

SOCIAL AND PERSONAL.

Mrs. Lefargey, of Summerside, who has been spending a short time in town, returned home yesterday.

Mrs. Gerow, of St. John, is in town paying a visit to her father, Mr. J. S. Trites.

Mrs. Thomas Evans returned last week from her visit to Quebec.

Mr. Will Cooke is at home from Kingston Military college for his summer vacation.

Mr. and Mrs. F. A. McCully returned last Saturday from their extended wedding tour, and I fancy Mrs. McCully will receive her guests next week.

Mr. and Mrs. Thompson Taylor also returned last week, so we shall probably have two brides receiving at the same time once more.

The Rev. Mr. Murray, of the St. John river, occupied the pulpit of St. George's church last Sunday, during the absence of the rector, and preached eloquent sermons both morning and evening. Mr. Murray was the guest of Mr. George Taylor, of the I. C. R., during his stay in Moncton.

Mr. J. F. Grant, of the bank of Montreal, left town on Monday night to spend his summer holidays at home, at Grand Narrows, Cape Breton. His numerous friends join in wishing him a pleasant visit and, above all, a safe return.

I believe we are really to lose Mr. Stavert to-night. His successor has been here for some time, and he has been, like a soldier, awaiting marching orders ever since last week. The word has been given at last, and he starts for his new field of usefulness this evening. To say that he will be followed by universal regret, is to express public feeling faintly. There are few people in town who do not feel as if they were losing a personal friend, and Mr. Stavert takes with him our warmest wishes for his future prosperity.

Indeed, this week is taking a good deal from Moncton, as it passes. One of our best known and most popular young bachelors left us, I fear, permanently, last Monday. I refer to Mr. R. B. Jack, late of the engineering department of the I. C. R., who left town on Monday for his home in Fredericton, to be present at the wedding of his sister, Miss Mabel Jack, which took place yesterday morning. Mr. Jack has severed his connection with the I. C. R., having accepted a lucrative appointment under the Newfoundland government, and will not be in Moncton again, except to pass through. He has been here only two years, but during that time he has won many life friends, and a place of his own in the inner circle which will long remain vacant; but deeply as we all regret his departure, we congratulate him on his good fortune in having obtained so much better a field for the exercise of his ability, and we wish him all possible success and happiness in his new sphere of work.

Speaking of engineers reminds me that the ever busy "Dane Rumor" asserts that another engineer, one of Moncton's young widowers, departed this week on a very similar errand, only it was not his sister's wedding that engaged his attention, but one in which he was to take a very prominent part. However, I have not succeeded in finding out any particulars and rumor may have made a mistake.

Mr. Pottinger, chief superintendent of the I. C. R., left town last week for Dalhousie, to be present at the taking of evidence in the famous C. P. R. arbitration case.

Mr. W. E. Stavert spent last Saturday and Sunday at his home in Summerside, P. E. I., bidding a farewell visit to his family before his departure for Jamaica.

Mrs. G. J. O'Doherty, of Moncton, who recently returned from her trip to New York, is spending the summer months at Buctouche. Somehow, this charming little watering place does not seem as popular with Moncton people this summer as it did last. I wonder why?

Mrs. Campbell, wife of Rev. G. M. Campbell, returned last Saturday from her visit to St. John.

Some very distinguished visitors passed through Moncton last Saturday evening, namely: the Hon.

Edward Blake, M. P., President Van Horne, of the C. P. R., Judge Clarke, solicitor of the C. P. R., Mr. Sanford Fleming, Mr. Reed and Mr. Bury. The party were in Moncton for two hours, leaving by the Quebec express for Dalhousie, where they will spend several days. They travelled by the private car "Saskatchewan" and very few knew of their arrival until after they had departed. Their visit was connected with the C. P. R. arbitration case at Dalhousie.

Mrs. J. C. Pope, of Ottawa, and Miss Pope, were registered at the Brunswick on Saturday.

Mr. Foster, warden of the penitentiary, Dorchester, was in town yesterday.

Mrs. J. DeWolfe Spurr, of St. John, is in town visiting her sister, Mrs. C. B. Record.

Hon. D. L. Hanington, of Dorchester, was in town on Saturday.

Mr. F. Houghton, of the Short Line survey, spent Saturday and Sunday in town.

Dr. De Bertram, of the De Bertram railway syndicate, New York, was in town on Saturday.

Mr. Charles Skinner, of St. John, who has been visiting Mr. J. H. Harris, of Moncton, was taken so very seriously ill, last week, that on Monday it was deemed advisable to send for his mother. Mrs. Skinner arrived by the morning train, accompanied by the invalid's twin brother, Mr. Stewart Skinner. Dr. Berryman was telegraphed for and arrived by the evening train. I am happy to say that the latest accounts are favorable, and Mr. Skinner will soon be about again as usual.

Judge Oulton, of Dorchester, was in town on Saturday.

Mr. Vernon Smith, of Ottawa, was registered at the Brunswick on Saturday.

If I were to tell you half of the good words I hear for PROGRESS, you would think I was exaggerating. A short time ago I was in one of our bookstores buying a PROGRESS, when a gentleman who was standing near, said: "Don't you think PROGRESS is improving?" I said I liked it very well as it was, and he answered, "Yes, so do I, but I mean that it seems to be steadily improving; all the time getting better and better, instead of going down, as some newspapers do." Last Monday I tried to get a copy, and was told that there was not one left on Saturday evening, and a great many more could have been sold if they had had them.

DORCHESTER.

[PROGRESS is for sale in Dorchester at George M. Fairweather's store.]

JULY 10.—Mr. Beverly Robinson, of St. John, spent a day or two in Dorchester last week, the guest of Mrs. Chandler.

