SACKVILLE.

[Progress is for sale in Sackville at C. H. Moore's bookstore.]

Oct. 29.—The heavy autumn rain, while welcomed by the farmers, is unfavorable for the "goose suppers," which are our only excitement at present. The Sackville bandmen intend having one on November 6. The ladies of the Bethel sewing circle had one on Tuesday, at the town hall, and, considering the dark night, did well, as they had a fancy table.

Colds are very prevalent, as well as slow fever. Mr. Ernest L. Ford is on the list. He is unfortunately confined to his house with a severe cold and cough.

I sympathize deeply with Mrs. Hugh Sutherland in her recent affliction. Her little daughter, Sarah (always delicate), passed away on the 29th inst.

Mr. T. S. Kirkpatrick went to Halifax on Tuesday.

Capt. and Mrs. Moore have returned from their shooting expedition to Havlock.

Mr. George Robinson has returned to his home in Richibucto.

Wife—I believe that more women than men go to heaven.

Husband—You do? What makes you think so?

Wife—Women live better than men.

Husband—I grant it, Mary; but there is one thing that leads me to think there are very few women on the other side.

Wife—What is that?

Husband—It is spoken of as the silent shore.—Boston Courier.
