by the death of her father, Mr. McCarthy. Mrs. Landry has the sympathy of her many friends in her bereavement.

His many Dorchester friends are delighted to see here once more Mr. J. R. Campbell, barrister, of St. John. He is spending a short holiday with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Rector Campbell, at the rectory.

Miss Maud Hanington has returned from her recent visit to St. John.

Miss Ford, who last year had charge of the school at Upper Dorchester, has returned from her vacation at Richibucto. She is now in charge of one of the departments of the superior school, having taken the place of Miss Steeves, who was obliged to give it up on account of sickness.

Mr. George Palmer, an old Dorchester boy, and now of Boston, is once more at his old home, having come here for a short holiday before resuming his work at the Hub. He met with a hearty welcome from his many friends.

Mr. J. W. Y. Smith is making a visit to St. John—a habit of his. He is expected home today.

Mrs. W. Hazen Chapman spent Sunday in Amherst with her sister, Mrs. Bent, returning to Dorchester on Monday.

Mrs. J. F. Teed, who has been for some months in Richmond, Carleton county, returned to Dorchester on Monday, together with her son, Rev. A. W. Teed, rector of Richmond. While away, Mrs. Teed met with a serious accident, and though improving as fast as can be expected, she is still quite lame from the effects of it. Rev. Mr. Teed will remain in Dorchester about a fortnight before returning to his parish.

Mrs. D. L. Hanington, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. M. G. Teed and Mrs. Black, spent Tuesday in Moncton, returning to Dorchester the same evening.

Mr. George M. Fairweather, who has been at his old home in Sussex for three weeks past, recuperating after his recent illness, returned to Dorchester yesterday. Since reaching Sussex he has suffered a serious relapse, which has somewhat interfered with his convalescence, but, notwithstanding, he looks much better than when he went away, and will, no doubt, soon be his old self again. PANSY.

SACKVILLE.

[Progress is for sale in Sackville at C. H. Moore's bookstore.]

Aug. 14.—Dr. Chandler and his daughter, Miss Phoebe Chandler, of Dorchester, were in town on Monday.

Mrs. Belyea, of St. John, is visiting her mother, Mrs. Cahill.

Miss Pelton, of Amherst, paid a short visit, last week, to Mrs. Creelman, of Westcott.

Mr. Fred Johnston, of Halifax, son of the late Dr. Johnston, is visiting Mrs. Botsford, Acadia Grove. The many friends here of his mother, Mrs. Hebert Crosskill, regret very much to hear she remains seriously ill.

Senator Botsford returned home on Saturday. He speaks in the highest terms of the Halifax carnival. Capt. A. B. Atkinson is home for a few days.

Mrs. Parker, of Amherst, passed through Sackville on Tuesday, on her way to Cape Tormentine.

Rev. Cecil F. Wiggins is visiting friends in Prince Edward Island. There was no service in St. Paul's church on Sunday.

Miss Julia Creamer, of Westcott, has started a kindergarten school in Dorchester. I wish Miss Creamer every success.

Mrs. Mason, nurse and child passed through from Cape Tormentine on Monday evening, on their way home, in Truro.

"Senator Botsford has not forgotten how to sit a horse," was the remark of several people at "Crane's Corner," the other evening, as he rode past on a spirited young horse. It was impossible to imagine him 85 years of age.

Mr. and Mrs. Powell returned home from Halifax on Monday.

Mrs. James Dixon's pretty house was the centre of attraction on Monday night, when a number of friends gathered there to witness the novel sight of a night blooming "Cereus."

Mr. James E. Ayer and daughter spent a most enjoyable time at the Halifax carnival.

Mrs. Charles Bowser, formerly of Sackville, but now of Wakefield, Mass., is visiting her sister, Mrs. Burwash.

Mr. Christopher Milner was out driving on Sunday. Judging from his appearance he has entirely recovered from his indisposition. MITTEN.

ST. STEPHEN.

[Progress is for sale in St. Stephen at the bookstores of C. H. Smith & Co. and G. S. Wall.]

Aug. 14.—The most brilliant social event of the season was the party given, last evening, by Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Young, at their beautiful home, Dover Hill. On driving into the grounds we found it ablaze with light from electric burners. All along the road, and the low granite wall that separates the lawn from the highway, were crowds of eager spectators gazing at the beauty of the scene. The grounds surrounding the house slope toward the river's edge, and are dotted with tall elms and ancient pines, in which were hung Chinese lanterns of every color. The piazzas were gay with flags, bunting and lanterns. Flags of all nations were suspended along the path that led to the hall-room, which had the novelty of being out on the lawn. An immense platform, some 60 or 80 feet long, was built in the grove, electric lights were placed at each end, and here the dancers enjoyed themselves to the utmost. It certainly was a beautiful scene. The moon, rising slowly behind a tall old pine, never looked down on a more brilliant throng. The beauty and rich costumes of the ladies, the sweet strains of the waltz music, the gay laughter, and bright flags and lanterns made a picture that no artist could portray. Tees were served during the evening, and at 12 o'clock supper was announced. After supper the guests returned to the ball-room and danced until 1 o'clock, looking out of the east, bade them wish their host and hostess bon nuit instead of bon soir.

Mr. and Mrs. Young received their guests in their usual charming manner. Mrs. Young looking very finely in a handsome dress of white silk, striped with gold. The ladies all looked exceedingly well and richly attired.

Mrs. W. F. Todd: Grey silk, with pale pink trimmings; ornaments, diamonds.

Miss Bolton: Brown satin, with panel of cream satin; diamond ornaments.

Miss Ida Todd: Black lace dress.

Mrs. Hazen Grimmer: Black lace dress with scarlet flowers.

Mrs. Moore: White cashmere, with trimmings of white and black feathers.

Mrs. T. J. Smith: Black lace, over orange satin.

The Misses Hixley: Nile green cashmere, with trimmings of white passementerie.

Miss Brown: Pink chinese silk, trimmed with black velvet.

Miss Abbott: Cream colored dress, with lace trimmings.

Miss Corban (Lima): Garnet satin with panel and vest of Persian embroidery.

Mrs. Lewis Dexter: Nile green silk and dark green plush dress; diamond ornaments.

Mrs. J. E. Todd: White moire dress.

Mrs. J. E. Algar: Black satin dress, with jet ornaments.

Mrs. James Mitchell: Black lace dress with white silk vest; corsage bouquet of white flowers.

Mr. George F. Pinder had a severe experience in a canoe last Saturday night. He started to paddle down the river to Oak Bay, a distance of six or seven miles, to his summer cottage. The fog was so dense he missed his way, and found himself at Oak Bay bridge, a long distance from his landing. After several hairbreadth escapes from weirs and floating logs, he managed to reach his destination about 4 o'clock in the morning, having been in his canoe since early the evening before.
