The Meaning Attached to Visions of This, That and the Other-Things Said to be Bad State of Digestion.

To dream that you bathe in clear water is a sign that you will enjoy good health; if muddy, the death of relatives or friends. To see a bath, anger; to take a warm bath denotes happiness; if you take one either too hot or too cold, domestic troubles. If you undress without going into the water you may expect trouble, but it will soon pass away; a sea bath is a sign of honor and increase of fortune.

To dream of garters signifies weakness, no matter what kind they are or how seen. Laughter is a sign of tears.

To see, in your dream, one or more houses burning, but not wholly destroyed, signifies, for the poor, that they will become rich; and for the rich man, that his riches will be augmented; but if the fire is furious, and the houses tall down, the dreamer may expect losses, disappointment, shame and death. If he sees his bed burning, sickness; to see furniture and clothing, or curtains burning, is significant of trouble. A store seen burning, loss of business; to see the front windows of a house burning, shows the death of a brother; the rear windows, the death of a sister; a burning door, trouble for a housekeeper. To see a man burning in bed, foretells loss of goods and sickness; to see one's finger burnt, shows that some one is envious of you. To dream that you are burning to death, shows that you will soon be engaged in a furious quarrel.

If any one should be so unfortunate as to dream that he or she was present at a happy and jolly wedding, it denotes that they will attend a funeral; it will not some friend or relative. To go to weddings when one is wide awake is exceedingly pleasant, but we should be careful how we dream about them. To dream of being married yourself foretells your death.

For a girl to dream of raking newly mown hay is a sign she will be married before the hay is eaten. Young fellows who dream of raking hay with their sweethearts had better get ready their necks for the matrimonial noose, as they are past pray-

GETTING PHYSICAL GRACE.

The Remarkable Conduct of Some of the Girls in Washington Explained. If you watched the dress parade on Connecticut or Massachussetts avenue any of these afternoons, says a Washington letter Warnings which are Probably Due to a to the Boston Transcript, you would very likely notice that the swell girls have adopted a fresh style of walking-their chests thrown out as far as possible, without any throwing back of the shoulders, however, and a certain indescribable spring in their gait. Upon inquiring as to the meaning of this, you would be informed that it represents only a small part of the new system of physical grace introduced from abroad by a lady who is now giving lessons on the subject to the daughters and wives of the richest and most distinguished personages in Washington. A class of young women meets at Wanamaker's twice a week, to learn how to walk, to go up down stairs, to stand, to bow, to smile, to make eyes, and to dispose of the hands. It need excite no surprise now to see three or four pretty girls in the dressing room, upon their arrival at a party, wringing their hands frantically, as if in violent grief. All that it signifies is that they are making these members unconscious, so that they will be at ease in company. This is a portion of the new method. If you don't know what to do with your hands, you have only to let them hang at your sides, and wring them vigorously for about five minutes before making your appearance in the drawing room; at the end of that time they will be deprived of consciousness to such an extent that you will have no trouble with them for an hour or so, any way. Do this once or more every day and and you will find yourself become much more easy about your paws, through the habit of the thing. The effect is said to be really wonderful; for, you see, it is simply that the hands are so highly educated in this mechanical age that they may almost be said to have brains of their own. It is difficult not to be conscious of them, therefore, and that implies awkwardness. But woman's chosen weapon is the eye, and an important feature of this new system from abroad is education in the use of that lovely organ. Within a certain range the female of our species has an instinctive perception of the manner in which her optical apparatus should be employed upon her complementary creature in pantaloons; but science has reduced the subject to exact terms. Charts have been prepared-Washington girls are studying them-showing that the eye has 729 distinctive expressions, conveying as many different shades of meaning. The proper thing to do is to procure one of these charts, and reproduce with necessarily be at the burial of either of the your own eyes the 729 expressions before persons you dreamed you saw married, but you will undoubtedly be called to mourn the amirror. When you have mastered them all, try them on other people and see how they work. It is popularly imagined that the eyeball itself is an expressive thing, but, as a matter of fact, the ball of the eye has scarce any expression at all. That all depends upon the lids and brows. The upper lid does the intellectual; its position is regulated by the sort of thinking you are doing. The lower lid expresses, by its drawing up or otherwise, the senses. The eyebrows are emotional, and so on. All this, however, is only the beginning. Certain it would appear that young ladies of the future, trained to make eyes on exact principles, will be much more seductive creatures than hitherto. But you must not be surprised if you find a Washington girl winking at you; it is ten to one that she is practising the novel science of ocular

The Liver

When out of order, involves every organ of the body. Remedies for some other derangement are frequently taken without the least effect, because it is the liver which is the real source of the trouble, and until that is set right there can be no health, strength, or comfort in any part of the system.
