What SCHOFIELD & CO. say: We have much pleasure in stating that the Caligraph purchased from you has been in constant use in our office for several years, and is still in good order. We consider it invaluable as a time-saver.

REV. C. G. McCULLY writes: A point of special value in the Caligraph, resulting from the absence of shifting keys, is the readiness with which original composition may be executed. From my experience, and that of many personal friends using the Caligraph, composition soon comes to be executed with greater readiness than with the pen. So great do I deem its utility that I would purchase a machine every year Send for Latest Circular.

SOCIAL AND PERSONAL.

EVENTS OF THE WEEK IN NEW BRUNSWICK AND NOVA SCOTIA.

And the Happenings in Social Circles of Fredericton, Moncton, Woodstock, Dorchester, St. Stephen, Sussex, Amherst,

The anticipated arrival of the Duke and Duchess of Connaught, yesterday, gives an added interest to the portrait of the duchess, given herewith, and that of the duke, which adorns the first page.

"Emphatically a successs" was the verdict universally expressed by the immense gathering of people who both witnessed the nuptials of Miss Edith Burpee and Mr. George K. McLeod on Wednesday evening last, and also attended the At Home held by Mrs. Isaac Burpee at Bellevue, Mount Pleasant, after the ceremony. Scarcely, if ever, has such a brilliant society event taken place in St. John, or one that has caused such deep interest. Tickets of admission to the ceremony at St. Stephen's church were issued to upwards of 600 people, and those who were not fortunate enough to receive them thronged the entrance or lined the sidewalk trying to catch a glimpse of the bride.

The bride, who entered the church, leaning on charming in a gown of rich white satin, with trimmings of crepe and ostrich feathers.

She was attended by five bridesmaids: Miss Nan Burpee, Miss Belle Nicholson, Miss Louise Burpee, and the Misses Drury. The first three named wore elegant costumes of pale green mervielleux and crepe, while the others wore similar costumes of white. The bouquets of both bride and brides maids were magnificent, all being of white flowers assisted by Rev Dr. Macrae, the responses of both bride and groom being clearly heard throughout the

The groom was supported by his brother, Mr. W. K. McLeod, while Mr. R. R. Ritchie and Mr. affair. Arthur Adams acted as ushers.

As the wedding party left the church No. 3 North End battery, of which the groom was captain, fired a salute of fourteen guns from the height opposite the church. After congratulations had been received and the bridal costumes had been exchanged for travelling ones, Mr. and Mrs. McLeod, accompanied by bridesmaids, groomsman, and ushers drove to the Western train, by which they left for New York on their bridal tour amid showers of rice and the thunder of torpedoes.

The bride's travelling dress was a tailor made costume of brown and grey check with toque to match. The scene at the residence, Mount Pleasant, was a gay one. The rich dresses of the ladies present, the tasteful decoration of the rooms with choice flowers, and the array of gorgeous wedding gifts, tended to make the affair one of the handsomest ever seen in St John. It would be useless to try to describe the many handsome toilettes worn, but I noticed very many new ones, and though handsome were made in the prevailing plain style. Mrs. Burpee received her guests in a gown of black velvet and jet, flowers of white mauve. Mrs. Carruthers, wore heliotrope brocade, trimmed with crepe, and diamond ornaments. Mrs. McLeod's dress was black velvet, with cream front, Ler flowers were Marechal Neil roses. The band of the Artillery furnished music for a long programme of dances, which was so much enjoyed by those paesent that they seemed to ill spare the time to partake of the sumptuous supper provided for them. The Misses Keith, silver pitcher and goblest. Mr. Charles Harrison, china dinner set. Sir Leonard Tilley, a picture. Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Weldon, clock. Miss Jones, picture.

These, together with numbers of other gifts, both from friends in St. John, Halifax and Kingston, made a collection well worth having. The groom's gift to the bride was a handsome diamond star, and to each of the bridesmaids he presented a white ostrich feather fan.

Quite a large congregation gathered at the Mis sion chapel on Wednesday afternoon to witness the marriage of Miss Phoebe Chandler and Mr. Wm R. Racey, manager of the Merchant's bank of Halifax

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. J. M. Davenport, and was most impressive. Mr. Morley presided at the organ and the choir sang, as

The voice that breathed o'er Eden, That earliest wedding day, While the hymn sung during the service was, played. The bride whose charming manners won for her hosts of triends during her short stay in St. John, looked unusually well in a plain tailor made dress of black and white check, with satin hat. She was given away by her brother, Mr. Stanley Chandler, of Dorchester, and was not attended by bridesmaids. Immediately after the ceremony the bride and groom left by the C. P. R. for their bridal tour through upper Canada, where Mr. Racey's friends reside, after which they will settle in Woodstock, N. B. The many friends of Mr. Germaine, of the Bank of Montreal, Ottawa, are pleased to see him in St. John again, where he has come to spend his holidays. Mr. and Mrs. Frank Daniel, Campbellton, are i Miss Gertie Schofield went to Kentville on Thurs

How welcome was the call And sweet the festal day.
