MONCTON.

[PROGRESS is for sale in Moncton at the bookstores of W. W. Black and W. H. Murray, Main

JUNE 11.—The burning question of the day in our town—only it refuses to burn—seems to be "Are we going to have any summer this year?" and each morning the trembling citizen plants his bare and shrinking toes on the cold unfeeling floor, and creeps shivering to the window to see if the sun is any where in view. It really is a very dreary outlook for those unfortunate folks who have given up their town houses and made arrangements for spending the summer at the seaside. Nevertheless Mrs. David Dickson and her children have been settled in the summer at the seaside. Nevertheless Mrs. David Dickson and her children have been settled in Shediac for some weeks, and on Monday Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Hanington also braved the elements and moved their household goods to that popular watering place, there to take up their residence for the summer. Moncton people are very much inclined to wish selfishly, that Mr. and Mrs. Hanington did not possess that charming summer retreat of theirs at Shediac Cape, for then perhaps they might stay with us a little longer, or else come back a little sooner.

Just now the excitement of the hour is the pro spective military camp. A great many visitors are expected, and I think we are all looking forward to expective military camp. A great many visitors are expected, and I think we are all looking forward to a sort of summer carnival, beside which the Carnival of Venice and ancient Rome during the military games will sink into insignificance. I have even heard whispers about a ball, but as yet they are only whispers, not facts. However it is a very positive fact, that Lieut. Colonel Maunsell, D. A. G., paid a visit to our town last Thursday, and selected the site for the camp. It is situated in Lewisville, on the Jurratt and Legere farms, which adjoin each other, thus forming a larger area of land than could be readily found elsewhere.

Isn't it delightful? Just think of it, girls! Only it is such a pity that the camp will be two and a halt miles out of town; such a long walk, and you know you are not fond of walking, any of you. Well, take my advice, and if you want to see the very most you can for your long walk, get up a little earlier than usual, take two or three other girls and your brother—one of their brothers will do as well—and go over to camp in time to see the guard mounting. That, in my humble judgment at least, is better worth a long walk than anything else in military tactics, though, of course, the afternoon parade is not to be despised. But I will tell you more about it by-andlespised. But I will tell you more about it by-and

JUNE 11 .- I scarcely know how to describe the weddings that have occurred since yesterday. A matrimonial wave seems to have floated over Saint Stephen. It is rarely we have three weddings at

Last evening a very pleasant wedding party gathered at the residence of Mr. W. H. Edwards, to witness the marriage of his neice, Miss Georgia McWha, to Mr. Harold Moran. The bride, who is a pretty brunette, looked charming in a lovely gown of pale pink fish net. She was attended by Miss Pollie Cox, who wore a cream colored cashmere dress, with trimmings of satin. The groom looked marvelously happy, and was supported by his cousin, Mr. Herbert C. Grant. The ceremony was performed at nine o'clock, by Rev. Godfrey Shore. The bride received numerous wedding gifts from her friends, among whom, she is an acknowleged favorite. Mr. and Mrs. Moran left this morning on ne Shore Line Railway, for St. John, their future

At seven o'clock this morning, in the Methodist church, Miss Grace Veasey, one of our fairest aid most popular young ladies, was married to Dr. Edmund Brown of Calais. Miss Veasey was prettily attired in a handsome travelling costume of dark green, with hat to match. Her sister, Miss Abbie Veasey was bridesmaid. Dr. Brown looked his best, and had at his left hand, his friend, Mr. Stephen Webber of Calais. The presents were exceedingly handsome. Rev. E. W. Weddall performed the ceremony. Dr. and Mrs. Brown left on the Flying Yankee for Boston to spend the honey-moon. On their return Mrs. Brown will receive her friends at the American House, Calais.

At the same hour this morning, a very happy wedding party assembled in the parlor of Mrs. Robert Clarke, it being the occasion of her daughter's marriage, Miss Annie Clarke, to Mr. John Mowatt, of the Bank of Nova Scotia. The Rev. Godfrey Shore performed the ceremony. After the dejeuner and the constant of their constants and good wishes of their and the congratulations, and good wishes of their friends, the happy pair left on the train for their home in Amherst, Nova Scotia.

Calais, as well as St. Stephen, has its share of wedding festivities. On Wednesday evening last, Miss Lillian Mae Burns was married to Mr. Freder ick Leslie Butler at her mother's residence, on Germain street, Calais. The bride, who is a goldenhaired beauty, looked lovely in a pretty gown of pale blue silk. She is a great favorite in Calais and was showered with handsome and costly gifts from her friends. The Rev. Mr. Anderson performed the marriage ceremony. The house was beautifully decorated with flowers, the bridal party standing on a mat made entirely of apple blossoms. After sup per the bride changed her wedding dress for a hand-some travelling costume, and amid the good wishes of the guests, the happy couple left in the evening train for a wedding tour to Boston.

The ladies of Trinity church prepared a supper on Monday evening for the entertainment of the visit-Monday evening for the entertainment of the visiting Masons from St. John. I hear it was a great success, and quite surpassed the supper held on the 20th of May. Trinity ladies are most excellent cooks, and deserve every praise.