Mr. A. B. Tait is off on an excursion to the United States by way of a summer vacation. He left for Boston last week, thence to go to Vermont, and then, still further, to Omaha and other places in the far west. He will probably be absent for some weeks.

Mr. M. G. Teed was in Moncton on Friday.

Mr. F. W. Emmerson, barrister, of Petitoediac, was registered at the Dorchester house on Friday last.

Miss Weeks, of Charlottetown, is in Dorchester, making a visit to her friends, the Misses Chapman, at Brookside. She will probably be here for some little time.

Mrs. Capt. Swayne, who has many friends in Dorchester, has returned to live here again, after a long absence in other places.

Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Forster have been absent in Fredericton, attending the recent meeting of the Church of England synod, to which Mr. Forster was a delegate. They returned home this week.

His many old friends were delighted to see once more in Dorchester Mr. S. A. McLeod, accompanied by Mrs. McLeod. Mr. McLeod was principal of the superior school in Dorchester for some years, but left to assume the management of the Sussex grammar school, a position which he still holds. Mr. and Mrs. McLeod did not stay long in Dorchester, but left on Saturday for a visit to Sackville.

Miss Stronach, who has been visiting Mrs. McGrath here, returned to her home in Moncton on Saturday.

Miss Wells, of Point de Bute, is in Dorchester, visiting Mr. and Mrs. Hiram W. Palmer.

Mr. D. L. Hanington returned on Friday from his visit to Fredericton, where he had been in attendance at the synod.

Mrs. Joshua Chandler gave a delightful picnic on Saturday last, to a large number of her friends. The party drove from Dorchester to the old Budeau freestone quarries on the Petitoediac river, leaving Dorchester about 1 o'clock, and reaching the picnic grounds about three. The scenery in that vicinity is very fine, and from 3 o'clock till tea time the picnickers had plenty of entertainment in wandering about geologizing or admiring the beautiful views in the neighborhood. About 6 o'clock those in charge of the commissariat department announced that their labors were ended, and the party sat down to a delicious feast of ice cream and other seasonable delicacies, and remained there till the shades of night warned them that it was time to think of returning to town. They came straggling back all the way from 8 o'clock to midnight, quite enthusiastic about the day's enjoyment.

Dorchester people were glad to see Mr. and Mrs. Welsh, of Brooklyn, N. Y., back in Dorchester on Sunday. They are visiting Mrs. Welsh's sister, Mrs. H. W. Palmer, together with their daughter, Miss Edith Welsh.

Mrs. Edward B. Chandler left Dorchester on Monday for a short visit to St. John.

The Misses Chapman gave a very delightful dance last evening at Brookside in honor of their guest, Miss Weeks. A large number were present, both married and single, and even the miserably cold and wet weather could not mar the enjoyment of the evening, though it effectually prevented the guests taking advantage of the pretty grounds in front of the house; it had also the effect of making everyone feel like dancing throughout the entire evening, and so was far from making the party less of a success than it would otherwise have been. Dancing was kept up with vigor until a late hour, interrupted only by a splendid repast shortly after midnight, and everyone was delighted with what may be considered the opening dance of our "season."

I hear of one or two parties of one kind or another which are waiting for fine weather before being actualized, as well as of various picnics and excursions on the "Arbutus," etc., etc. A steamboat excursion to the "Rocks," in Albert county, is especially well favored by rumor, and no doubt it will "come off" when the weather becomes more suitable. I did hear of a private picnic party who, not to be deterred by the rain, sallied forth down the shore on Friday last, in the middle of a gentle shower, and spent the day there wrapped in gossamers and umbrellas, taking dinner under the shade of a big tree to keep off the rain, which insisted in dropping from the branches down everyone's neck. And yet they had a "lovely time."

Mr. Josiah Wood, M. P., was in Dorchester on Sunday, attending the funeral of Mr. John Palmer.

The prospects are that Dorchester is at last going to have a hotel which will be a credit to the place. Since taking the old Weldon house, Mr. McDonald has worked quite a transformation scene in the place, laying hardwood floors, papering, painting, wainscoting and otherwise improving the appearance of the building, and the end is not yet. With regard to the menu, I cannot think of a stronger recommendation for it than that a certain one of our best known bachelor barristers, who knows a good thing when he sees it, has taken permanent lodgings at the Weldon house, and is loud in his praises of its internal economy.

Mrs. G. W. Chandler left for a visit to St. John, yesterday, accompanied by Miss Constance Chandler. They will probably return on about a week.

Mr. E. J. Smith, of Shediac, was in Dorchester on Friday last.

Mr. Palmer, needless to say, was our oldest citizen, and was highly respected by the people of Dorchester. The funeral procession was a very long one, and the services, conducted by the Rev. J. Roy Campbell, very impressive.

The groom was supported by his brother, Mr. Sayre, of Moncton. The happy couple left in the evening train for their home in Tacoma, Washington State. gypsies, seemed to drive a thriving trade, for nearly every one was anxious to see what old Dame Fortune had in store for them. A few steps on and we met Rebecca at the well, who in the most graceful manner dispenses lemonade. Miss Georgie Simpson presides here, and a more beautiful, picturesque Rebecca, could not be found. A little to the left the ice cream and home made candy tables attract many. The prettiest and most novel part of the entertainment was the flower show. Prizes were offered for different kinds of bouquets, plants, and finest arrangement of flowers. The collection of wild flowers were particularly good. A dish of panies arranged in the form of a cart-wheel, were exquisite; also a basket of nasturtiums and roses. The band played several selections very finely, and added greatly to the enjoyment of the evening.
